

1954

There'll Be Two Together

Jane Brintlinger
Iowa State College

Follow this and additional works at: <http://lib.dr.iastate.edu/homemaker>

Part of the Home Economics Commons

Recommended Citation

Brintlinger, Jane (1954) "There'll Be Two Together," The Iowa Homemaker: Vol. 34 : No. 2 , Article 3.
Available at: <http://lib.dr.iastate.edu/homemaker/vol34/iss2/3>

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by the Student Publications at Iowa State University Digital Repository. It has been accepted for inclusion in The Iowa Homemaker by an authorized editor of Iowa State University Digital Repository. For more information, please contact digirep@iastate.edu.

There'll be two together

TWO TOGETHER from this day forward. Those beautiful wedding vows that you had heard pronounced so often to other couples . . . that you and your roommate had dreamed about . . . now have been repeated by you and your husband. Your life as Mr. and Mrs. has begun.

Two together means two to plan and two to make plans come true. You and your husband — a sharing team. Instead of “going half the way,” if you each give 75 percent, you’ll come up with 150 percent happiness.

Two together is two alone as your marriage begins. And later your children will give you several to give to, to live for. Your sharing team has grown — and has offered you a real challenge: to raise honest and sincere children who come from a loving home.

Two together in our world can be a good and powerful force. Your community wants you — and needs you in many ways. Then community citizenship broadens to world citizenship. The leaders tell you the future lies in your hands. What will you give?

Two together in happiness. Most of all, we wish you joy and contentment throughout the long and beautiful years ahead of you. This to the days when you and your husband can look over the years and know they were good.

Jane Brintlinger