The quality of LEADERSHIP is essential to success!

Hundreds of leading logging engineers, sawmill engineers, operating heads and engineers in the forest products industry formed the habit—while still in their university and college days—to depend month after month upon every issue of THE TIMBERMAN to bring them information and ideas on new methods, new practices and new procedures developed in all major departments of the industry.

THE TIMBERMAN editorial staff travels thousands of miles each month to bring you the latest in pictures and text directly from on-the-job observations and reports.

You will benefit greatly in your career by making every number of THE TIMBERMAN a "must" in your reading and studying. To be well informed is a requisite of leadership—make it your habit.

GOOD FORESTRY AND GOOD BUSINESS!

Watch a tractor-winches-arch team at work in the woods. It bunches and yards the merchantable timber with minimum damage to young growth. It reaches out for isolated logs, cleans up the corners of the tract. This efficient team is the smoothest-working "rig" in the woods.

Carco has contributed a long series of major developments in the design of winches, arches and log carts—developments which are steadily increasing the profits to be realized from the best forest practice.

Wherever your career in forestry takes you, you'll find that Carco equipment is owned by the most successful loggers, sold and serviced by the leading tractor dealers.

The Timber of '52

The Long-Bell Lumber Company has been associated with timber and timber products for 76 years. But the timber of the Southern and Far Western Forests are not our only interest. Long-Bell considers of even greater national value the fine, straight timber of the graduating classes of our State Forestry schools.

We wish them success in their chosen career.

TORTURE TESTS Build Great Timber Tractors

Logging is about as tough a tractor job as there is. Lugging big logs out of the tract, rooting out stumps and clearing slash, biting into hillsides to build haul roads... all call for equipment that can stand up to real punishment—day in and day out.

To give lumbermen tractors of this caliber, we put our crawlers through an "obstacle course" all our own. First stop for pilot models is the proving ground, where they are torture-tested around the clock... doing the toughest jobs our engineers can devise. They're tested with every type of allied equipment, in every kind of weather and on every kind of terrain.

And when they're through, they're torn "limb from limb" to see how every last part has survived. Then the new tractor goes to college. University of Nebraska engineers take over in another series of torture tests.

It's only after running all these gauntlets than an Allis-Chalmers tractor graduates... taking its place in industry as a dependable, efficient, profit-building piece of equipment for its owner.
