THE Forestry Student Wives Club of Iowa State College strives to bring the wives of the forestry students closer together and to acquaint their families through social activities. The Club holds regular meetings once a month with a special program planned for each meeting. This year's programs have included a demonstration on Christmas centerpieces by Mrs. Peggy Harrison of Da Learts Florist Shop and slides of Spain shown by Professor Dana of the Engineering Department.

A few social meetings, such as potluck suppers and the annual spring picnic are held throughout the year. One of the highlights of the Club's social activities is the tea given for the Forestry Faculty Wives each spring.

Officers for the Club are Marilee Bonyata, president; Rose Mary Kridelbaugh, vice-president; Norma Jean Lauritsen, secretary-treasurer; and Pauline Baker, historian. Mrs. James Yoho is faculty advisor.
