Afield With The Foresters

Merritt, Melvin L., '04. Working in western Washington with private logging operations. Have met several Ames foresters who are giving a good account of themselves.

Allen, Shirley W., '09. Still pounding away on Forest Administration, Recreation Use and Conservation. Michigan has 250 forestry students which is considerably over our capacity.

Watts, Lyle F., '13. The demand for well-trained foresters should increase. I doubt that it will absorb all the would-be foresters now enrolling in our forest schools.

Harley, William P., '15. It has been no fun being in the lumber business for the past four years with the government running it. Used to see Hugh Cassidy and Roger Morris, but have seen neither of them for a couple of years.

Cassidy, Hugh O., '16. Back again on the Apache and glad to be here. Beautiful country and hasn't changed except for the better in 15 years.

Poshusta, D. C., '20. With the Red Cross since February 1941. Martin Boswell, an Ames forester, and his wife, Joe MacRae, daughter of Prof. Tolbert MacRae, live here.

Prout, Clarence, '23. We have just started a new program of forest management, setting up a number of management units.

Miller, Allen F., '24. George Gillette is working here with me. Also see Swede Nelson once in a while.

Fullerton, Neil, '27. Have been assigned to timber sales and land management work since being discharged from the Navy last November 30th.

Ball, Donald R., '28. After nine years as Assistant Forest Supervisor on the Superior National Forest, I was assigned to my present position in February 1946. We are fortunate in having several Iowa State foresters on the forest.

Lundberg, R. O., '28. I returned to the park in July after five and one-half years in the service. These mountains certainly looked wonderful to me.

Kulp, John W., '29. Due to an injury received in Italy while serving with the 10th Mountain Division, I could not go back to my old field job with the U.S.F.S.

Scholz, Harold F., '29. Harold Morey dropped in to pay me an official call recently. As far as I could see he had not changed a great deal.

DeBower, Richard M., '30. A year ago I returned to inactive duty as a lieutenant colonel and began teaching math and mechanical drawing. I attended University of Chicago four evenings a week and received my master's degree in education.

Burkett, Luther B., '30. I find working for the Forest Service interesting, reasonably lucrative, and still quite enjoyable after almost seventeen years of it.

Chase, Clarence D., '31. Now helping organize the forest survey of the Lake States Region and enjoying work with aerial photographs.

Harmon, Wendell H., '32. Finding more timber available for cutting than I thought existed in Nebraska. Our present problem is getting a market for mature timber in small tracts.

Jauch, Jacob, '33. Primarily engaged in timber sale administration. Had about 150 German P.O.W.'s last season cutting some six million feet of the logs.

Stone, W. E., '33. This is an interesting business, but please don't jump into it without due consideration because the going this past year has been stormy. I'd like to hear from some of the classes of '32 and '33.

Dorman, Keith W., '34. At the present time I have charge of the project leading toward the development of a high-yielding strain of pine for the production of naval stores.

Hess, Bob, '34. I have never been able to understand why we don't get an occasional Iowa State graduate student. At least we ought to get an application for scholarship.

Hubbard, John W., '34. I see Clarence Prout, '23, and Fred Boeckh, '28, superintendent of our company's Insulite division quite often.

Hurd, E. S., '35. From all indications this forestry business seems to be taking root up here. There are some Iowa Staters here. At the last "round-up" there were at least eight grads from the "old school."

Brinkman, K. A., '36. Since the last Ames Forester was printed we have added a potential forester to the family. We've bought a house here and will probably raise a Rebel instead of a Yankee.

Compton, Kenneth C., '36. Plenty of Iowa State foresters here, including Glen Ball, '46, Dorsey Morris, '35, and Bruce Bebensee, '40. How about a summer camp in this part of the country?

Getty, Russell E., '36. I'm glad to see the Ames Forester has a staff again.

Heyer, Winn E., '36. Getting the wood for Atlantic Coast homes still seems to be quite a problem.

Barton, James H., '37. There are five Ames foresters now living in the town of Norris—Earl Olson, '33, Walt Smith and Ted Silker, '38, John Allen, '40, and myself.

Hohenadel, Samuel F., '38. I am helping to design laundry washers and investigating the possibilities of various woods which can be used in wood washers.

Kansky, George W., '38. I have really enjoyed getting back to the mountains again.

Reeder, Douglas, '38. Still working for Long Bell—same job only more seniority. Anybody ever get near or in Longview be sure and look us up.

Rise, Carl H., '38. For the last year and a half have been a salesman and partner of Eagle Decal Inc. The work here is 100 percent in marketing and selling products direct to retail stores.

Chambers, Wayne R., '39. I've always been crazy about maps, but I never expected to end up making them. Incidentally, there are plenty of openings for grads with interest in surveying and aerial photo work.

Cook, Francis J., '39. I have taken the position of Area Forester for the territory west of the Mississippi River.

Gates, Earl W., '39. The plywood supply picture is gradually improving and from all indications it appears that the post-war demand will greatly exceed anything seen in the past.

Helschner, J. W., '39. Married Dorothy Rankin, ex. '41, of Hampton, Iowa, have two children—Mary, five, and John, three.
Hoskins, Robert N., '39. I had a nice reunion with Vern Cutler and Royal Cummings, both with the South Carolina Forestry Commission, and with A. D. Radcliffe and "Cap" Wittmer.

Jamison, Glen M., '39. Doing range work exclusively now. Saw Bill Henry, Roy Almdale, and Charley Shoemaker last September. The only forests we have here are scrub oak, cedar, and mesquite.

Miller, Norman R., '39. Working with the Civil Service Commission. Married a girl from Syracuse, N. Y., in '42, and now have a son sixteen months old.

Applequist, Martin B., '40. Now teaching dendrology, game management and nursery management at L.S.U. Of the six men on the staff, four are Iowa State men—R. W. Hayes, head of the department, B. Boteman, Chuck Minor and myself.

Cutler, Vern H., '40. Working for the South Carolina State Forestry Commission. Have one son and expecting a (?) soon.

Glesne, Nels G., '40. The army kept me out of the woods for five years.

Kaden, Clarence E., '40. I saw Ackers, Hoose, and Dahl down in Ozark, Alabama, in October. Am now taking a turn at timber management on small holdings as a public service.

Lane, Max H., '40. Got out of the army January, 1946, worked for ten months as farm forester in Sparta, Illinois, before being transferred to Southern Illinois Forestry Headquarters, Benton, Ill., in charge of fire prevention for the state.

Silker, T. H., '40. Now silviculturist with T.V.A. carrying on investigation and reforestation work, stand improvement and regeneration studies. Our family is growing up—the girl, eight, and the boys, four and two.

Larson, J. Donovan, '41. Married in November and now back working with the Soil Conservation Service.

Pizzano, Vincent, '41. Along with two other foresters have just formed the Northeast Wood Products Inc. in Pownal, Vt.

Rummell, Robert S., '41. Married in March of '46.

Somberg, Seymour I., '41. Got my M.F. at Duke in '46. Started Lane Lbr. Co. and Forestry Aids, the latter of which is a firm of consulting foresters.

Yocum, Theodore R., '41. Was a B-17 pilot during the war.

Belehrad, Lad Wm., '42. A son born Oct. 28, 1946.

Clarke, E. H., '42. Most of my time has been devoted to farm forest economics surveys at the University of Arkansas.

Jensen, Harold J., '42. Compiling weather data and storm occurrence trends and frequencies for eastern Ore. and Wash.

Olsen, Dale C., '42. Have been working with Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. since leaving the Navy. Have a daughter three years old.

Rice, Wm., '42. Discharged from the Army Air Corps in December.

White, Ralph W., '42. Ran into "Jus" Webb last summer on a fire. Also saw Geo. Gillette on a fire near San Diego.

Foah, Mario L., '43. Changed the spelling of my last name when I received my American Citizenship to facilitate its pronunciation.

Garman, E. J., '43. Had a daughter arrive in November.

Porter, George L., '43. Some of the boys should take a look at the East if they are interested in industrial forestry.

Doolittle, Warren T., '46. Doing experimental management work on 6,000 acres of forest—cruising, marking timber, scaling, sales and special experimental projects.
There is a story about an Iowa State Forester that I have wanted to tell and I don't know if it is known at school. It is a story of a real American with a courage and pertinacity which should inspire us all.

This man went to work for a lumber company in the Southwest as a forester after he graduated, and during pre-war days he cruised their timber and planned cutting schedules. On the day Pearl Harbor was bombed he was on vacation, and immediately after war was declared he joined the Marines, wiring his boss to hold his job until he returned. He got into the parachuters, and went to Australia to finish his jumping training. While there he was rolled over on a jump, injuring his head so that one side of his body was completely paralyzed. He went through operations in hospitals, coordination exercises, etc., without much success in regaining the use of his arm, leg, and voice.

He finally got tired of this, so he quit the hospital and asked for his old job back. His former boss took him in although he could hardly be understood by even a patient listener, nor could he walk without dragging one leg behind. His right arm also was of no value. However, he went into the woods driving a hydramatic Olds with a bar welded to the shift lever so that he could operate it with his left hand. He slept in the woods and carried on his old job. When asked whether it wasn't tough going he wouldn't complain, but only mentioned that the big job had been done before the war and that it was really easy now.

One evening, while walking in Albuquerque, he was clubbed down by a policeman who thought he was an uncontrollable drunk because he couldn't speak to explain his condition. But when his lodge wanted to sue the city he only asked for a front page apology from the mayor, saying that maybe they wouldn't treat another G.I. the same way. The last time I saw him he had conquered a good bit of his speech problem and was gaining in the use of his right hand and leg. But he was leaving to study the drawing of medical subjects, operations, defective organs, etc., all with his left hand although he is naturally right handed. But he makes a good one at this too.

I know all of my classmates remember Joe Goldberg, who is this boy with a lot more guts than most of us have. We probably all remember how he earned his board working at the Memorial Union, played good football, and went through school all at the same time. I'm sure that we all wish Joe the very best of luck, and may his courage never waver in the years that lie ahead.

Editor's Note.—We are indebted to one of our alumni and a good friend of Joe's for the above excerpt.
Alumni Directory

Editor's Note.—We are uncertain as to the addresses of many of our alumni, and without doubt you will notice several errors in the following directory. During the war there were so many changes of address that it was impossible to keep informed on them all. Now, with most of our foresters getting more permanently located, we hope to bring our files up to date on each and every one of the alumni. Both the Forestry Department and the Ames Forester would greatly appreciate it if you would send us the correct address of any of the alumni of whom you have knowledge unless their correct address appears below. Some, of which we have no record at all, appear in the following preceded by an asterisk. Names not appearing in this list are those who, insofar as we know, are deceased.
