A bunch of speculators once tried to get the late Russell Sage interested in their scheme, and called on him at his office to explain matters. He listened to them, but would not commit himself, saying he would take the matter under advisement.

When they had left his office, one of them said to the others: “That old bird will never let us have the money; he’s too suspicious.”

“Why do you think he won’t.”

“Well, I noticed that after he shook hands with me he counted his fingers.”

DEFINITIONS NOT ATTRIBUTED TO WEBSTER

A doorknob is a thing a revolving door goes around without.
A straw is a thing which you drink something through two of them.
Cobblestones are a pavement that people would rather were of asphalt than.
A fern is a plant that you are supposed to water it once a day, but if you don’t, it dies, and if you do, it dies anyway, only not so soon.
Summer is a season that in winter you wish you could keep your home as warm as.
A cartoon is a funny drawing that makes people laugh when other people claim cigarettes come in it.
Cream is stuff which dry cereal doesn’t taste as good without, unless you use milk, but you haven’t any.
Water is what when you are thirsty you want a drink of something instead of.
A handle is a peachy little gadget that if you haven’t got anything to fit it on, it is no use carrying it around.
A banana is a thing that an orange is rounder than, but not so long as, and you can peel it from end to end, or vice versa, and a horse would rather eat apples than.
Home is where you can scratch any place that itches.
Sherry—what Washington chopped down a tree of.
Rum—singular of what a house is divided into.
Hope—what, unless you have any there is none for you.
Whiskey is what, the morning after, you wish you had drunk water the night before instead of.
A University is a place without which football teams would play in pastures.
Conceit is something you have when you think you have something you haven’t.
Setup—that which after several drinks you hope you can.

It was intermission at the fraternity dance, and everybody came inside to rest.—Hi Lead.

Andy: “My wife asked me to take our old cat off somewhere and lose it. So I put it in a basket and tramped out into the country for about eight miles.”

Goodspeed: “Did you lose the cat?”

Andy: “Lose it! If I hadn’t followed it I’d never have got back home.”

Dr. Knight: “What is the best way to prevent disease caused by biting insects?”

Jack West: “Well, I suppose the surest way is to quit biting the insects.”

The best armor is to keep out of gunshot.—Bacon

"DESCRIPTIVES"
As nervous as a candle flame
As mutual as a pair of shears.
As restless as a rumor.—Walter Winchell
As stay-at-home as a turtle.
No more initiative than an echo.
A sleepy fire nodded and dozed over a few chunks of hard wood.

This Tree Trimmer is the most powerful cutting tool we have ever produced. It has the Compound Lever of our Regular No. 1 Trimmer and it has double leverage due to the pulley which is attached to the curved lever. This tool will sever any branch up to 1 1/4 inches in diameter with the slightest effort.

For larger limbs we recommend our No. 44 Pole Pruning Saw with 16-inch blade having 7 teeth per inch.

FUTILITY

Of all futile words
Of tongue or pen
The most futile are these:
“Never again.”

Silas Clam
Lies on the floor
He tried to slam
A swinging door.

Would-Be Wrestler: “So I gets him by the wrist—then I twists his leg up like this—then I turns it down like this—and before I know it, I’m flat on my back.”

Tim and Jim sitting on house in flood—water all around. Tim notices a hat floating down stream—hat suddenly turns and goes upstream, then down, then up. Tim says, “How come.” Jim: “When Sam says he is going to mow a lawn he mows it.”

Mary had a little pet,
Twas neither lamb nor gopher
For Mary had her little pet
Upon the parlor sopher.

"Here I set and fuss and fret,
While my seat is getting wet.
It's enough to make me fume,
Teacher, can't I leave the room?
Why delay me when you know
That I simply have to go,
Honest teacher, I'm not feigning,
My top is down, and it's raining."

Grandpa, in a speedy car,
Pushed the throttle down too far;
Twinkle, twinkle, little star,
Music by the G. A. R.

A parrot was sitting in the saloon of a luxurious steamer watching a magician do tricks. The magician served notice that he was now going to do a trick never before accomplished. He pulled up his sleeves and then proceeded to make a few fancy motions. Just at that moment the ship's boilers blew up, demolishing the ship. About 5 minutes later, as the parrot came to, floating about the ocean on a piece of driftwood he muttered: "Damn clever, damn clever."
