Fall Forester's Day

by Kris Holt

In keeping with established tradition, the Forestry Club celebrated its regathering at the annual Fall Forester's Day. To those unfamiliar with our holiday, it is a day of festive competition; re-creating the events and methods of the old-time loggers and foresters.

Fall Forester's Day is held at Holst Tract State Forest. It's a day of tree-felling, match splitting, tobacco spitting, buck sawing, speed-chopping, - - to name a few - - and good eating in good company. If you could fight off the mosquitos, it was a chance to roll up your sleeves and show off your skills at traditional forestry in a laid-back atmosphere.

This year, the Fall Forester's Day was marked by good times, close competition, and about a dozen freak eggs, (some of which bounced and rolled up to forty feet without breaking!)

As darkness closed in on Holst Tract, the partying mood took hold of us. The group slowly broke up, only to rejoin later at Reinee Eshelman's apartment where we talked until the wee hours of the morning while trying to diminish the world supply of popcorn.
