Our New Yorkers

Broadway lights and the combined thrill of life and a career in a big city have beckoned numbers of former Iowa State College girls to New York City. Though far from their alma mater, these former students occasionally gather together to talk about the cherished memories of their college life.

Child's Restaurant System has evidently met the approval of our girls, since a goodly number are in Child's service. Mary Wilson, '19, is one of their chemists; Harriette Tyres Peterson, '22, Helen Newton, '24, Hazel Brown, '26, Anita Burkett, '26, Golda Ischer, '28, Rebecca Nelson, '23, Dorothy Johnson, '28, Ann Clifton, '28, Hazel Fry, '28, Cassie Laughlin, '28, and Gladys Buchanan, '28, are dietitians, while Veronica Morrissey, '23, is manager of one of their city cafeterias.

Louise Stephenson, '23, is a dietitian in the City Hospital.

Jean McCall, '27, and Mary Olla Phillips, '25, are working for their Master's degree in retail buying at New York University and are doing practical work in selling in Macy's and other large stores.

Dorothy R. Kasten, '26, and Verner H. Hansen, electrical engineering '27, were married at the home of the bride's parents in Davenport on June 30. Prior to her marriage, Mrs. Hansen taught home economics at Alexis, Ill. Mr. Hansen is connected with the Underwriters' Laboratories in Chicago. Their new address is 4430 N. Seeley St., Chicago.
