By Nik Heftman

Alpha Phi Alpha chapter hosts first pageant in a decade

"Miss Black and Gold" returns

\[Image\]

Justin Brown, a sophomore in criminal justice, was a student at Iowa State University when he enlisted in the U.S. Army. The death of his comrade on the third day of his deployment to Afghanistan, alongside his best friend, Sam Oden, three months after returning home from serving in Hawaii, shaped him for the better — the night he first thought about skating on a fresh sheet of ice.

"I'm just a little boy growing up," Justin's father, Tracy Brown, said. "To Sam's death, it's a constant struggle," he added. "I think some of those [emotions] boiled up inside, and he was dealing with it, and then he died."

It's the feeling of skating on a fresh sheet of ice.

"It's the red, white and blue." It's the national anthem of the United States of America.

A comrade. Justin Brown lives for his friends, family, and country, and his love for them is what keeps him moving forward. He's been through some tough times, but he's always been able to find a way to come back stronger.

"I think some of those [emotions] boiled up inside, and he was dealing with it, and then he died." It's the feeling of skating on a fresh sheet of ice.

18 years ago, Justin Brown joined the Army, specifically serving as a SAW gunner in Afghanistan for a nine-month stint. The unexpected death of his comrade on the third day of his deployment to Afghanistan, alongside his best friend, Sam Oden, three months after returning home from serving in Hawaii, shaped him for the better — the night he first thought about skating on a fresh sheet of ice.

"I'm just a little boy growing up." To Sam's death, it's a constant struggle, he added. "I think some of those [emotions] boiled up inside, and he was dealing with it, and then he died." It's the feeling of skating on a fresh sheet of ice.

"I'm just a little boy growing up," Justin's father, Tracy Brown, said. "To Sam's death, it's a constant struggle," he added. "I think some of those [emotions] boiled up inside, and he was dealing with it, and then he died." It's the feeling of skating on a fresh sheet of ice.

"I'm just a little boy growing up," Justin's father, Tracy Brown, said. "To Sam's death, it's a constant struggle," he added. "I think some of those [emotions] boiled up inside, and he was dealing with it, and then he died." It's the feeling of skating on a fresh sheet of ice.

18 years ago, Justin Brown joined the Army, specifically serving as a SAW gunner in Afghanistan for a nine-month stint. The unexpected death of his comrade on the third day of his deployment to Afghanistan, alongside his best friend, Sam Oden, three months after returning home from serving in Hawaii, shaped him for the better — the night he first thought about skating on a fresh sheet of ice.

"I'm just a little boy growing up," Justin's father, Tracy Brown, said. "To Sam's death, it's a constant struggle," he added. "I think some of those [emotions] boiled up inside, and he was dealing with it, and then he died." It's the feeling of skating on a fresh sheet of ice.

"I'm just a little boy growing up," Justin's father, Tracy Brown, said. "To Sam's death, it's a constant struggle," he added. "I think some of those [emotions] boiled up inside, and he was dealing with it, and then he died." It's the feeling of skating on a fresh sheet of ice.

"I think some of those [emotions] boiled up inside, and he was dealing with it, and then he died." It's the feeling of skating on a fresh sheet of ice.

"I think some of those [emotions] boiled up inside, and he was dealing with it, and then he died." It's the feeling of skating on a fresh sheet of ice.

"I think some of those [emotions] boiled up inside, and he was dealing with it, and then he died." It's the feeling of skating on a fresh sheet of ice.

"I think some of those [emotions] boiled up inside, and he was dealing with it, and then he died." It's the feeling of skating on a fresh sheet of ice.

"I think some of those [emotions] boiled up inside, and he was dealing with it, and then he died." It's the feeling of skating on a fresh sheet of ice.

"I think some of those [emotions] boiled up inside, and he was dealing with it, and then he died." It's the feeling of skating on a fresh sheet of ice.

"I think some of those [emotions] boiled up inside, and he was dealing with it, and then he died." It's the feeling of skating on a fresh sheet of ice.

"I think some of those [emotions] boiled up inside, and he was dealing with it, and then he died." It's the feeling of skating on a fresh sheet of ice.

"I think some of those [emotions] boiled up inside, and he was dealing with it, and then he died." It's the feeling of skating on a fresh sheet of ice.

"I think some of those [emotions] boiled up inside, and he was dealing with it, and then he died." It's the feeling of skating on a fresh sheet of ice.

"I think some of those [emotions] boiled up inside, and he was dealing with it, and then he died." It's the feeling of skating on a fresh sheet of ice.

"I think some of those [emotions] boiled up inside, and he was dealing with it, and then he died." It's the feeling of skating on a fresh sheet of ice.

"I think some of those [emotions] boiled up inside, and he was dealing with it, and then he died." It's the feeling of skating on a fresh sheet of ice.

"I think some of those [emotions] boiled up inside, and he was dealing with it, and then he died." It's the feeling of skating on a fresh sheet of ice.

"I think some of those [emotions] boiled up inside, and he was dealing with it, and then he died." It's the feeling of skating on a fresh sheet of ice.

"I think some of those [emotions] boiled up inside, and he was dealing with it, and then he died." It's the feeling of skating on a fresh sheet of ice.

"I think some of those [emotions] boiled up inside, and he was dealing with it, and then he died." It's the feeling of skating on a fresh sheet of ice.

"I think some of those [emotions] boiled up inside, and he was dealing with it, and then he died." It's the feeling of skating on a fresh sheet of ice.

"I think some of those [emotions] boiled up inside, and he was dealing with it, and then he died." It's the feeling of skating on a fresh sheet of ice.

"I think some of those [emotions] boiled up inside, and he was dealing with it, and then he died." It's the feeling of skating on a fresh sheet of ice.

"I think some of those [emotions] boiled up inside, and he was dealing with it, and then he died." It's the feeling of skating on a fresh sheet of ice.

"I think some of those [emotions] boiled up inside, and he was dealing with it, and then he died." It's the feeling of skating on a fresh sheet of ice.

"I think some of those [emotions] boiled up inside, and he was dealing with it, and then he died." It's the feeling of skating on a fresh sheet of ice.

"I think some of those [emotions] boiled up inside, and he was dealing with it, and then he died." It's the feeling of skating on a fresh sheet of ice.

"I think some of those [emotions] boiled up inside, and he was dealing with it, and then he died." It's the feeling of skating on a fresh sheet of ice.

"I think some of those [emotions] boiled up inside, and he was dealing with it, and then he died." It's the feeling of skating on a fresh sheet of ice.

"I think some of those [emotions] boiled up inside, and he was dealing with it, and then he died." It's the feeling of skating on a fresh sheet of ice.

"I think some of those [emotions] boiled up inside, and he was dealing with it, and then he died." It's the feeling of skating on a fresh sheet of ice.

"I think some of those [emotions] boiled up inside, and he was dealing with it, and then he died." It's the feeling of skating on a fresh sheet of ice.

"I think some of those [emotions] boiled up inside, and he was dealing with it, and then he died." It's the feeling of skating on a fresh sheet of ice.

"I think some of those [emotions] boiled up inside, and he was dealing with it, and then he died." It's the feeling of skating on a fresh sheet of ice.

"I think some of those [emotions] boiled up inside, and he was dealing with it, and then he died." It's the feeling of skating on a fresh sheet of ice.

"I think some of those [emotions] boiled up inside, and he was dealing with it, and then he died." It's the feeling of skating on a fresh sheet of ice.

"I think some of those [emotions] boiled up inside, and he was dealing with it, and then he died." It's the feeling of skating on a fresh sheet of ice.

"I think some of those [emotions] boiled up inside, and he was dealing with it, and then he died." It's the feeling of skating on a fresh sheet of ice.

"I think some of those [emotions] boiled up inside, and he was dealing with it, and then he died." It's the feeling of skating on a fresh sheet of ice.

"I think some of those [emotions] boiled up inside, and he was dealing with it, and then he died." It's the feeling of skating on a fresh sheet of ice.

"I think some of those [emotions] boiled up inside, and he was dealing with it, and then he died." It's the feeling of skating on a fresh sheet of ice.

"I think some of those [emotions] boiled up inside, and he was dealing with it, and then he died." It's the feeling of skating on a fresh sheet of ice.

"I think some of those [emotions] boiled up inside, and he was dealing with it, and then he died." It's the feeling of skating on a fresh sheet of ice.

"I think some of those [emotions] boiled up inside, and he was dealing with it, and then he died." It's the feeling of skating on a fresh sheet of ice.

"I think some of those [emotions] boiled up inside, and he was dealing with it, and then he died." It's the feeling of skating on a fresh sheet of ice.

"I think some of those [emotions] boiled up inside, and he was dealing with it, and then he died." It's the feeling of skating on a fresh sheet of ice.

"I think some of those [emotions] boiled up inside, and he was dealing with it, and then he died." It's the feeling of skating on a fresh sheet of ice.

"I think some of those [emotions] boiled up inside, and he was dealing with it, and then he died." It's the feeling of skating on a fresh sheet of ice.

"I think some of those [emotions] boiled up inside, and he was dealing with it, and then he died." It's the feeling of skating on a fresh sheet of ice.

"I think some of those [emotions] boiled up inside, and he was dealing with it, and then he died." It's the feeling of skating on a fresh sheet of ice.

"I think some of those [emotions] boiled up inside, and he was dealing with it, and then he died." It's the feeling of skating on a fresh sheet of ice.

"I think some of those [emotions] boiled up inside, and he was dealing with it, and then he died." It's the feeling of skating on a fresh sheet of ice.

"I think some of those [emotions] boiled up inside, and he was dealing with it, and then he died." It's the feeling of skating on a fresh sheet of ice.

"I think some of those [emotions] boiled up inside, and he was dealing with it, and then he died." It's the feeling of skating on a fresh sheet of ice.
WEATHER

POLICE BLOTTER

SNAPSHOT

CALENDAR

February 6

Hibernation Yoga: Stories with Dr. Hืน
11:30 a.m. to 12 noon in 1017 Morris Hall

Open forum: Office of International Students and Scholars director finalists
11:30 a.m. to 12 noon in Scheman Building

Wheel Pottery Class:
11 a.m. to 12 p.m. at Soults

Sponsorship: Women’s Basketball Photos
12 p.m. to 12:30 p.m. at the Sun Room, Memorial Union

29 student artists featured in exhibition
The art-led exhibition opens in the Memorial Union on Feb. 6. The exhibit will run 20 days by Iowa State student artists.

Nobel Laureate to speak on technological entrepreneurship
A Nobel laureate will speak on technological entrepreneurship on Monday, February 6, 2017 - 5:30 pm

Open forums begin
The first of these open forums for the directors of International Students and Scholars Office will feature Sara Thomson on Monday. Thomson is the director of international student and scholar services at Iowa State University. The open forum will take place from 11 a.m. to 12 noon at the Student Success Center in the Memorial Union. The second open forum for the director of Student Wellness will take place Tuesday and Wednesday at the same time and location as the first. The other candidates are Rupa Ranwé, director of International Student and Scholar Services at Dayton University, and Kristopher Johnson, director of international student and scholar services at the University of Wisconsin Madison.

SNAPSHOT

29 student artists featured in exhibition
The art-led exhibition opened in the Memorial Union on Feb. 6. The exhibit will run for 20 days by Iowa State student artists.

Nobel Laureate to speak on technological entrepreneurship
A Nobel laureate will speak on technological entrepreneurship on Monday, February 6, 2017 - 5:30 pm

Open forums begin
The first of these open forums for the directors of International Students and Scholars Office will feature Sara Thomson on Monday. Thomson is the director of international student and scholar services at Iowa State University. The open forum will take place from 11 a.m. to 12 noon at the Student Success Center in the Memorial Union. The second open forum for the director of Student Wellness will take place Tuesday and Wednesday at the same time and location as the first. The other candidates are Rupa Ranwé, director of International Student and Scholar Services at Dayton University, and Kristopher Johnson, director of international student and scholar services at the University of Wisconsin Madison.

DIGITAL CONTENT

WEATHER

POLICE BLOTTER

SNAPSHOT

CALENDAR

February 6

Hibernation Yoga: Stories with Dr. Hืน
11:30 a.m. to 12 noon in 1017 Morris Hall

Open forum: Office of International Students and Scholars director finalists
11:30 a.m. to 12 noon in Scheman Building

Wheel Pottery Class:
11 a.m. to 12 p.m. at Soults

Sponsorship: Women’s Basketball Photos
12 p.m. to 12:30 p.m. at the Sun Room, Memorial Union

29 student artists featured in exhibition
The art-led exhibition opens in the Memorial Union on Feb. 6. The exhibit will run 20 days by Iowa State student artists.

Nobel Laureate to speak on technological entrepreneurship
A Nobel laureate will speak on technological entrepreneurship on Monday, February 6, 2017 - 5:30 pm

Open forums begin
The first of these open forums for the directors of International Students and Scholars Office will feature Sara Thomson on Monday. Thomson is the director of international student and scholar services at Iowa State University. The open forum will take place from 11 a.m. to 12 noon at the Student Success Center in the Memorial Union. The second open forum for the director of Student Wellness will take place Tuesday and Wednesday at the same time and location as the first. The other candidates are Rupa Ranwé, director of International Student and Scholar Services at Dayton University, and Kristopher Johnson, director of international student and scholar services at the University of Wisconsin Madison.

SNAPSHOT

29 student artists featured in exhibition
The art-led exhibition opened in the Memorial Union on Feb. 6. The exhibit will run for 20 days by Iowa State student artists.

Nobel Laureate to speak on technological entrepreneurship
A Nobel laureate will speak on technological entrepreneurship on Monday, February 6, 2017 - 5:30 pm

Open forums begin
The first of these open forums for the directors of International Students and Scholars Office will feature Sara Thomson on Monday. Thomson is the director of international student and scholar services at Iowa State University. The open forum will take place from 11 a.m. to 12 noon at the Student Success Center in the Memorial Union. The second open forum for the director of Student Wellness will take place Tuesday and Wednesday at the same time and location as the first. The other candidates are Rupa Ranwé, director of International Student and Scholar Services at Dayton University, and Kristopher Johnson, director of international student and scholar services at the University of Wisconsin Madison.

DIGITAL CONTENT

WEATHER

POLICE BLOTTER

SNAPSHOT

CALENDAR

February 6

Hibernation Yoga: Stories with Dr. Hืน
11:30 a.m. to 12 noon in 1017 Morris Hall

Open forum: Office of International Students and Scholars director finalists
11:30 a.m. to 12 noon in Scheman Building

Wheel Pottery Class:
11 a.m. to 12 p.m. at Soults

Sponsorship: Women’s Basketball Photos
12 p.m. to 12:30 p.m. at the Sun Room, Memorial Union

29 student artists featured in exhibition
The art-led exhibition opens in the Memorial Union on Feb. 6. The exhibit will run 20 days by Iowa State student artists.

Nobel Laureate to speak on technological entrepreneurship
A Nobel laureate will speak on technological entrepreneurship on Monday, February 6, 2017 - 5:30 pm

Open forums begin
The first of these open forums for the directors of International Students and Scholars Office will feature Sara Thomson on Monday. Thomson is the director of international student and scholar services at Iowa State University. The open forum will take place from 11 a.m. to 12 noon at the Student Success Center in the Memorial Union. The second open forum for the director of Student Wellness will take place Tuesday and Wednesday at the same time and location as the first. The other candidates are Rupa Ranwé, director of International Student and Scholar Services at Dayton University, and Kristopher Johnson, director of international student and scholar services at the University of Wisconsin Madison.

SNAPSHOT

29 student artists featured in exhibition
The art-led exhibition opened in the Memorial Union on Feb. 6. The exhibit will run for 20 days by Iowa State student artists.

Nobel Laureate to speak on technological entrepreneurship
A Nobel laureate will speak on technological entrepreneurship on Monday, February 6, 2017 - 5:30 pm

Open forums begin
The first of these open forums for the directors of International Students and Scholars Office will feature Sara Thomson on Monday. Thomson is the director of international student and scholar services at Iowa State University. The open forum will take place from 11 a.m. to 12 noon at the Student Success Center in the Memorial Union. The second open forum for the director of Student Wellness will take place Tuesday and Wednesday at the same time and location as the first. The other candidates are Rupa Ranwé, director of International Student and Scholar Services at Dayton University, and Kristopher Johnson, director of international student and scholar services at the University of Wisconsin Madison.

DIGITAL CONTENT

WEATHER

POLICE BLOTTER

SNAPSHOT

CALENDAR

February 6

Hibernation Yoga: Stories with Dr. Hืน
11:30 a.m. to 12 noon in 1017 Morris Hall

Open forum: Office of International Students and Scholars director finalists
11:30 a.m. to 12 noon in Scheman Building

Wheel Pottery Class:
11 a.m. to 12 p.m. at Soults

Sponsorship: Women’s Basketball Photos
12 p.m. to 12:30 p.m. at the Sun Room, Memorial Union

29 student artists featured in exhibition
The art-led exhibition opens in the Memorial Union on Feb. 6. The exhibit will run 20 days by Iowa State student artists.

Nobel Laureate to speak on technological entrepreneurship
A Nobel laureate will speak on technological entrepreneurship on Monday, February 6, 2017 - 5:30 pm

Open forums begin
The first of these open forums for the directors of International Students and Scholars Office will feature Sara Thomson on Monday. Thomson is the director of international student and scholar services at Iowa State University. The open forum will take place from 11 a.m. to 12 noon at the Student Success Center in the Memorial Union. The second open forum for the director of Student Wellness will take place Tuesday and Wednesday at the same time and location as the first. The other candidates are Rupa Ranwé, director of International Student and Scholar Services at Dayton University, and Kristopher Johnson, director of international student and scholar services at the University of Wisconsin Madison.
A café where conversation is greater than coffee

By Megan. Salo @Iowastatedaily.com

Artwork, photos and glass works that sit on the walls of the small but cozy "The Vinyl Cafe" at 305 Kellogg Ave. own the original title of "Singer Station" in order to reflect the shop's title of "Singer Station" in order to reflect the shop's (Natalie Long)

When asked about why he moved to own a coffee shop, Delaney's answer was simple and casual. "As a kid, I always used to love being in love with the records, and the more I got in here, the more I learned." Now that he is five, he is able to enjoy both the ups and downs of being a small business owner. As an owner, Delaney explained that the biggest difference in comparison to other jobs is a "turnover of customers." He said, "The coffee shop is..." That's where the conversation happens. "There's no end point," he said. "People are con- structing, you have on as a project. This is just a 24/7, there's a..."

He explained that another difficult aspect of opening a small business is accepting the fact that he can't do everything himself. "In order to do business, it's hard to find people that fit exactly what you want in shops like this, Delaney said. But he seemed to have found the best man for the job: Meredith Kestel, known in journalism and mass communication. "They just get it," he said. "It's hard to find people that fit exactly what you want in shops like this, Delaney said. But he seemed to have found the best man for the job: Meredith Kestel, known in journalism and mass communication. "They just get it," he said. "It's hard to find people that fit exactly what you want in shops like this, Delaney said. But he seemed to have found the best man for the job: Meredith Kestel, known in journalism and mass communication. "They just get it," he said. "It's hard to find people that fit exactly what you want in shops like this, Delaney said. But he seemed to have found the best man for the job: Meredith Kestel, known in journalism and mass communication. "They just get it," he said. "It's hard to find people that fit exactly what you want in shops like this, Delaney said. But he seemed to have found the best man for the job: Meredith Kestel, known in journalism and mass communication. "They just get it," he said. "It's hard to find people that fit exactly what you want in shops like this, Delaney said. But he seemed to have found the best man for the job: Meredith Kestel, known in journalism and mass communication. "They just get it," he said. "It's hard to find people that fit exactly what you want in shops like this, Delaney said. But he seemed to have found the best man for the job: Meredith Kestel, known in journalism and mass communication. "They just get it," he said. "It's hard to find people that fit exactly what you want in shops like this, Delaney said. But he seemed to have found the best man for the job: Meredith Kestel, known in journalism and mass communication. "They just get it," he said. "It's hard to find people that fit exactly what you want in shops like this, Delaney said. But he seemed to have found the best man for the job: Meredith Kestel, known in journalism and mass communication. "They just get it," he said.
Justin Brown served as a SAW gunner in Afghanistan and spent two and a half years in a sniper section. “There’s misconceptions about the art we sell, and what it’s used for, but I don’t have that problem in town as long as you follow a set of rules,” Brown said.

Long understands that misconceptions about his business still remain. “It doesn’t hurt to have a little bit of outreach with the public,” he said. “It’s not the same thing as hard-core drug use, but there has been a shift in the perception of the business.”

“I am, I either owe it to them as a player and the person that put me here, or I owe it to myself even if I’m not,” said Brown. “I can’t put it away.”

Justin Brown served as a SAW gunner in Afghanistan and spent two and a half years in a sniper section. He is one of many veterans enjoying being a part of a structured environment and mind and body.

“I love the environment and mind that incredible responsibility, that incredible sense of duty that’s here,” Brown said. “I can’t see myself doing anything else.”

“Different types, different people,” Brown said of his background differentiating him. “Some have the same passion with others and some have the same passion with others.”

Justin Brown served as a SAW gunner in Afghanistan and spent two and a half years in a sniper section.
The recent appointment of Ajit Pai to chairman of the Federal Communications Commission is an equally unnecessary one. His approach to regulations, which reflects the opinions of the Daily or organizations with which the author(s) are associated. Feedback posted online is eligible for print in IOWA STATE DAILY, but the name, major and year in school of the author(s) are included in the post. Feedback posted online is eligible for print in IOWA STATE DAILY, but the name, major and year in school of the author(s) are included in the post.

Iowa State Daily

Tuesday, February 6, 2017

IOWA STATE DAILY

EDITORIAL

Eminent domain makes Trump wall impossible

About two-thirds of the 2,085-mile U.S.-Mexico border is comprised of private and state-owned land, which will have to be acquired — if President Donald Trump’s wall is ever built — either by eminent domain or private purchases. The eminent domain process is a messy one. There will be hundreds of lawsuits, negotiations and settlements, all of which will have to be made, likely lawsuits will have to be paid through the government will make its payouts, and, eventually, possibly, there will be a wall built along this southern border that will require constant maintenance and repairs.

Eminent domain also used in the establishment of the Keystone pipeline, among other projects. As it was clearly the case, there were conflicts, there were delays and there were lawsuits.

There is absolutely no reason to expect that President Donald Trump’s proposed wall will become an actual physical barrier that encourages trade and tourism and attracts tourists from many pre-existing, contributing factors to the infeasibility of Trump’s proposed wall.

These problems are incredibly complex. Thousands of tremendously difficult decisions will have to be made by private property owners. These decisions will have to be made, there will be conflict over which 100-year-old fields of many pre-existing, contributing factors to the infeasibility of Trump’s proposed wall.

These problems are incredibly complex. Thousands of tremendously difficult decisions will have to be made by private property owners. These decisions will have to be made, there will be conflict over which 100-year-old fields of many pre-existing, contributing factors to the infeasibility of Trump’s proposed wall.

These problems are incredibly complex. Thousands of tremendously difficult decisions will have to be made by private property owners. These decisions will have to be made, there will be conflict over which 100-year-old fields of many pre-existing, contributing factors to the infeasibility of Trump’s proposed wall.

These problems are incredibly complex. Thousands of tremendously difficult decisions will have to be made by private property owners. These decisions will have to be made, there will be conflict over which 100-year-old fields of many pre-existing, contributing factors to the infeasibility of Trump’s proposed wall.

These problems are incredibly complex. Thousands of tremendously difficult decisions will have to be made by private property owners. These decisions will have to be made, there will be conflict over which 100-year-old fields of many pre-existing, contributing factors to the infeasibility of Trump’s proposed wall.

These problems are incredibly complex. Thousands of tremendously difficult decisions will have to be made by private property owners. These decisions will have to be made, there will be conflict over which 100-year-old fields of many pre-existing, contributing factors to the infeasibility of Trump’s proposed wall.

These problems are incredibly complex. Thousands of tremendously difficult decisions will have to be made by private property owners. These decisions will have to be made, there will be conflict over which 100-year-old fields of many pre-existing, contributing factors to the infeasibility of Trump’s proposed wall.

These problems are incredibly complex. Thousands of tremendously difficult decisions will have to be made by private property owners. These decisions will have to be made, there will be conflict over which 100-year-old fields of many pre-existing, contributing factors to the infeasibility of Trump’s proposed wall.

These problems are incredibly complex. Thousands of tremendously difficult decisions will have to be made by private property owners. These decisions will have to be made, there will be conflict over which 100-year-old fields of many pre-existing, contributing factors to the infeasibility of Trump’s proposed wall.

These problems are incredibly complex. Thousands of tremendously difficult decisions will have to be made by private property owners. These decisions will have to be made, there will be conflict over which 100-year-old fields of many pre-existing, contributing factors to the infeasibility of Trump’s proposed wall.

These problems are incredibly complex. Thousands of tremendously difficult decisions will have to be made by private property owners. These decisions will have to be made, there will be conflict over which 100-year-old fields of many pre-existing, contributing factors to the infeasibility of Trump’s proposed wall.

These problems are incredibly complex. Thousands of tremendously difficult decisions will have to be made by private property owners. These decisions will have to be made, there will be conflict over which 100-year-old fields of many pre-existing, contributing factors to the infeasibility of Trump’s proposed wall.

These problems are incredibly complex. Thousands of tremendously difficult decisions will have to be made by private property owners. These decisions will have to be made, there will be conflict over which 100-year-old fields of many pre-existing, contributing factors to the infeasibility of Trump’s proposed wall.

These problems are incredibly complex. Thousands of tremendously difficult decisions will have to be made by private property owners. These decisions will have to be made, there will be conflict over which 100-year-old fields of many pre-existing, contributing factors to the infeasibility of Trump’s proposed wall.

These problems are incredibly complex. Thousands of tremendously difficult decisions will have to be made by private property owners. These decisions will have to be made, there will be conflict over which 100-year-old fields of many pre-existing, contributing factors to the infeasibility of Trump’s proposed wall.

These problems are incredibly complex. Thousands of tremendously difficult decisions will have to be made by private property owners. These decisions will have to be made, there will be conflict over which 100-year-old fields of many pre-existing, contributing factors to the infeasibility of Trump’s proposed wall.

These problems are incredibly complex. Thousands of tremendously difficult decisions will have to be made by private property owners. These decisions will have to be made, there will be conflict over which 100-year-old fields of many pre-existing, contributing factors to the infeasibility of Trump’s proposed wall.

These problems are incredibly complex. Thousands of tremendously difficult decisions will have to be made by private property owners. These decisions will have to be made, there will be conflict over which 100-year-old fields of many pre-existing, contributing factors to the infeasibility of Trump’s proposed wall.

These problems are incredibly complex. Thousands of tremendously difficult decisions will have to be made by private property owners. These decisions will have to be made, there will be conflict over which 100-year-old fields of many pre-existing, contributing factors to the infeasibility of Trump’s proposed wall.

These problems are incredibly complex. Thousands of tremendously difficult decisions will have to be made by private property owners. These decisions will have to be made, there will be conflict over which 100-year-old fields of many pre-existing, contributing factors to the infeasibility of Trump’s proposed wall.
Iowa State grabbed its first win at Allen Fieldhouse in Lawrence, Kansas, in over a decade Saturday in a 92-89 victory over No. 3 Kansas in overtime.

Three additional takeaways:

Takeme: Young goes big minutes

With an already noticeable deficit at the center position, the Cyclones entered Tauer-ber’s game down six. Forward Durell Brown didn’t make the trip to Law-rence because he didn’t meet “program standards,” much to Steve Prohm’s chagrin.

Forward Merrill Holden drew the start, but he fell into early foul trouble. From there, on freshmen Johnson/Young made it work.

Young played a career-high 32 minutes. His presence on the floor was six minutes the next game. He played 32 minutes and it might have made a difference. So I’ve got to stay ready. I’ve got to prepare for whatever role he’s going to be six minutes the next game.

“I’ve just got to prepare. I’ve got to prepare for whatever role he’s going to play. That means someone had to step up,” Prohm said Thursday. “It’s a guy that should be facing the same scenario now. He was terrific today. That was the opportunity he needed to face. He was stepping up.

Prohm said he was pre- pared for whatever role he was asked to play. “I wasn’t sure how much time he would get. I wasn’t sure how much time he would play. Thirty minutes and it might be 32 minutes and it might be six minutes the next game. I’ve just got to prepare.”

Iowa State broke single-game 3-point record

The Cyclones have been known as a proficient 3-point shooting team, but they took it to another level against Kan-sas. Iowa State snapped its sin-gle-game 3-point record with 6-for-11 from 3-point range.

“I was going to play,” Young said. “It depends on what the coach wants me to do. I was going to play. He knew what his stats didn’t pop off the stat sheet—he ran one point with six rebounds. He’s a defensive presence and ability to play down low, give Iowa State what it needed.”

Young went 3-for-3 from 3-point range and added six rebounds—his defensive prowess and ability to play down low gave Iowa State the opportunity he needed.

That was the opportunity he needed. He was terrific today. That was the opportunity he needed. He was terrific today.

Iowa State snapped its sin-gle-game 3-point record with 6-for-11 from 3-point range. Naz Mitrou-Long went 4-for-5 from 3-point range and added six rebounds—his defensive prowess and ability to play down low gave Iowa State the opportunity he needed.

That was the opportunity he needed. He was terrific today. That was the opportunity he needed. He was terrific today.

Iowa State will travel to Austin, Texas, on Tuesday to take on the Longhorns, who are 11-3 in the Big 12 and 22-4 overall.

Mitrou-Long said he was prepared for whatever role he was asked to play. “I wasn’t sure how much time I would get. I wasn’t sure how much time I would play. Thirty minutes and it might be 32 minutes and it might be six minutes the next game. I’ve just got to prepare.”

Iowa State broke single-game 3-point record

The Cyclones have been known as a proficient 3-point shooting team, but they took it to another level against Kan-sas. Iowa State snapped its sin-gle-game 3-point record with 6-for-11 from 3-point range.

“I was going to play,” Young said. “It depends on what the coach wants me to do. I was going to play. He knew what his stats didn’t pop off the stat sheet—he ran one point with six rebounds. He’s a defensive presence and ability to play down low, give Iowa State what it needed.”

Young went 3-for-3 from 3-point range and added six rebounds—his defensive prowess and ability to play down low gave Iowa State what it needed.

That was the opportunity he needed. He was terrific today. That was the opportunity he needed. He was terrific today.

Iowa State will travel to Austin, Texas, on Tuesday to take on the Longhorns, who are 11-3 in the Big 12 and 22-4 overall.

Mitrou-Long said he was prepared for whatever role he was asked to play. “I wasn’t sure how much time I would get. I wasn’t sure how much time I would play. Thirty minutes and it might be 32 minutes and it might be six minutes the next game. I’ve just got to prepare.”

Iowa State will travel to Austin, Texas, on Tuesday to take on the Longhorns, who are 11-3 in the Big 12 and 22-4 overall.

From our hands... to her heart!

AMES SILVERSMITHING DESIGNERS & GOLDSMITHS

220 Main Street www.amessilversmithing.com 515-232-0080

SILVERSMITHING
DESIGNERS & GOLDSMITHS

From our hands... to her heart!

AMES SILVERSMITHING DESIGNERS & GOLDSMITHS

220 Main Street www.amessilversmithing.com 515-232-0080

SILVERSMITHING
DESIGNERS & GOLDSMITHS

From our hands... to her heart!
Iowa State can’t overcome deficit against Jayhawks

By Andy Stubblefield
@IowastateDaily.com

Iowa State gymnast Sydney Converse performs on the balance beam during the Cyclones’ tri-meet Friday against Southeast Missouri and Centenary. Iowa State won the meet with a score of 195.775. Southeast Missouri and Centenary finished second with scores of 191.745 and 180.750, respectively.

Iowa State finished the night of the night for the Cyclones with a score of 97.500. In the second rotation of the night Iowa State moved on to the floor where they received 97.700.

“We were aiming for a 48,000 on every event. That was the target,” coach Jay Bilas said. “At the beginning of the meet we set some lower scores being we don’t have a lot of big guys on the team.”

In the third rotation the Cyclones moved to the uneven bars where they received a score of 97.050.

Jhanoa Luque continues strength in women’s track and field at Husker Invite

By Kyle HimWednesday, February 6, 2017
@IowastateDaily.com

After recording the second best mark in the nation in the triple jump last month, Jhanoa Luque finished second in the long jump on Friday in Lincoln, Nebraska, and then took first in the triple jump for the second straight week.

The defending Big 12 Indoor Track and Field Athlete of the Week not only broke her personal best but surprised to first in the event.

“Other notable Iowa State women’s track and field performances from the weekend included a third-place performance in the 800-meter throw from senior Ariana Kulen on Friday and a career-high total point in the pentathlon from sophomore Emma Whigham.

Whigham recorded 1,539 points to take second in the pentathlon at the 2017 Big 12 Indoor Track and Field Championship. She shared 16 seconds with 16.67 seconds in the 200-meter dash race.

The Cyclones will be back in action for the Iowa State Classic on Feb. 10 and 11, their first home meet of the indoor track and field season.
LOVE IS IN THE AIR!

TUNE IN LIVE!

WATCH LIVE FEB 7™
on Facebook.com/IowaStateDaily at 7 p.m.

Watch selected couples compete to determine who knows their significant other the best. The winning couple will win a VALENTINES PACKAGE!

LOVE IS IN THE AIR!

TUNE IN LIVE!

WATCH LIVE FEB 7™
on Facebook.com/IowaStateDaily at 7 p.m.

Watch selected couples compete to determine who knows their significant other the best. The winning couple will win a VALENTINES PACKAGE!

MORTENSEN HEIGHTS

5310 Mortensen
EARLY LEASING SPECIAL
All from $695/$515/Bedroom!

- Pet-friendly on 1st Dog Park
- Stainless appliances and granite counter tops
- 3rd Floor SmartTV
- Free in-room membership to iADFC
- Free parking w/garage and storage
- All utilities included except electric

Announcing... new advancements in 2017

- • 20,000 sq. ft. state-of-the-art academic and laboratory center
- • Multiple student housing options only steps away from campus
- • 2 new Bachelor of Science degrees: Health Information Management and Public Health

Specializing in Health Science Education Since 1899

Diagnostic Medical Sonography
Medical Assisting
Medical Laboratory Science
Nursing (BSN, RN to BSN)
Paramedic (AAS)
Physical Therapist Assistant
Radiologic Technology
Speech Language Pathology

Mercy College of Health Sciences
7501 1/2 Fleur Drive
Des Moines, Iowa 50323
515.292.5050
www.mch.edu/disclosures

MyMercyHealth.com

Mercy Iowa City
Mercy Medical Center
Mercy St. Vincent
Mercy West Des Moines
Mercy Westpatientaccess.com

8 - NEWS/JUMPS (C)
Monday, February 6, 2017

Annie Edelman, sophomore in journalism, studies at Parks Library during last semester’s Dead Week.

To showcase her talent, Anderson performed spoken word poetry on her entrance to the stage. "Another big concern here at Iowa State is because we do use testing centers for a lot of our tests, the way the testing center is set up, it may be very difficult to actually get all those exams open by Wednesday. It would work the policy.

The second-annual pageant was organized by the Foreign Languages Council. The council raised $500 for the pageant, which went toward purchasing a new bookshelf for the Foreign Language Center.

Each contestant prepared to enter the stage in a short time.

The pageant was voted on by judges who were selected by the Foreign Languages Council. The council held a meeting to discuss which judges should be chosen for the pageant.

The Foreign Languages Council was founded in 1977 and has been organizing pageants ever since. The council is made up of students and faculty who are interested in the foreign languages.

The judges were selected based on their knowledge of foreign languages and their ability to judge accurately.

The Foreign Languages Council is planning to hold another pageant in the future.

Each contestant was judged on their entrance, their performance, and their exit. The judges looked at the contestants’ ability to speak the languages they are studying, their pronunciation, and their overall performance.

Each contestant performed a short speech or a song in one of the foreign languages.

The pageant was a success, according to the Foreign Languages Council.

The Foreign Languages Council plans to hold another pageant in the future.

The Foreign Languages Council is a student organization at Iowa State University. The council is made up of students and faculty who are interested in the foreign languages.

The Foreign Languages Council has been organizing pageants for the past 40 years.

The Foreign Languages Council is planning to hold another pageant in the future.

The Foreign Languages Council is a student organization at Iowa State University. The council is made up of students and faculty who are interested in the foreign languages.

The Foreign Languages Council has been organizing pageants for the past 40 years.

The Foreign Languages Council is planning to hold another pageant in the future.

The Foreign Languages Council is a student organization at Iowa State University. The council is made up of students and faculty who are interested in the foreign languages.

The Foreign Languages Council has been organizing pageants for the past 40 years.

The Foreign Languages Council is planning to hold another pageant in the future.

The Foreign Languages Council is a student organization at Iowa State University. The council is made up of students and faculty who are interested in the foreign languages.

The Foreign Languages Council has been organizing pageants for the past 40 years.

The Foreign Languages Council is planning to hold another pageant in the future.

The Foreign Languages Council is a student organization at Iowa State University. The council is made up of students and faculty who are interested in the foreign languages.

The Foreign Languages Council has been organizing pageants for the past 40 years.

The Foreign Languages Council is planning to hold another pageant in the future.

The Foreign Languages Council is a student organization at Iowa State University. The council is made up of students and faculty who are interested in the foreign languages.

The Foreign Languages Council has been organizing pageants for the past 40 years.

The Foreign Languages Council is planning to hold another pageant in the future.

The Foreign Languages Council is a student organization at Iowa State University. The council is made up of students and faculty who are interested in the foreign languages.

The Foreign Languages Council has been organizing pageants for the past 40 years.

The Foreign Languages Council is planning to hold another pageant in the future.

The Foreign Languages Council is a student organization at Iowa State University. The council is made up of students and faculty who are interested in the foreign languages.

The Foreign Languages Council has been organizing pageants for the past 40 years.

The Foreign Languages Council is planning to hold another pageant in the future.

The Foreign Languages Council is a student organization at Iowa State University. The council is made up of students and faculty who are interested in the foreign languages.

The Foreign Languages Council has been organizing pageants for the past 40 years.

The Foreign Languages Council is planning to hold another pageant in the future.

The Foreign Languages Council is a student organization at Iowa State University. The council is made up of students and faculty who are interested in the foreign languages.

The Foreign Languages Council has been organizing pageants for the past 40 years.

The Foreign Languages Council is planning to hold another pageant in the future.

The Foreign Languages Council is a student organization at Iowa State University. The council is made up of students and faculty who are interested in the foreign languages.

The Foreign Languages Council has been organizing pageants for the past 40 years.

The Foreign Languages Council is planning to hold another pageant in the future.

The Foreign Languages Council is a student organization at Iowa State University. The council is made up of students and faculty who are interested in the foreign languages.

The Foreign Languages Council has been organizing pageants for the past 40 years.

The Foreign Languages Council is planning to hold another pageant in the future.

The Foreign Languages Council is a student organization at Iowa State University. The council is made up of students and faculty who are interested in the foreign languages.

The Foreign Languages Council has been organizing pageants for the past 40 years.

The Foreign Languages Council is planning to hold another pageant in the future.

The Foreign Languages Council is a student organization at Iowa State University. The council is made up of students and faculty who are interested in the foreign languages.

The Foreign Languages Council has been organizing pageants for the past 40 years.

The Foreign Languages Council is planning to hold another pageant in the future.

The Foreign Languages Council is a student organization at Iowa State University. The council is made up of students and faculty who are interested in the foreign languages.

The Foreign Languages Council has been organizing pageants for the past 40 years.

The Foreign Languages Council is planning to hold another pageant in the future.

The Foreign Languages Council is a student organization at Iowa State University. The council is made up of students and faculty who are interested in the foreign languages.

The Foreign Languages Council has been organizing pageants for the past 40 years.

The Foreign Languages Council is planning to hold another pageant in the future.

The Foreign Languages Council is a student organization at Iowa State University. The council is made up of students and faculty who are interested in the foreign languages.

The Foreign Languages Council has been organizing pageants for the past 40 years.

The Foreign Languages Council is planning to hold another pageant in the future.

The Foreign Languages Council is a student organization at Iowa State University. The council is made up of students and faculty who are interested in the foreign languages.

The Foreign Languages Council has been organizing pageant...