Fair career creates connections

Students meet with potential employers

For many at the College of Engineering career fair, the role of the recruiter and the student were reversed. Hundreds of employers came to find suitable employees and hundreds of students came to find suitable employers. Two days a year, recruiters from major companies visit ISU looking for students to hire. Currently, there are almost 250 registered members. Skydiving Club members typically make at least one skydive a year, or a season of skydive months. There are ten clubs and teams at the club and members said the benefits are tremendous.

This Valentine’s Day, give your loved one a special gift that will last for years. Ames offers a wide variety of local options to find that perfect piece of bling.

Gifts for women include necklaces, rings and earrings, while men’s gifts include watches, cuff links and money clips. With all of the different options, keep these tips in mind while shopping for that special someone.

Jewelry doesn’t have to break the bank

Whether you’re looking to splurge or save, there are plenty of options that will satisfy your needs. Many jewelry stores have a wide range of products and prices to choose from, and they can help pinpoint exactly what will work with your budget and plans.

“A quality piece doesn’t have to be big or expensive,” said Mike Gilger of Gilger Designs in Ames.

Some stores even offer special discounts to help save even more. Riddle’s Jewelry General Manager Ryan McConnell explained that Riddle’s offers a 5 percent discount to ISU students, along with special sales throughout the Valentine’s Day season.

Consider unique pieces

A few jewelry stores in Ames offer custom pieces that will be sure to stand out. Gary Youngberg of Ames Silversmithing explained that they have a lot of custom pieces, with thousands of stones to choose from.

Gilger explained that some of their best-selling items for Valentine’s Day are their custom pieces, which include their I-State and Campanile symbols that can be used for pendants, cuff links, pins and more.

Get the facts

When making your purchase, don’t hesitate to ask questions about the piece you are buying. “Shop for quality that’s worth it,” Gilger said. Knowing the components and origin of the jewelry can help you decide which one has the quality you’re looking for.

Feel safe in your selection

Many people are hesitant to make a jewelry purchase without knowing an exact size or what gemstone their loved one would want. Don’t let that hold you back — check with stores to see what their policy is on exchanges and warranties. “If you find out you have the wrong size, bring the gift back and we’ll re-size it for you,” McConnell said.

“Seek free warranties and have an on-line policy in case it goes wrong within one or two days,” McConnell said.

Color-changing Bouquet

What you’ll need:
- Baking soda, water, white watercolor paper, a paintbrush, scissors, and green pipe cleaner

1. Fold two pieces of white watercolor paper like an accordion.
2. Mix equal parts water and baking soda.
3. Using the paintbrush, paint your sheets of watercolor paper separately with the mixture as desired. (Note: painted parts will show up blue, others will be purple from the grape juice.)
4. Rejoin the two pieces of watercolor paper and wrap the green pipe cleaner around the middle. Depending on the weight of the paper, you may need to use more than one pipe cleaner.
5. Cut on the folds of the paper. You can also cut a design at the end of “petals” to create a different look.
6. Fold and scrunch the “petals” until they look like a flower.
7. Create extra flowers for the bouquet repeating the steps above.
8. Present the bouquet to your valentine and spray it with the grape juice to reveal colorful blue and purple flowers.

Craft your own Valentine’s flower basket

By Hanna Johansen
Daily staff writer

This basket is the perfect gift to give to loved ones this Valentine’s Day without breaking the bank.

Supplies needed:
- Small or medium-sized basket
- Floral foam
- Greenery, such as Israeli Ruscus
- Various flowers, such as roses, carnations, daisies, etc.
- Filler flowers, such as baby’s breath
- Ribbon

Step 1:
Cut the floral foam to fill your basket. Soak the foam with water.

Step 2:
Begin placing greenery in the foam, imagining a triangle shape while extending greenery past the edge of the basket.

Step 3:
While still envisioning a triangle shape, begin cutting flowers to size and placing in foam. Cut stems at an angle to increase surface area.

Step 4:
Begin filling in the “triangle” with other flowers. Leave flowers you want to emphasize slightly taller to draw attention.

Step 5:
Add filler flowers to make the arrangement appear fuller.

Step 6:
Add flowers and filler to the backside of the basket to increase the dimension of the arrangement.

Step 7:
To make a bow, begin looping the desired ribbon, pinching it at the middle.

Step 8:
Continue adding loops until your bow reaches the desired width/thickness.

Step 9:
Attach your bow by simply tying it to a piece of ribbon placed around the handle of your basket.

Happy Valentine’s Day!
Follow these hints for healthier sweets

By Stephanie Rupp

Valentine’s Day is all about love and delicious treats. From cupcakes and cookies to brownies and candy, this day is truly sweet. Here are some tips for treats that are still sweet and healthier for your heart.

Drinks

Choose beer over wine

By Steven Briley

Valentine’s Day is fast approaching, and it is socially acceptable to drink beer. Everything from cupcakes and cookies to brownies and Valentine’s candy such as the “Be Mine” gift set comes with twelve different microbrews, assorted confections, chocolates, potatoes, nuts and a personalized gift message. Finalists for those who prefer drinking with their Valentine’s Day dinner are a perfect fit for the Valentine’s Day dinner. You won’t find many restaurants that serve beer on Valentine’s Day, so feel free to create your own. A few of our favorites are below.

The Grey Star is the story of Cormac Lynch (Ryan Gosling) and his wife, who must convince her to fall in love with him all over again. This is a unique film that uses magic. Instead of blood and gore, the supposed decent flick that is supposed to be reminiscent of “The Woman in Black.”

Daniel Radcliffe stars as a lawyer handling the haunted estate of a deceased woman in “The Woman in Black.”

4. “Star Wars: Episode I — The Phantom Menace” (in 3-D)

I initially intended to add this to the list as a joke, but I’ve kind of fallen in love (no pun intended) with an exciting new series. Plus, it’s filled with super-powered teenage angst, and who doesn’t want to watch that?

Make a delicious frosting using Greek yogurt. From cupcakes and cookies to brownies and other desserts, this is a healthy way to treat your sweet tooth.

Dark chocolate contains flavonoids that promote heart health. And that’s always a sweet gift from nature. A strawberry even looks like a heart.

Add a twist and pour on a cocktail or two to a box of fettuccine mac and cheese! These treats are all about balance and healthier for your heart.

DIY
Handmade crafts offer cute alternative gifts
With Valentine’s Day right around the corner, it’s time to show your Cupid spirit and sport some red and pink attire. These two crafts can help make your day a little more filled with love.

Valentine’s Day Button Ring and Box

Step 1
This easy DIY project makes for the perfect Valentine’s Day gift.

Materials:
- Plain ring, $1.47 at Hobby Lobby
- Heart buttons, $1.99 for an eight-pack at Hobby Lobby
- Small heart-shaped box, $0.99 at Hobby Lobby
- Tulle, $2.30 at Hobby Lobby

Step 2
Pick out a button to put on the ring. A candy sweetheart or anything that is flat on the back also will work.

Step 3
With a hot glue gun, attach the button to the ring.

Next, create the box:

Step 1
Paint the box with red or pink acrylic paint.

Step 2
Embellish the box with anything — use buttons, rhinestones or glitter. Scrunch up tulle ($2.99 at Hobby Lobby) into the bottom of your ring inside.

Heart-shaped Garland

Step 1
Cut out one inch strips of different colored scrapbook paper.

Step 2
Take a strip and start folding the ends into triangles. Leave some extra at the end.

Step 3
Tuck the extra paper into the flap. Fold down all the edges so it looks like a perfect triangle.

Step 4
Push the long side of the triangle into the middle.

Step 5
Cut the ends of the heart to make them rounded.

Step 6
With a hot glue gun attach ribbon to the back of the hearts. Hang from your windows or string across the wall.

Valentine’s Day Button Ring and Box

Materials:
- Valentine scrapbook paper, $1.58 at Hobby Lobby
- Heart, $1.58 at Hobby Lobby
- Mod Podge
- Rhinestones

Step 2
Take a strip and start folding the ends into triangles. Leave some extra at the end.

Step 3

Fundamentalists vying to use Bible to write our laws

By Jacob Witte

The First Amendment to the Constitution guarantees our freedom of religion — the right to worship as we wish or not to worship at all. Most of the time, this right goes unchallenged. However, the First Amendment does not guarantee our freedom of unbelief or our freedom of agnosticism. This is becoming an issue in the modern world, especially when it comes to teaching creationism (or "intelligent design," if you will) in public schools. Many school boards and religious leaders of different stripes want to bring the Bible into our schools and public education system. This is not a new phenomenon; what is new is the level of activism. The courts have ruled that creationism can be taught alongside evolution in public schools, but they also ruled that "creation science" cannot be taught as an alternative to evolution. The courts' ruling was seen as a victory for the evolutionists, but the fundamentalists are not ready to give up. They have vowed to continue the fight and have vowed to keep fighting until they win. The creationist movement is becoming more organized and more active, and they are not afraid to use the legal system to achieve their goals. The creationists are not content with just teaching creationism in public schools; they want to use the Bible as a basis for all of society, from politics to education to law. They believe that the Bible is the word of God and that it contains the truth about the world and humanity. They believe that the Bible is a source of knowledge and guidance for people of all faiths. They believe that the Bible is a source of inspiration and motivation for people to live their lives according to God's will. They believe that the Bible is a source of wisdom and insight for people to make decisions and solve problems. They believe that the Bible is a source of hope and comfort for people who are struggling with life's challenges. C hristians have a long history of fighting for their beliefs. They have fought for their beliefs in many different ways, from political to social to cultural. Share some Valentine’s Day love with treats

By Devon O’Brien
AmesEats Flavors Writer

What better way to share the love with your valentine than with a tasty treat? Dress up your Valentine’s Day food gifts with these ideas that are quick and easy.

1. Preheat the oven for 350 degrees Fahrenheit.
2. Mix all ingredients until fully incorporated.
3. Pour into greased cupcake tins, about 3/4 full.
4. Bake for about 30 minutes. Let cool.
5. Top with your favorite frosting.

Oatmeal chocolate chip cookies

Recipe by Caitlyn Diimig

Need a good recipe to fill up your Made-with-Love cookie jar? Here’s a great variation of chocolate chip cookies that you can easily whip up and place in your jar.

1. Preheat an oven to 375 degrees Fahrenheit.

   1 1/2 cups all-purpose flour
   2 cups regular oatmeal
   1 teaspoon baking soda
   1 teaspoon salt
   1 cup butter or shortening, softened
   3/4 cup granulated sugar
   3/4 cup packed brown sugar
   2 teaspoons vanilla extract
   2 large eggs

2. In a bowl, cream together the sugars and butter.
3. In another bowl, mix the eggs and vanilla together, then add the creamed sugar and butter.
4. Gradually beat in the rest of the dry ingredients.
5. Using a spoon, drop a spoonful of the batter onto a greased baking sheet.
6. Bake in the oven for 10 to 12 minutes or until golden brown.

Red velvet brownie cupcakes

1 package of red velvet cake mix
3/4 cup butter, melted
3/4 cup water
1 egg

1. Preheat the oven for 350 degrees Fahrenheit.
2. Mix all ingredients until fully incorporated.
3. Pour into greased cupcake tins, about 3/4 full.
4. Bake for about 30 minutes. Let cool.
5. Top with your favorite frosting.

Sweetheart candy bag

1 rubber stamp
1 ink pad
2 pieces of decorative paper
1 piece of yarn
1 cellophane bag filled with candy

1. Use the stamp and stamp it onto one of the pieces of decorative paper.
2. Cut a circle around the stamp and tape it to the other piece of paper.
3. Using the yarn, tie a bow around the neck of the jar, then deliver it to your special someone.

Made-with-Love cookie jar

1 glass jar filled with treats
1 piece of decorative paper
1 piece of yarn

1. Using the lid to your jar, trace a circle onto the piece of paper.
2. Inside the circle write your valentine a message (we chose “Made with Love”).
3. Cut the circle out and tape it to the top of the lid. Secure the lid back on the jar.
4. Using the yarn, tie a bow around the neck of the jar, then deliver it to your special someone.
