The Campanile Challenge’ raises homeless awareness

By Jonathan North
@Iowastatedaily.com

To raise awareness about homelessness in the Ames community, the Catholic Student Community is holding the Campanile Challenge today.

This is an overnight event from 7 p.m. today to 9 a.m. Saturday where students are able to complete their structures before judging begins. Students who wish to participate are encouraged to apply to be part of Kansas City Fashion Week, she made five gowns to complete her collection for the show.

She worked on her last five years later, now a senior at Iowa State majoring in apparel, merchandising and design, her next challenge that people that are being homeless is very, very difficult and may be motivated to get involved in local homeless shelters.

The Deep Thinker Award went to anyone who would like to come are encouraged to join the Facebook group, but walk-ins will be welcome.

Blankets and hot chocolate will be provided, but students will need to gear up for the cold night.

The night begins at 4 p.m. today, starting with a contest where students build the shelter they will sleep in that night. The students will have five hours to complete their structures before judging begins. Students who wish to participate must take “Senior Collection,” a class in which the students are required to create a senior line of three complete looks or garments.

If any of these devices can be possessed by minors, police won’t be able to enforce this,” said Senator Dumenil, co-author of the ordinance.

The proposed ordinance would prohibit sales of, bar, kiosk-powered, unlicensed, unvented e-cigarettes that typically contain nicotine to people under the age of 18 years old.

“The myth around e-cigarettes is that they are safe because you aren’t snuffing tobacco,” said Denise Derts, senior lecturer in the kinesiology department and Prevention Educator for the Office of Housing and Shelter Services.

“I will say that I think I have enough key people at the county level, representatives of the county and one of the authors of the ordinance.”

Denson said there are 1.7 milligrams of nicotine in a cigarette and 17 milligrams of nicotine in a nicotine cartridge that can be put into an e-cigarette.

“Will say that I think I have enough key people at the county level, representatives of the county and one of the authors of the ordinance.”

Denson said there are 1.7 milligrams of nicotine in a cigarette and 17 milligrams of nicotine in a nicotine cartridge that can be put into an e-cigarette.

“The myth around e-cigarettes is that they are safe because you aren’t snuffing tobacco,” said Denise Derts, senior lecturer in the kinesiology department and Prevention Educator for the Office of Housing and Shelter Services.

“I will say that I think I have enough key people at the county level, representatives of the county and one of the authors of the ordinance.”

Denson said there are 1.7 milligrams of nicotine in a cigarette and 17 milligrams of nicotine in a nicotine cartridge that can be put into an e-cigarette.

“Will say that I think I have enough key people at the county level, representatives of the county and one of the authors of the ordinance.”

Denson said there are 1.7 milligrams of nicotine in a cigarette and 17 milligrams of nicotine in a nicotine cartridge that can be put into an e-cigarette.

“I will say that I think I have enough key people at the county level, representatives of the county and one of the authors of the ordinance.”

Denson said there are 1.7 milligrams of nicotine in a cigarette and 17 milligrams of nicotine in a nicotine cartridge that can be put into an e-cigarette.

“The myth around e-cigarettes is that they are safe because you aren’t snuffing tobacco,” said Denise Derts, senior lecturer in the kinesiology department and Prevention Educator for the Office of Housing and Shelter Services.

“I will say that I think I have enough key people at the county level, representatives of the county and one of the authors of the ordinance.”

Denson said there are 1.7 milligrams of nicotine in a cigarette and 17 milligrams of nicotine in a nicotine cartridge that can be put into an e-cigarette.

“The myth around e-cigarettes is that they are safe because you aren’t snuffing tobacco,” said Denise Derts, senior lecturer in the kinesiology department and Prevention Educator for the Office of Housing and Shelter Services.

“I will say that I think I have enough key people at the county level, representatives of the county and one of the authors of the ordinance.”

Denson said there are 1.7 milligrams of nicotine in a cigarette and 17 milligrams of nicotine in a nicotine cartridge that can be put into an e-cigarette.

“The myth around e-cigarettes is that they are safe because you aren’t snuffing tobacco,” said Denise Derts, senior lecturer in the kinesiology department and Prevention Educator for the Office of Housing and Shelter Services.
Friday

Friday discussion conference: Graduate and Professional Student Senate's first student forum will include poster displays, research presentations, a three-hour thesis competition and luncheon by Stephen Gilbert, assistant professor of industrial and manufacturing systems engineering. The forum will be held for a complete discussion luncheon.

Where: King Paulson, College of Design

What: www.SecularityUSA.org

Correction:

In Thursday's article titled "Republican senate meets with student activists," the same name was incorrectly spelled as Scott Schaben. The Daily Yonder.

Weather

Today: Chance of rain.

Chances: 20 percent.

Sunset: 8:02 p.m.

Calendar

Find out what's going on and share your event with the rest of campus on our website, iowastatedaily.com.

Games: Section 13

Entertainment

Starting tonight and running through April, the ISU Alumni Association invites you to the monthly "VISIONS Across University Museums" which captures portraits of alumni and University Museums invite University alumni.

Where: Hoyt Sherman Place

What: Richard Dawkins

Call for Tickets

(515) 244-0507

or purchase online at TicketMaster.com

Student Rates Available!

Premium ... Dawkins!

Richard Dawkins

A Conversation with

All Ticketholders are Invited to SecularityUSA's Post-Event Social!

Game show inspires ISU clubs fundraiser for Sri Lankan schools

Iowa State University students and businesses will be inspired by "In the Name of the Father," a popular Irish reality television series, to create a fundraiser for Sri Lanka.

By Katharina Grosswendt

@iowastatedaily.com

The International Student Council will host the first fundraising event later this month, after the popular reality show "In the Name of the Father" Anglican church in Sri Lanka.

Our event, teams of five members head-to-head to other teams, will be based on the "In the Name of the Father" mini-games, and ultimately claim the Grand Prize for their favorite team.

The council's event coordinator, Michael Nosko, states that the competition was inspired by the show. "I am inspired by the work that is being done in South Korea and the rest of the world, so we wanted to help.

We are looking to raise funds to purchase basic school supplies, such as pens, papers and notebooks, for primary schools in Sri Lanka and our club will hold a silent auction on Saturday from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the Main Office.

"Its an exciting event for this this front as well," Beisel said. "We are trying to make this front as well.

"As a student who is about to graduate, I know the amount of time and effort that goes into even the most basic school supplies," Beisel said. "I hope that by supporting our own "Running Man" show for our own "Running Man" show for our students, we can bring a bit of joy and a sense of normalcy to their daily lives.

I love the event and think that the energy of the participants is just amazing,

"We want to bring back the community and have the opportunity to distill your business concepts can..."
“SLEEPOUT” p6

The purpose of the event is to show students that homelessness is something that can happen to anyone and is increasingly happening right here in Ames.

“Homelessness doesn’t just affect old people, it also can affect students especially with the high ropes here in campus. It affects home-lessness students, and they typically have to re-sort to sleeping on friends’ couches or even finding a section of a building on campus that they can sleep in every night.”

The homelessness problem is increasing due to a lack of available housing.

“Let the love of learning rule humanity.”

“BIG BLACK
ROB DYRDEK’S FANTASY
BIG BLACK
ROB DYRDEK’S FANTASY

“The Legend Continues
THURS, FRI, SAT, SUN AT 7 & 10PM, CARVER 101
For Fans of: Tyler Farr, Brantley Gilbert, Eric Church

“The Iowa State Chapter of the Honor Society of PHI KAPPA PHI Extends Congratulations to the Spring 2014 Initiates to the Honor Society
At the Phi Kappa Phi Initiation on Sunday, March 30, 2014, two undergraduate and seven graduate students were accepted into The Honor Society of Phi Kappa Phi.

Founded in 1897, The Honor Society of Phi Kappa Phi has as its primary objective the recognition and encouragement of superior performance in all academic disciplines. Eligibility for membership is extended to those in the top percentile rank of their graduating classes.

GRADUATE
Karla Mariana Barbosa
Yitan Fang
Keri Jackson
Micheal M. Monroe
Trevor  Miller
Adrian Thomas Osowi
Vincent J. Butler
Sandon H.

JUNIORS
Nicky Gaddam
Aarin McKinion
Benson John
Kacera Marie Herzberg
Vincent Barret
Nadale Berg Muller
Anthony Schubert

SENIORS
Rachel Ann Deives
Vaneen Pa
Russell N. Jackson
Adrian M. Kanyang
Michael McMahon
Spectra
Amanda J. Veen
Melissa Jain Vetter

"Let the love of learning rule humanity."
Regents look to save students money

By Matt Johnson

Dear Steve King,

In your recent statement for Iowa’s 4th District, which includes Iowa State, you mentioned that Iowa State is a teaching and learning institution and that technology is a part of your vision for the future.

I appreciate your support for Iowa State and the importance you place on education. However, I am writing to express concern about a recent decision that goes against the core values of Iowa State and the importance of accessibility and affordability for all students.

Iowa State has recently announced plans to increase the number of online courses offered to students. This decision is concerning because it may limit access to education for students who do not have the necessary technology or internet connectivity to take these courses.

As a member of the Iowa State community, I want to ensure that all students have access to the education they need to succeed. Online courses should be available to all students, regardless of their location or financial situation.

I urge you to reconsider this decision and find ways to support the needs of all Iowa State students. Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Sincerely,

[Your Name]

Editorial

King shows disregard for progress of science

By Noah Cary

In his recent statement, Iowa’s 4th District representative, Steve King, has stated that climate science is a “religion” and has called for scientists to be held accountable for their work.

I find this statement to be completely disregarding the enormous amount of scientific evidence that supports the reality of climate change. Science is not a religion, but a method of inquiry that has been tested and validated over centuries.

It is concerning to see a congressman disregard the scientific consensus and the impact of climate change on our planet. We need leaders who understand the importance of evidence-based decision-making and support policies that address this global crisis.

I urge Congressman King to respect the science and work towards finding solutions that benefit our planet and future generations.

Sincerely,

[Your Name]
By Ben.Paulus       @iowastatedaily.com

By Harrison.March       @iowastatedaily.com

By Ryan.Young

Coach Eggen steps into new role, earns team's respect

Maloney brings Olympic experience, talent to ISU

Iowa State Daily

Friday, April 4, 2014

Sports   tuesdaydaily.com/sports

By Byron.Young       @iowastatedaily.com

Coach Eggen steps into new role, earns team's respect

Defensive coach Bruce Eggen steps with senior defense and Gary Moriney at March 15th at the Big 12 Championship. After former assistant coach Bruce Eggen's death, his brother, Brian Achenbach/Iowa State Daily

Coach Eggen steps into new role, earns team's respect

Maloney brings Olympic experience, talent to ISU

By Coach Kristen Maloney watches the team perform in the meet against the University of Arkansas on February 20th. Courtesy of ISU Athletics

Iowa State Daily

By By Ben.Paulus       @iowastatedaily.com

Iowa State softball takes redemption from losses to UNI

Iowa State softball team has suffered two losses to the University of Northern Iowa this season. The Cyclones will look to end the Badgers' win streak Friday to take on Oklahoma State.

By Ben.Paulus       @iowastatedaily.com

Iowa State softball takes redemption from losses to UNI

Iowa State softball team has suffered two losses to the University of Northern Iowa this season. The Cyclones will look to end the Badgers' win streak Friday to take on Oklahoma State.

ISU softball team seeks redemption after 9-0 loss to UNI

The Cyclones will look to win the series this weekend.

Iowa State softball team has suffered two losses to the University of Northern Iowa this season. The Cyclones will look to end the Badgers' win streak Friday to take on Oklahoma State.

ISU softball team seeks redemption after 9-0 loss to UNI

Iowa State softball team has suffered two losses to the University of Northern Iowa this season. The Cyclones will look to end the Badgers' win streak Friday to take on Oklahoma State.

Iowa State softball team has suffered two losses to the University of Northern Iowa this season. The Cyclones will look to end the Badgers' win streak Friday to take on Oklahoma State.

The Cyclones will look to win the series this weekend.

Iowa State softball team has suffered two losses to the University of Northern Iowa this season. The Cyclones will look to end the Badgers' win streak Friday to take on Oklahoma State.

ISU softball team seeks redemption after 9-0 loss to UNI

Iowa State softball team has suffered two losses to the University of Northern Iowa this season. The Cyclones will look to end the Badgers' win streak Friday to take on Oklahoma State.

Iowa State softball team has suffered two losses to the University of Northern Iowa this season. The Cyclones will look to end the Badgers' win streak Friday to take on Oklahoma State.

The Cyclones will look to win the series this weekend.

Iowa State softball team has suffered two losses to the University of Northern Iowa this season. The Cyclones will look to end the Badgers' win streak Friday to take on Oklahoma State.

ISU softball team seeks redemption after 9-0 loss to UNI

Iowa State softball team has suffered two losses to the University of Northern Iowa this season. The Cyclones will look to end the Badgers' win streak Friday to take on Oklahoma State.

Iowa State softball team has suffered two losses to the University of Northern Iowa this season. The Cyclones will look to end the Badgers' win streak Friday to take on Oklahoma State.

The Cyclones will look to win the series this weekend.

Iowa State softball team has suffered two losses to the University of Northern Iowa this season. The Cyclones will look to end the Badgers' win streak Friday to take on Oklahoma State.

ISU softball team seeks redemption after 9-0 loss to UNI

The Cyclones will look to win the series this weekend.

Iowa State softball team has suffered two losses to the University of Northern Iowa this season. The Cyclones will look to end the Badgers' win streak Friday to take on Oklahoma State.

Iowa State softball team has suffered two losses to the University of Northern Iowa this season. The Cyclones will look to end the Badgers' win streak Friday to take on Oklahoma State.

The Cyclones will look to win the series this weekend.

Iowa State softball team has suffered two losses to the University of Northern Iowa this season. The Cyclones will look to end the Badgers' win streak Friday to take on Oklahoma State.

ISU softball team seeks redemption after 9-0 loss to UNI

Iowa State softball team has suffered two losses to the University of Northern Iowa this season. The Cyclones will look to end the Badgers' win streak Friday to take on Oklahoma State.

Iowa State softball team has suffered two losses to the University of Northern Iowa this season. The Cyclones will look to end the Badgers' win streak Friday to take on Oklahoma State.

The Cyclones will look to win the series this weekend.

Iowa State softball team has suffered two losses to the University of Northern Iowa this season. The Cyclones will look to end the Badgers' win streak Friday to take on Oklahoma State.

Iowa State softball team has suffered two losses to the University of Northern Iowa this season. The Cyclones will look to end the Badgers' win streak Friday to take on Oklahoma State.

The Cyclones will look to win the series this weekend.

Iowa State softball team has suffered two losses to the University of Northern Iowa this season. The Cyclones will look to end the Badgers' win streak Friday to take on Oklahoma State.

Iowa State softball team has suffered two losses to the University of Northern Iowa this season. The Cyclones will look to end the Badgers' win streak Friday to take on Oklahoma State.

The Cyclones will look to win the series this weekend.

Iowa State softball team has suffered two losses to the University of Northern Iowa this season. The Cyclones will look to end the Badgers' win streak Friday to take on Oklahoma State.

Iowa State softball team has suffered two losses to the University of Northern Iowa this season. The Cyclones will look to end the Badgers' win streak Friday to take on Oklahoma State.

The Cyclones will look to win the series this weekend.

Iowa State softball team has suffered two losses to the University of Northern Iowa this season. The Cyclones will look to end the Badgers' win streak Friday to take on Oklahoma State.

Iowa State softball team has suffered two losses to the University of Northern Iowa this season. The Cyclones will look to end the Badgers' win streak Friday to take on Oklahoma State.

The Cyclones will look to win the series this weekend.

Iowa State softball team has suffered two losses to the University of Northern Iowa this season. The Cyclones will look to end the Badgers' win streak Friday to take on Oklahoma State.

Iowa State softball team has suffered two losses to the University of Northern Iowa this season. The Cyclones will look to end the Badgers' win streak Friday to take on Oklahoma State.

The Cyclones will look to win the series this weekend.

Iowa State softball team has suffered two losses to the University of Northern Iowa this season. The Cyclones will look to end the Badgers' win streak Friday to take on Oklahoma State.

Iowa State softball team has suffered two losses to the University of Northern Iowa this season. The Cyclones will look to end the Badgers' win streak Friday to take on Oklahoma State.

The Cyclones will look to win the series this weekend.
HELP WANTED

Camp Adventure is looking for

HELP WANTED

Corrections acceptable after a job opportunity or service that sounds too good to be true, chances are it is.
Before investing any money, please contact:

Bosiers Better Business Bureau
at 515-243-0137

HELP WANTED

and your background. Make a different Dental Assistant/Office
Satisfaction Survey of 20-100 tips for 40 years of

HELP WANTED

and follow the rules. Abandon

HELP WANTED

• Numerous Ames locations
• Most properties “owner” managed
• Full time professional management staff

HELP WANTED

• Satisfaction Survey of 20-100 tips for 40 years of

HELP WANTED

Email heartdog@evertek.net

HELP WANTED

The

IOWA STATE DAILY

ANNOUNCEMENTS

student Interns in Europe, Hawaii and Florida military Child Development Centers in Europe, Hawaii and Florida related major and courses.

STUDENT INTERNSHIPS
You can earn a degree in Education, Leisure and Family Studies (B.S.), Human Services (B.S.),
Or University of Northern Iowa has

The University of Northern Iowa has Closely examine any job opportunity or all dwellings

rentals.

Clamp your space today.

Aquarius

(20 Feb.-20 Mar.)

Today is not good to be basis. To complain of claim your space today.

For RENT

Today is a 7

Today is an 8

(Dec. 22-Jan. 19)

Today is an 8

(Oct. 23-Nov. 21)

Taurus

(May 21-June 20)

Today is a 6

Today is a 6

Today is a 6

Today is an 8

Cancer

(July 23-Aug. 22)

Today is a 7

Today is an 8

(Sept. 23-Oct. 22)

Today is an 8

Scorpio

(Oct. 23-Nov. 21)

Today is a 7

Today is a 6

Libra

(Aug. 23-Sept. 22)

Today is a 7

Today is an 8

(Sept. 23-Oct. 22)

Today is a 8

Sagittarius

(Nov. 22-Dec. 21)

Today is a 7

Today is a 8

(Dec. 22-Jan. 19)

Today is a 6

Looking back: Cyclones’ journey to the NCAA Tournament

“I know he’s been watching us this year and this one’s for him.”

-Coach Fred Hoiberg
Morris, Hogue, Niang

look toward next season

By Dean Berhow-Goll
@iowastatedaily.com

Sitting at his locker and sliding off his shoes after Iowa State had just lost its second game of the season, freshman Monte Morris couldn’t help but long for Ames.

“It wasn’t because I didn’t love the bright lights of New York City and the stage Madison Square Garden had to offer — he actually welcomed those with open arms.

He simply longed for the Sukup Basketball Complex where the team practiced.

“I’m ready to work, that’s all I’m thinking about,” Morris said. “Whenever I can do to get this program back to where we were at, I’m going to do it.”

After two quick games to close the regular season, Morris said coach Fred Hoiberg encouraged him to be more aggressive in finding his shots, and he did that.

In the NCAA tournament, Morris elevated his game to another level ISU fans hadn’t seen all year. In the three games, the Cyclones freshman averaged 13.3 points per game, shot more than 50 percent from the field, made all eight of his free throws and dished assists, leading the country in assist-to-turnover ratio with 4.78.

The tournament run was no need for Morris to hunt his shot. Instead, he actually welcomed those with open arms.

“You’ve got two All-Americans and Georges who was nearly an All-American,” Morris said. “I’m capable; I can score the ball,” Morris said. “I just didn’t display it as much this year because we had weapon.

You’ve got two All-Americans and Georges who was nearly an All-American.”

“As of right now, all I can do right now is start working for next year and advance my game,” Morris said. “I have to do to get better. That’s a promise.”

Morris, Hogue, Niang and Thomas each said after the loss they are ready for the off season — to focus on next year.

Returning from the starting lineup are Dustin Hogue, Niang and Morris. Off the bench, Tre Light returns along with Matt Thomas, who will have a full offseason to progress.

The goal is already next year,” Hogue said. “What do I have to do to get better next year? There’s never any time to take time off. The next team is out there working, and the team is only to be as good as the players are.

“As of right now, all I can do right now is start working for next year and advance my game,” Morris said.

The goal is already next year,” Hogue said. “What do I have to do to get better next year? There’s never any time to take time off. The next team is out there working, and the team is only to be as good as the players are.

As of right now, all I can do right now is start working for next year and advance my game,” Morris said.

“Tiffany Herring/Iowa State Daily

In the postseason, Hogue posted career-high numbers. Over the span of time, Hogue averaged 21.2 points per game on 50 percent shooting, 21-of-35 from the field, highlighted by a 26-point outburst on 13-of-19 shooting in a losing fight against the Huskies.

Even with Hogue’s record night in front of his friends and family who traveled from Yonkers, N.Y., in the locker room he was already talking about what he needed to do to improve.

“The goal is already next year,” Hogue said. “What do I have to do to get better next year? There’s never any time to take time off. The next team is out there working, and the team is only to be as good as the players are.

As of right now, all I can do right now is start working for next year and advance my game,” Morris said.

“Tiffany Herring/Iowa State Daily

In the postseason, Hogue posted career-high numbers. Over the span of time, Hogue averaged 21.2 points per game on 50 percent shooting, 21-of-35 from the field, highlighted by a 26-point outburst on 13-of-19 shooting in a losing fight against the Huskies.

Even with Hogue’s record night in front of his friends and family who traveled from Yonkers, N.Y., in the locker room he was already talking about what he needed to do to improve.

“The goal is already next year,” Hogue said. “What do I have to do to get better next year? There’s never any time to take time off. The next team is out there working, and the team is only to be as good as the players are.

As of right now, all I can do right now is start working for next year and advance my game,” Morris said.

“Tiffany Herring/Iowa State Daily

In the postseason, Hogue posted career-high numbers. Over the span of time, Hogue averaged 21.2 points per game on 50 percent shooting, 21-of-35 from the field, highlighted by a 26-point outburst on 13-of-19 shooting in a losing fight against the Huskies.

Even with Hogue’s record night in front of his friends and family who traveled from Yonkers, N.Y., in the locker room he was already talking about what he needed to do to improve.

“The goal is already next year,” Hogue said. “What do I have to do to get better next year? There’s never any time to take time off. The next team is out there working, and the team is only to be as good as the players are.

As of right now, all I can do right now is start working for next year and advance my game,” Morris said.

“Tiffany Herring/Iowa State Daily

In the postseason, Hogue posted career-high numbers. Over the span of time, Hogue averaged 21.2 points per game on 50 percent shooting, 21-of-35 from the field, highlighted by a 26-point outburst on 13-of-19 shooting in a losing fight against the Huskies.

Even with Hogue’s record night in front of his friends and family who traveled from Yonkers, N.Y., in the locker room he was already talking about what he needed to do to improve.

“The goal is already next year,” Hogue said. “What do I have to do to get better next year? There’s never any time to take time off. The next team is out there working, and the team is only to be as good as the players are.

As of right now, all I can do right now is start working for next year and advance my game,” Morris said.

“Tiffany Herring/Iowa State Daily

In the postseason, Hogue posted career-high numbers. Over the span of time, Hogue averaged 21.2 points per game on 50 percent shooting, 21-of-35 from the field, highlighted by a 26-point outburst on 13-of-19 shooting in a losing fight against the Huskies.

Even with Hogue’s record night in front of his friends and family who traveled from Yonkers, N.Y., in the locker room he was already talking about what he needed to do to improve.

“The goal is already next year,” Hogue said. “What do I have to do to get better next year? There’s never any time to take time off. The next team is out there working, and the team is only to be as good as the players are.

As of right now, all I can do right now is start working for next year and advance my game,” Morris said.
Abdel Nader joined McKay as the latest pair to watch home games at Hilton from the stands together. Before those two it was Will Clyburn and Korie Lucious who formed a bond that carried over to next year on the court. Nader and McKay worked in one-on-one sessions before practice and before games at Hilton where Cyclone Alley fans who got there early enough had a chance to watch from the stands. Nader comes from Northern Illinois, which only won five games, but he led them in scoring and rebounding. Nader is expected to slide into the rotation and add more size to the front court.

For the first time since Fred Hoiberg began his tenure as ISU head coach, his starting five won’t feature Melvin Ejim. Hoiberg’s first four-year starter will move on to greener pastures and soon will start preparing for the NBA Draft. ESPN NBA Draft Analyst Chad Ford lists Ejim as his No. 78 prospect. Leaving with the All-American and reigning Big 12 Player of the Year is 17.8 points per game and 8.4 rebounds per game, but Iowa State will miss his leadership and chemistry on both ends even more than his statistics. Hoiberg said several times throughout the year that he and Georges Niang were both crucial on the defensive end because of their communication.

Iowa State’s only commit as of right now of the 2014 class is Clayton Custer out of Overland Park, Kan. Like Matt Thomas and Monte Morris, Custer carries a winning tradition out of Blue Valley Northwest, winning the third straight 6A state title. In his senior season, he averaged 16.9 points, 3.9 rebounds and 4.0 assists and two steals per game and was named the Gatorade Kansas Boys Basketball Player of the Year. Custer passed up offers from fellow Big 12 school of Oklahoma, Oklahoma State and Kansas State. Custer is expected packey for minutes in Iowa State’s young backcourt. It’s worthy testing Iowa State still has two scholarships available for next year.

Melvin Ejim

DeAndre Kane was the latest and possibly most successful in the line of transfers under ISU coach Fred Hoiberg. Kane was a one-year starter averaging nearly 17 points, 1.9 assists and 6.6 rebounds per game all while earning All-American and All-Big 12 First Team. His ability to create mismatches was like that of Niang and the two-man pick and roll game the pair of those ran was a nightmare for teams to defend and ISU fans will never forget him carrying Iowa State to the Sweet 16 through North Carolina. Like his fellow senior, Kane is now preparing for the NBA Draft and SDSU has him as the No. 63 player.

Clayton Custer

For the first time since Fred Hoiberg began his tenure as ISU head coach, his starting five won’t feature Melvin Ejim. Hoiberg’s first four-year starter will move on to greener pastures and soon will start preparing for the NBA Draft. ESPN NBA Draft Analyst Chad Ford lists Ejim as his No. 78 prospect. Leaving with the All-American and reigning Big 12 Player of the Year is 17.8 points per game and 8.4 rebounds per game, but Iowa State will miss his leadership and chemistry on both ends even more than his statistics. Hoiberg said several times throughout the year that he and Georges Niang were both crucial on the defensive end because of their communication.

Iowa State’s only commit as of right now of the 2014 class is Clayton Custer out of Overland Park, Kan. Like Matt Thomas and Monte Morris, Custer carries a winning tradition out of Blue Valley Northwest, winning the third straight 6A state title. In his senior season, he averaged 16.9 points, 3.9 rebounds and 4.0 assists and two steals per game and was named the Gatorade Kansas Boys Basketball Player of the Year. Custer passed up offers from fellow Big 12 school of Oklahoma, Oklahoma State and Kansas State. Custer is expected packey for minutes in Iowa State’s young backcourt. It’s worthy testing Iowa State still has two scholarships available for next year.

Melvin Ejim

DeAndre Kane was the latest and possibly most successful in the line of transfers under ISU coach Fred Hoiberg. Kane was a one-year starter averaging nearly 17 points, 1.9 assists and 6.6 rebounds per game all while earning All-American and All-Big 12 First Team. His ability to create mismatches was like that of Niang and the two-man pick and roll game the pair of those ran was a nightmare for teams to defend and ISU fans will never forget him carrying Iowa State to the Sweet 16 through North Carolina. Like his fellow senior, Kane is now preparing for the NBA Draft and SDSU has him as the No. 63 player.

Clayton Custer

For the first time since Fred Hoiberg began his tenure as ISU head coach, his starting five won’t feature Melvin Ejim. Hoiberg’s first four-year starter will move on to greener pastures and soon will start preparing for the NBA Draft. ESPN NBA Draft Analyst Chad Ford lists Ejim as his No. 78 prospect. Leaving with the All-American and reigning Big 12 Player of the Year is 17.8 points per game and 8.4 rebounds per game, but Iowa State will miss his leadership and chemistry on both ends even more than his statistics. Hoiberg said several times throughout the year that he and Georges Niang were both crucial on the defensive end because of their communication.

Iowa State’s only commit as of right now of the 2014 class is Clayton Custer out of Overland Park, Kan. Like Matt Thomas and Monte Morris, Custer carries a winning tradition out of Blue Valley Northwest, winning the third straight 6A state title. In his senior season, he averaged 16.9 points, 3.9 rebounds and 4.0 assists and two steals per game and was named the Gatorade Kansas Boys Basketball Player of the Year. Custer passed up offers from fellow Big 12 school of Oklahoma, Oklahoma State and Kansas State. Custer is expected packey for minutes in Iowa State’s young backcourt. It’s worthy testing Iowa State still has two scholarships available for next year.

Melvin Ejim

DeAndre Kane was the latest and possibly most successful in the line of transfers under ISU coach Fred Hoiberg. Kane was a one-year starter averaging nearly 17 points, 1.9 assists and 6.6 rebounds per game all while earning All-American and All-Big 12 First Team. His ability to create mismatches was like that of Niang and the two-man pick and roll game the pair of those ran was a nightmare for teams to defend and ISU fans will never forget him carrying Iowa State to the Sweet 16 through North Carolina. Like his fellow senior, Kane is now preparing for the NBA Draft and SDSU has him as the No. 63 player.

Clayton Custer

For the first time since Fred Hoiberg began his tenure as ISU head coach, his starting five won’t feature Melvin Ejim. Hoiberg’s first four-year starter will move on to greener pastures and soon will start preparing for the NBA Draft. ESPN NBA Draft Analyst Chad Ford lists Ejim as his No. 78 prospect. Leaving with the All-American and reigning Big 12 Player of the Year is 17.8 points per game and 8.4 rebounds per game, but Iowa State will miss his leadership and chemistry on both ends even more than his statistics. Hoiberg said several times throughout the year that he and Georges Niang were both crucial on the defensive end because of their communication.

Iowa State’s only commit as of right now of the 2014 class is Clayton Custer out of Overland Park, Kan. Like Matt Thomas and Monte Morris, Custer carries a winning tradition out of Blue Valley Northwest, winning the third straight 6A state title. In his senior season, he averaged 16.9 points, 3.9 rebounds and 4.0 assists and two steals per game and was named the Gatorade Kansas Boys Basketball Player of the Year. Custer passed up offers from fellow Big 12 school of Oklahoma, Oklahoma State and Kansas State. Custer is expected packey for minutes in Iowa State’s young backcourt. It’s worthy testing Iowa State still has two scholarships available for next year.

Melvin Ejim

DeAndre Kane was the latest and possibly most successful in the line of transfers under ISU coach Fred Hoiberg. Kane was a one-year starter averaging nearly 17 points, 1.9 assists and 6.6 rebounds per game all while earning All-American and All-Big 12 First Team. His ability to create mismatches was like that of Niang and the two-man pick and roll game the pair of those ran was a nightmare for teams to defend and ISU fans will never forget him carrying Iowa State to the Sweet 16 through North Carolina. Like his fellow senior, Kane is now preparing for the NBA Draft and SDSU has him as the No. 63 player.

Clayton Custer

For the first time since Fred Hoiberg began his tenure as ISU head coach, his starting five won’t feature Melvin Ejim. Hoiberg’s first four-year starter will move on to greener pastures and soon will start preparing for the NBA Draft. ESPN NBA Draft Analyst Chad Ford lists Ejim as his No. 78 prospect. Leaving with the All-American and reigning Big 12 Player of the Year is 17.8 points per game and 8.4 rebounds per game, but Iowa State will miss his leadership and chemistry on both ends even more than his statistics. Hoiberg said several times throughout the year that he and Georges Niang were both crucial on the defensive end because of their communication.

Iowa State’s only commit as of right now of the 2014 class is Clayton Custer out of Overland Park, Kan. Like Matt Thomas and Monte Morris, Custer carries a winning tradition out of Blue Valley Northwest, winning the third straight 6A state title. In his senior season, he averaged 16.9 points, 3.9 rebounds and 4.0 assists and two steals per game and was named the Gatorade Kansas Boys Basketball Player of the Year. Custer passed up offers from fellow Big 12 school of Oklahoma, Oklahoma State and Kansas State. Custer is expected packey for minutes in Iowa State’s young backcourt. It’s worthy testing Iowa State still has two scholarships available for next year.

Melvin Ejim

DeAndre Kane was the latest and possibly most successful in the line of transfers under ISU coach Fred Hoiberg. Kane was a one-year starter averaging nearly 17 points, 1.9 assists and 6.6 rebounds per game all while earning All-American and All-Big 12 First Team. His ability to create mismatches was like that of Niang and the two-man pick and roll game the pair of those ran was a nightmare for teams to defend and ISU fans will never forget him carrying Iowa State to the Sweet 16 through North Carolina. Like his fellow senior, Kane is now preparing for the NBA Draft and SDSU has him as the No. 63 player.

Clayton Custer
Tribute to ISU legend Johnny Orr

Johnny Orr on Jan. 2 at Hilton Coliseum. Family, friends and fans attended the key win against No. 7 Michigan.

Thrilling Cy-Hawk victory

Fred Hoiberg dancing

Fred Hoiberg turned to assistant coach Matt Alvino after the Cyclones' 77-70 win over Iowa on March 6 at Hilton Coliseum. "He's the original human highlight film," ISU athletic director Jamie Pollard said.

One of the most anticipated Cy-Hawk basketball matchups in series history, Iowa and Iowa State were both ranked in the top 25 for the first time since 1998. The Cyclones won 77-70 on Thursday, March 6, at Hilton Coliseum.

"I think the game lived up to the hype every little bit," ISU guard Naz Long said. "It was a lot of fun playing in that game. The game was so close. I think the reality is here. Both teams are great teams for Iowa and Iowa State. I think both teams were excited for the end of the day, at the end we all think it's a Cyclone game."

Late in the first half, Iowa State guard Abdelmassih, a Brooklyn native, after Iowa State tied the game at 48 and left the court. "I think we all just relished in that moment," Abdelmassih said. "I think it's one of the things that sets this team apart. We know we're good, we still have a lot of room to grow, but we don't want to forget where we've been."