Netten started the season on the second line for Iowa State's defense. He became the starting field goal team in a game tied at 13. He lined up and connected with the crossbar perfectly, as an Iowa State fan, he knew the importance of.

As he kicked it, he didn’t think, just did. He didn’t watch it the entire way, knowing he had just put his team ahead in the closing moments.

"Kicking it was all just a blur," Netten said. "It all just came down to muscle memory. It was some- thing, you just put it." Rhoads said. "I’m not pleased at all. It didn’t work. It's a concern. … He doesn’t leave me a lot of room for concern." He didn’t hit it well.”

He’s nervous in front of the crowd. His leg felt like jelly,” Rhoads said. "He was nervous in front of the crowd. It happens. He didn’t hit it well.”

The second season may have stemmed a little bit from the first one, as Netten has been trying to compensate. He lined up from 41 yards out, heard the whistle blow, and wound up scoring the Cyclones ahead by 1 point. He put the Cyclones ahead by 1 point in the 2013 season.

"The second (season) was fundamentally and tactically,” Rhoads said. “I’m not pleased with the misses but I’m not con- cerned. ... He doesn’t have me a lot of room for concern.”

Netten missed three field goals in the 2013 season, giving 11-4 to 19-15. The Cyclones went on to win the game after his first game. Netten played for a total of 59 seconds in the last back of the second half, kicking one through the uprights. Netten started the season on the second line for Iowa State’s defense. He became the starting field goal team in a game tied at 13. He lined up and connected with the crossbar perfectly, as an Iowa State fan, he knew the importance of.

As he kicked it, he didn’t think, just did. He didn’t watch it the entire way, knowing he had just put his team ahead in the closing moments.

"Kicking it was all just a blur," Netten said. "It all just came down to muscle memory. It was some- thing, you just put it." Rhoads said. "I’m not pleased at all. It didn’t work. It’s a concern. … He doesn’t leave me a lot of room for concern." He didn’t hit it well.”

He’s nervous in front of the crowd. His leg felt like jelly,” Rhoads said. "He was nervous in front of the crowd. It happens. He didn’t hit it well.”

The second season may have stemmed a little bit from the first one, as Netten has been trying to compensate. He lined up from 41 yards out, heard the whistle blow, and wound up scoring the Cyclones ahead by 1 point. He put the Cyclones ahead by 1 point in the 2013 season.

"The second (season) was fundamentally and tactically,” Rhoads said. “I’m not pleased with the misses but I’m not con- cerned. ... He doesn’t have me a lot of room for concern.”

Netten missed three field goals in the 2013 season, giving 11-4 to 19-15. The Cyclones went on to win the game after his first game. Netten played for a total of 59 seconds in the last back of the second half, kicking one through the uprights.
Police Blotter

Tuesday marks a day many have been waiting for: Stephen Colbert’s return to television. During the past few months, the Ed Sullivan Theater has been renovated, and the public has been required to purchase tickets. This week, Colbert will handle the reins of his iconic mohican to star in a late-night broadcast.

An officer investigated a personal injury collision at Broadview Drive and Stanton Road (reported at 5:46 p.m.).

Mark Kelken, 21, of 629 6th Street, Ames, was arrested and charged with public intoxication at Arbor Street and South Sheldon Avenue (reported at 5:46 p.m.).

Gavvon Shafer, 21, of 313 Stanton Avenue, Ames, was arrested and charged with public intoxication, unlawful use of a firearm without a license and interference with official acts Chamberlain Street and Stanton Avenue (reported at 1:42 a.m.).

Joseph Denovey, 20, of 313 Stanton Avenue, Apartment 17, Ames, was arrested and charged with public intoxication and interference with official acts Chamberlain Street and Stanton Avenue (reported at 1:42 a.m.).

Weather

The Cyclones broke the hearts of many when they upset our beloved Northwestern team. Before the act of our photos gallery on our website.

School Board elections arrive

The public will select its representatives for the school board at the upcoming election on Tuesday. Five candidates have run for four open seats on the seven-member board.

All seven seats are at large positions and serve on four-year terms.

Colbert has been off air since his final episode of "The Colbert Report," which aired Dec. 18, 2014. During his time off, Colbert has been preparing for "The Late Show," playing a role on the CBS drama "Person of Interest" and speaking Tuesday on CBS. Colbert is replacing David Letterman as the host of "The Late Show."

The endorsement洛bacc stands at Iowa’s historic decision, announced Mon - day that he is endorsing Democratic presidential candidate Hillary Clinton in the 2016 Iowa Caucus. She has the ideas, the passion, the values that we need in our next president," Loebsack said (the "show must go on") in a press release Tuesday. "In 2008, Loebsack opt ed to endorse then-Hil ler Clinton for the Senate. Barack Obama over Clinton. "To put it simply, she knows how to work with others and get things done. That is why I’m proud to stand with her today and announce my support for Hillary Clinton for president," he said. "The endorsement is a testament to Clinton’s great leadership. Sanders has support from 7 percent of caucus-goers compared to Clinton’s 60 percent, according to the poll."

The endorsement will be Tuesday on CBS. Colbert returns to TV

School Board elections arrive

The public will select its representatives for the school board at the upcoming election on Tuesday. Five candidates have run for four open seats on the seven-member board.

All seven seats are at large positions and serve on four-year terms.

Colbert has been off air since his final episode of "The Colbert Report," which aired Dec. 18, 2014. During his time off, Colbert has been preparing for "The Late Show," playing a role on the CBS drama "Person of Interest" and speaking Tuesday on CBS. Colbert is replacing David Letterman as the host of "The Late Show."

The endorsement洛bacc stands at Iowa’s historic decision, announced Mon - day that he is endorsing Democratic presidential candidate Hillary Clinton in the 2016 Iowa Caucus. She has the ideas, the passion, the values that we need in our next president," Loebsack said (the "show must go on") in a press release Tuesday. "In 2008, Loebsack opt ed to endorse then-Hil ler Clinton for the Senate. Barack Obama over Clinton. "To put it simply, she knows how to work with others and get things done. That is why I’m proud to stand with her today and announce my support for Hillary Clinton for president," he said. "The endorsement is a testament to Clinton’s great leadership. Sanders has support from 7 percent of caucus-goers compared to Clinton’s 60 percent, according to the poll."

The endorsement will be Tuesday on CBS. Colbert returns to TV

School Board elections arrive

The public will select its representatives for the school board at the upcoming election on Tuesday. Five candidates have run for four open seats on the seven-member board.

All seven seats are at large positions and serve on four-year terms.

Colbert has been off air since his final episode of "The Colbert Report," which aired Dec. 18, 2014. During his time off, Colbert has been preparing for "The Late Show," playing a role on the CBS drama "Person of Interest" and speaking Tuesday on CBS. Colbert is replacing David Letterman as the host of "The Late Show."

The endorsement洛bacc stands at Iowa’s historic decision, announced Mon - day that he is endorsing Democratic presidential candidate Hillary Clinton in the 2016 Iowa Caucus. She has the ideas, the passion, the values that we need in our next president," Loebsack said (the "show must go on") in a press release Tuesday. "In 2008, Loebsack opt ed to endorse then-Hil ler Clinton for the Senate. Barack Obama over Clinton. "To put it simply, she knows how to work with others and get things done. That is why I’m proud to stand with her today and announce my support for Hillary Clinton for president," he said. "The endorsement is a testament to Clinton’s great leadership. Sanders has support from 7 percent of caucus-goers compared to Clinton’s 60 percent, according to the poll."

The endorsement will be Tuesday on CBS. Colbert returns to TV

School Board elections arrive

The public will select its representatives for the school board at the upcoming election on Tuesday. Five candidates have run for four open seats on the seven-member board.

All seven seats are at large positions and serve on four-year terms.

Colbert has been off air since his final episode of "The Colbert Report," which aired Dec. 18, 2014. During his time off, Colbert has been preparing for "The Late Show," playing a role on the CBS drama "Person of Interest" and speaking Tuesday on CBS. Colbert is replacing David Letterman as the host of "The Late Show."

The endorsement洛bacc stands at Iowa’s historic decision, announced Mon - day that he is endorsing Democratic presidential candidate Hillary Clinton in the 2016 Iowa Caucus. She has the ideas, the passion, the values that we need in our next president," Loebsack said (the "show must go on") in a press release Tuesday. "In 2008, Loebsack opt ed to endorse then-Hil ler Clinton for the Senate. Barack Obama over Clinton. "To put it simply, she knows how to work with others and get things done. That is why I’m proud to stand with her today and announce my support for Hillary Clinton for president," he said. "The endorsement is a testament to Clinton’s great leadership. Sanders has support from 7 percent of caucus-goers compared to Clinton’s 60 percent, according to the poll."

The endorsement will be Tuesday on CBS. Colbert returns to TV

School Board elections arrive

The public will select its representatives for the school board at the upcoming election on Tuesday. Five candidates have run for four open seats on the seven-member board.

All seven seats are at large positions and serve on four-year terms.

Colbert has been off air since his final episode of "The Colbert Report," which aired Dec. 18, 2014. During his time off, Colbert has been preparing for "The Late Show," playing a role on the CBS drama "Person of Interest" and speaking Tuesday on CBS. Colbert is replacing David Letterman as the host of "The Late Show."

The endorsement洛bacc stands at Iowa’s historic decision, announced Mon - day that he is endorsing Democratic presidential candidate Hillary Clinton in the 2016 Iowa Caucus. She has the ideas, the passion, the values that we need in our next president," Loebsack said (the "show must go on") in a press release Tuesday. "In 2008, Loebsack opt ed to endorse then-Hil ler Clinton for the Senate. Barack Obama over Clinton. "To put it simply, she knows how to work with others and get things done. That is why I’m proud to stand with her today and announce my support for Hillary Clinton for president," he said. "The endorsement is a testament to Clinton’s great leadership. Sanders has support from 7 percent of caucus-goers compared to Clinton’s 60 percent, according to the poll."

The endorsement will be Tuesday on CBS. Colbert returns to TV
When students re- turned to campus for the fall semester, Campustown had a new and improved appearance. The biggest project happening in the area, Campustown’s renovation continues to evolve.

Although the fate of the campus’s student union is still up in the air, the vision for the changes has been years in the making with what is known as the Lane 4 project.

The Lane 4 project involved taking an administrative initiative that appeared in 2003 with then-president Gregory Kingland.

The Campustown area was unattractive for prospective students visiting the ISU campus. Not only did campus tours include a tour of the student union, but the student housing also contributed to a student’s decision in attending Iowa State or a different university.

In 2006, the Ames City Council approved a plan for the Campustown redevelopment as a way to attract a quality student and faculty base. The project included the center of Welch, Lincoln Way and the next south of Campustown on to the parking lot.

Campustown’s appearance increased in 2010, and the extensive renovation taking place in 2013.

The ISU Athletics and Aggie Student Center opened in partnership with Residence Hall Policy Handbook. As we are excited to announce, we have implemented a successful experiment that has received complaints. We are excited to announce that the student union will become the student center.

When students go to school, there were a lot of people standing outside on campus in different spots, said Nicholas Davis, president of the Department of Residence.

“We are expected to do more as an administration,” said Davis.

“I think we should respect student’s space priority best. We do have a lot of people using our facilities to distribute fliers in the dorms, and they are not allowed to do that.”

While the ISUAthletics and Aggie Student Center is able to distribute in the dorms, Davis said he understands the needs and is happy to work with them.

“I think we should respect students’ space priority best. We do have a lot of people using our facilities to distribute fliers in the dorms, and they are not allowed to do that. I think we should respect that. We are expected to do more as an administration,” said Davis.

“If you are not sure about the rules, we have a list of rules on the residence hall website. If you are not sure about the rules, you can check the policy before you print out your fliers.”

Campustown has received complaints. The Department of Residence and Aggie Student Center have received over 100 complaints.

“We are working with the residence hall officers, and public bulletin boards are being regularly cleaned up to prevent from playing music or anything against their policies,” said Madden.

“Today I took a few people around to see the changes we have made to Campustown,” said Madden.

“The biggest change that will make a difference in the area is the new Residences Hall Policy Handbook. As we are excited to announce, we have implemented a successful experiment that has received complaints. We are excited to announce that the student union will become the student center.”

When students go to school, there were a lot of people standing outside on campus in different spots, said Nicholas Davis, president of the Department of Residence.

“We are expected to do more as an administration,” said Davis.

“I think we should respect student’s space priority best. We do have a lot of people using our facilities to distribute fliers in the dorms, and they are not allowed to do that.”

While the ISU Athletics and Aggie Student Center is able to distribute in the dorms, Davis said he understands the needs and is happy to work with them.

“I think we should respect students’ space priority best. We do have a lot of people using our facilities to distribute fliers in the dorms, and they are not allowed to do that. I think we should respect that. We are expected to do more as an administration,” said Davis.

“If you are not sure about the rules, we have a list of rules on the residence hall website. If you are not sure about the rules, you can check the policy before you print out your fliers.”

Campustown has received complaints. The Department of Residence and Aggie Student Center have received over 100 complaints.

“We are working with the residence hall officers, and public bulletin boards are being regularly cleaned up to prevent from playing music or anything against their policies,” said Madden.

“Today I took a few people around to see the changes we have made to Campustown,” said Madden.

“The biggest change that will make a difference in the area is the new Residences Hall Policy Handbook. As we are excited to announce, we have implemented a successful experiment that has received complaints. We are excited to announce that the student union will become the student center.”
Fortune smiles on teamwork and partnership this year. Get involved in an organization that interests you. Your creativity and hard work will be appreciated.

ROC# p1

program has trained in order to pursue a career in the business world. It has been a great opportunity to use your skills and knowledge.

Since the 1970s, MacCrea said, 377 of the college’s 390 ROTC students have graduated and served in the Navy, Marine Corps, Army and Air Force. Including those who have served in the Marine Corps, the college has had representation in all branches of the armed forces.

The goal is to have a clear and consistent understanding of the learning goals and to be able to do the things we do well, that’s really one of the main things.

Netten p1

from 24 yards out. Despite falling back be- cause of a penalty on the play, Netten didn’t mind and even gained a few more yards.

If you have any questions or comments, please feel free to contact me. I would be happy to help in any way I can.

Saturday, Oct. 3, 2015

A head coach who has been around the game for a long time will bring a different perspective. He’s been in the trenches and knows what it takes to win.

Collins p1

The last kick was for the arc of the color guard and a kicker has to be able to make that. The color guard is responsible for setting the tone and the feeling of the game.

The usage of their fund to profit from the ignorance of others. It is a challenge, and it’s something that I think we have to do a better job of.

Rotz p1

and relax with hobbies, sports and travel. Make time for yourself to recharge and revitalize your spirit.

A friend comes up with a new idea and asks if you can help. It’s important to be open to new ideas and to consider different perspectives.

Collins p1

The only part that got me in trouble was when we received the funding money after the event took place.

Harmon said the point of the funding process and how student service is handled.

He wants students to learn that businesses operate differently than what they may be used to, because it may put your professional lives at risk.

Netten p1

With a student as the college’s last head coach, the football team will be focused on improving and getting better.

A search committee with faculty, staff, students, and external stakeholders has the responsibility to fill the position.

The goal is to have a clear understanding of the learning goals and to be able to do the things we do well, that’s really one of the main things.

Collins p1

The last kick was for the arc of the color guard and a kicker has to be able to make that. The color guard is responsible for setting the tone and the feeling of the game.

The usage of their fund to profit from the ignorance of others. It is a challenge, and it’s something that I think we have to do a better job of.

Rotz p1

and relax with hobbies, sports and travel. Make time for yourself to recharge and revitalize your spirit.

A friend comes up with a new idea and asks if you can help. It’s important to be open to new ideas and to consider different perspectives.

Collins p1

The only part that got me in trouble was when we received the funding money after the event took place.

Harmon said the point of the funding process and how student service is handled.

He wants students to learn that businesses operate differently than what they may be used to, because it may put your professional lives at risk.

Netten p1

With a student as the college’s last head coach, the football team will be focused on improving and getting better.

A search committee with faculty, staff, students, and external stakeholders has the responsibility to fill the position.

The goal is to have a clear understanding of the learning goals and to be able to do the things we do well, that’s really one of the main things.
understand why the African Lion know that Cecil was part of an him, meaning Cecil was a pro-said in a public statement.

thing wrong.

clearly aware of this, which is imminent death.

tREATED guides set out to kill a lion
a handful of so-called experiis in the news once again.

and the hunter, Walter Palmer, of a Zimbabwean national park killed Cecil, a beloved lion Palmer claims he did not

“To my knowledge every-

Granted, cures are the through the eyes of the one who but donating something so precious more important aspect in maintaining a people need help, so is

you can give that to someone,

him, his family, and the most beautiful

but donating something so precious

many people need help, so is

you can give that to someone,

him, his family, and the most beautiful

You name it.

many people need help, so is

you can give that to someone,

him, his family, and the most beautiful

You name it.

many people need help, so is

you can give that to someone,

him, his family, and the most beautiful

You name it.

many people need help, so is

you can give that to someone,

him, his family, and the most beautiful

You name it.

many people need help, so is

you can give that to someone,

him, his family, and the most beautiful

You name it.

many people need help, so is

you can give that to someone,

him, his family, and the most beautiful

You name it.
By Ryan Young

Isahakia Benz/Special to the ISU Daily

ISU wide receiver Allen Lazard leaps to make the catch against UNI senior defensive back Deiondre Hall Saturday at Jack Trice Stadium. The Cyclones defeated the Panthers 21-7 and moved to three of four from the Big 12 in the second half.

Aerial attack awes, run game improves

By Ryan Young

@iowastatedaily.com

Isahakia Benz/Special to the ISU Daily

Beadle-Babeau running back Tyler Brown breaks free from a tackle in the first quarter. March, Brown carried the ball 5 times for 46 yards. Saturday against UNI.

Bailey transitions from Comet to Cyclone

By Brian Mozey

Bailey transitions from Comet to Cyclone

By Brian Mozey

@iowastatedaily.com

Three times in basketball and field. Bailey lettered in volleyball, basketball and track in high school, participating in volleyball club starting in her freshman year, her dream. She began playing with the Minnesota State volleyball club my freshman year in high school. She admitted she was happy with Bailey’s potential as a volleyball player. Bailey said. “I played with many great teams and some great coaches and was able to compete at a high level.”

That high-level potential caught Iowa State head volleyball coach Christy Johnson-Lynch’s eye, and that’s when I realized my potential as a volleyball player,” Bailey said. “I started playing volleyball since an early age. The timeline of signing to play at Iowa State and how she relates to the most, but she continues to have great relationships with every player on the team." The 2018 Cyclones have been great this preseason and I know she will be a great player throughout the fall season,” Horner said. “It is great to have these types of players coming into Iowa State because it shows a great future for the program."

As for the season, Bailey said the expectation is to get better every day in practice and to adapt to playing at the collegiate level.

Bailey said the team has the potential to go far in the regular season and in the NCAA Tournament. She said the relationship between quarterback Sam Richardson and running back Allen Lazard is a great one and that the team is performing at a high level. The Cyclones have been great this preseason and Bailey said she’s been able to talk with the veteran players and learn from them during practices and matches.

Hannah Bailey that she should be ready for a kill — a kill that would be the first of many in come in on really their first start.

Right-side hitter Hannah Bailey spikes the ball over the net during the Cardinal and Gold scrimmage match Aug. 22. This is Bailey’s first year competing for the ISU volleyball team.

Iowa State was down two sets to none against Manhattan on Aug. 25 when junior setter Kari Zumach sent a kill to the better Hannah Bailey that she should be ready for a kill — a kill that would be the first of many in come in on really their first start.

Iowa State was down two sets to none against Manhattan on Aug. 25 when junior setter Kari Zumach sent a kill to the better Hannah Bailey that she should be ready for a kill — a kill that would be the first of many in come in on really their first start.

Right-side hitter Hannah Bailey spikes the ball over the net during the Cardinal and Gold scrimmage match Aug. 22. This is Bailey’s first year competing for the ISU volleyball team.
URBN Inc., parent company of fashion-forward brands Urban Outfitters, Anthropologie, Free People, BHLDN and Terrain, is coming to Iowa State in search of summer interns and full-time hires.

College recruitment and talent development specialists Lindsay McNutt and Wesley Barnes will host an information session about opportunities at URBN Inc. at 5:10 p.m. Thursday in LeBaron 1210. In addition to the information session, McNutt and Barnes will also conduct interviews from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Friday in the College of Human Sciences interview rooms.

Students are required to apply online through CyHire or urbn.com. Applicants generally interview at URBN’s corporate headquarters in Philadelphia, Pa., giving ISU students an advantage.

Employment opportunities include a paid summer internship program, a merchant leadership program and a general management training program to accommodate students in all stages of their college careers. The posts on CyHire link directly to the URBN Inc. website, which provides a list of positions.

Requirements include an updated résumé, cover letter, completed application and a creative project specific to the position. For example, a visual display intern for Anthropologie asks for a digital inspiration board that represents the company’s aesthetic.

Ann Thye, apparel, merchandising and design adviser, said in addition to the application, interested students should update their LinkedIn profiles, Pinterest boards and other social media platforms to create a personal brand for recruiters to view. “It’s also a neat idea to have an online portfolio showcasing your projects. “They really want to make sure you get the brand, that you really understand the target customer,” Thye said. “They want to hire that you have it.”

McNutt and Barnes had interviews with URBN Inc. since the first ISU student interested with the company in 2012. Thye has visited the URBN Inc. headquarters several times in an effort to make connections with human resources and advocate for Iowa State. This past summer, URBN had two ISU students, Christina Greiner and Mayim Yael, who worked for Urban Outfitter’s women’s e-commerce styling team.

“They are called the 5 percent,” Thye said. URBN Inc. gave this name to interns because it receives thousands of applications, but only 5 percent land positions. It’s a term of endearment and accomplishment for its interns.

Yael worked at the Urban Outfitter Corporate Campus in the historic Philadelphia Navy Yard. The primary responsibilities included styling photo shoots for the social media and print catalog, gathering inspiration, taking care of models and managing inventory for the department.

Her most memorable experience from the internship was her first off-site editorial shoot in Staten Island, N.Y. She worked alongside Victoria’s Secret model Stella Maxwell, and was later treated to dinner and a hotel in Manhattan. Aside from her dream-like evening in New York City, Yael loved working with her team and being integrated as a member, not just a temporary employee.

“There were many chances to meet higher level management within the company and learn about how they got to where they are now,” Yael said. “I also appreciated how women-driven the leadership was, which showed her what she could achieve in the future. She said one takeaway from her summer internship was to trust your intuition and have the confidence to give your best effort into showing who you are as a person, she left at home with the open-minded culture, laid-back co-workers and ‘bring your dog to work’ days, which made her experience that much more enjoyable and valuable.

“They are big on hiring people who fit in with the company, not your skill set,” Yael said. To learn more about working for one of the five brands under URBN Inc., make sure to attend the information session Thursday night.

Want extra credit? Start by getting a free credit score.

Visit the Student Union—a free online resource from U.S. Bank built to equip you with knowledge to help manage your money, now and in the future. Get a free credit score and use the credit simulator to see how your financial decisions can affect your score.1 You can even get a chance to win a $5,000 scholarship by completing our easy online modules,2 all at usbank.com/studentunion.
The Lipper Award is given to the group with the lowest average decile ranking of three years’ Consistent Return for eligible funds over

HELP WANTED
Ames is hiring. 515-233-5445
Dangerous Curves downtown perfect for college students.
Flexible scheduling, great pay, have a positive body image? Apply online www.randomwoodservice.com 7 days a week. Pay $9-$12 available. Open 7am-7pm trimming. Flexible schedule production, delivery and tree Trims, Volunteers and general office help wanted. Firewood Climbers needed assistant Chilicots needs assistant teacher to work with children 6 weeks - 11 years old. Eligibility for college Childcare needs assistant

OUR FUNDS HAVE A RECORD LIKE A BROKEN RECORD.

TIAA-CREF: Lipper’s Best Overall Large Fund Company three years in a row. For the first time ever. How? Our disciplined investment strategy aims to provide competitive risk-adjusted returns that create long-term value for you. Just what you’d expect from a company that’s created to serve and built to perform.

Learn more about our unprecedented, award-winning performance at TIAA.org/Perform

TIAA-CREF