ISU department comments on violations

Athletics enters into NCAA disposition

By Alex Haistad
@iowastatedaily.com

After announcing Tuesday that the ISU athletic department has ened into a summary disposition with the NCAA as a result of impossible phone calls and text messages sent from 2008 to 2012, the deartment faces additional consequences Thursday to attempt to clarify the timeline.

The department said ISU President Stevens notified the Iowa Board of Regents of the possible violations on Tuesday. The timeline, which runs from June 30, 2011, was just days after he was hired president.

The release also said the athletic department formally signed off on the final NCAA report and legally binds the institution and its staff “by a local media outlet.”

While the release did not name any of these violations, it failed on the heads of coverage and an official by the Des Moines Register on Thursday.

“It was right to make public the fact of the infractions in advance of NCAA action, but the public should have been given the whole story,” the editorial said. “Important pieces are missing.”

The editorial went on to view.

Board of Regents

Committee chosen to increase Iowa trust

By Daniella Ferguson
@iowastatedaily.com

The Board of Regents recently selected the members of the Transparency Task Force, a committee devoted to informing the community about trust amongst various entities.

At its March 13 meeting, the Board of Regents approved nine qualified candidates for the transparency task force.

The committee will be tasked with developing a strategy to create transparency within the board. It’s purpose is to focus on running the college of business.

Board of Regents members open a meeting in the Memorial Union. The Iowa Board of Regents recently selected a Transparency Task Force to increase trust.

Dean

Candidate speaks at open forum

By Zoe Woods
@iowastatedaily.com

Dr. Chris Leach visited the university on Thursday to speak in an open forum to answer student questions and the roles in the department in the college of business.

He talked about his philosophy on running the college of business and why he would be well-suited for the job.

The purpose of the open forum was to hear from the community and inform the Iowa Board of Regents on Thursday to speak in an open forum to answer student questions and the vision for the college.

Polite Jansen, candidate for the dean's position in the college of business, attended the forum to hear from the community and inform the Iowa Board of Regents on Thursday to speak in an open forum to answer student questions and the vision for the college.

POLAR BEAR UNJCE

Polar bear jumps into Lake Laverne for Polar Bear Plunge at Iowa State, Feb. 22, 2013.

Ames community greens now have separate events

By Miranda Freeman
@iowastatedaily.com

In the past, the Polar Bear Plunge at Iowa State has always been for Greek students.

Now, however, this year it is open to the entire Ames community after becoming partners with the Special Olympics.

Plunge participants run or walk into Lake Laverne while a team of divers assist them.

Each person has to reach 54 degrees north for a team of divers to assist them.

Cory Weaver, senior in journalism and mass communication, was involved with the Special Olympics and helped coordinate the event.

Weaver brought up the idea of a Polar Bear Plunge to help raise money for Special Olympics.

Weaver said, “It was right to make public the fact of the infractions in advance of NCAA action, but the public should have been given the whole story.”

The editorial went on to view.

Greek Week

Ames community prepared for Greek Week

“Important pieces are missing.”

The department felt the need to clarify its original statement Thursday following what it called “sensationalized allegations about violations” Thursday to attempt to clarify the timeline.

The release also said the athletic department formally signed off on the final NCAA report and legally binds the institution and its staff “by a local media outlet.”

Weaver brought up the idea of a Polar Bear Plunge to help raise money for Special Olympics.

However, this year it is open to the entire Ames community after becoming partners with the Special Olympics.

Plunge participants run or walk into Lake Laverne while a team of divers assist them.

Each person has to reach 54 degrees north for a team of divers to assist them.

Cory Weaver, senior in journalism and mass communication, was involved with the Special Olympics and helped coordinate the event.

Weaver brought up the idea of a Polar Bear Plunge to help raise money for Special Olympics.

Weaver said, “It was right to make public the fact of the infractions in advance of NCAA action, but the public should have been given the whole story.”

The editorial went on to view.
Traffic - Please be patient as we work to clear the roads.

A. The Iowa State University Bookstore will be open from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

B. The Library will be open from 8:30 a.m. to 6:30 p.m.

C. The Science Library will be open from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

D. The Engineering Library will be open from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

E. The Music Library will be open from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

F. The Business Library will be open from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

G. The Law Library will be open from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

H. The Medical Library will be open from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

I. The Social Science Library will be open from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

J. The Information Technology Library will be open from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

K. The University Library will be open from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

L. The International Library will be open from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

M. The Learning Resource Center will be open from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

N. The Writing Center will be open from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

O. The Research Center will be open from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

P. The Library Services Center will be open from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

Q. The Library Technical Services will be open from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

R. The Library Administration will be open from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

S. The Library IT Support will be open from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

T. The Library User Services will be open from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

U. The Library Outreach will be open from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

V. The Library Development will be open from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

W. The Library Operations will be open from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

X. The Library Facilities will be open from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

Y. The Library Administration Office will be open from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

Z. The Library Finance will be open from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

Please note that these hours may vary depending on the day of the week and the specific location. For more information, please visit the Iowa State University Bookstore website at bookstore.iastate.edu.
Throughout his speech, he discussed some of his research and the different things that would be useful as well as the future of the college of business and even the university as a whole. He went on to say that the Force is done. The Force will be available on the president’s website as soon as it has received the final transcript.

COMMITTEE

Chairperson:

Jack Lashier, Director of the Iowa Hall of Pride

Members:

- Dr. John Johnson, University of Northern Iowa
- J. Chris Leach, current senior associate dean of the college of business
- Dr. John K. Kanipe, College of Business
- Dr. Bill Haley, College of Business
- Dr. Paul Deboer, College of Business
- Regent Nicole Carroll, chairwoman
- Regent Bruce Rastetter, chair, University of Iowa
- Regent Rob Blum, chair, University of Iowa
- Regent Bruce Rastetter, chair, University of Iowa
- Regent Rob Blum, chair, University of Iowa

Fast facts

- The Polar Plunge is helping out 11,000 Special Olympics athletes.
- The Polar Plunge purpose

Lashier’s credentials

J. Chris Leach, current senior associate dean of the college of business at the University of Iowa

Professional

- Professor of finance

Background

- Speech: from the University of New Mexico
- Master’s degree in management—rehabilitation counseling from Cornell University
- Doctorate in finance from Cornell University

Steve Leach speaks on open forum

Leach said he is interested in what would be the college of business if the dean were hired. He said he would look to the people of Iowa to see what the university can do better.

Katelynn McCollough | Editor:

Katelynn McCollough | Editor:

The college of business and its dean are very important to Iowans.

Randy Evans, editorial page editor:

He said that the ability to interact with each other is a very important part of the community a chance to come and meet every body at the university.

Katelynn McCollough | Editor:

Katelynn McCollough | Editor:

The college of business and its dean are very important to Iowans.

Randy Evans, editorial page editor:

He said that the ability to interact with each other is a very important part of the community a chance to come and meet every body at the university.

Katelynn McCollough | Editor:

Katelynn McCollough | Editor:

The college of business and its dean are very important to Iowans.

Randy Evans, editorial page editor:

He said that the ability to interact with each other is a very important part of the community a chance to come and meet every body at the university.

Katelynn McCollough | Editor:

Katelynn McCollough | Editor:

The college of business and its dean are very important to Iowans.

Randy Evans, editorial page editor:

He said that the ability to interact with each other is a very important part of the community a chance to come and meet every body at the university.

Katelynn McCollough | Editor:

Katelynn McCollough | Editor:

The college of business and its dean are very important to Iowans.

Randy Evans, editorial page editor:

He said that the ability to interact with each other is a very important part of the community a chance to come and meet every body at the university.
The Iowa State Board of Regents, which governs Iowa’s public universities, has an interest in having its students graduate on time and on budget. If it isn’t a hurricane with their masts fully sturdily that they can sail through the perception of a problem — change forces. When there is a problem — or young daughter fell to her death out advocacy is the fact that the couple’s legislature to require new multi-family condominiums for the couple has been lobbying the state leg- stimulus through deficit spending. experiences a downturn, many people organizations that need it to operate only a short period of time, after which they may soon become more trans- concerns an agency that has maintained hands or grown too big or is less necessary to develop land in Tanzania, concerns that a part of political renewal. As distinct from merely what is a quick, "easy A." based on merely what is a quick, their classes in subjects like these focused on simply getting their de- does not only harm the student;...
Jeff Rutter is headed south of basketball operations.

The Cyclones will begin their season's on ISU coach Fred Hoiberg's staff as the director of basketball operations.

The move sends Rutter back to his alma mater, Northern Iowa with seven seasons from Stillwater, Okla., the school record for lowest average round, making him one of the best golfers in the school's history.

The award is the first for ISU woman's golf since 2011.

The ISU gymnastics team is more confident than ever heading into the Big 12 series of the season, as everyone's been talking about it.

The move sends Rutter back to his alma mater, Northern Iowa with seven seasons from Stillwater, Okla., the school record for lowest average round, making him one of the best golfers in the school's history.

The award is the first for ISU woman's golf since 2011.

The ISU gymnastics team is more confident than ever heading into the Big 12 series of the season, as everyone's been talking about it.

The move sends Rutter back to his alma mater, Northern Iowa with seven seasons from Stillwater, Okla., the school record for lowest average round, making him one of the best golfers in the school's history.

The award is the first for ISU woman's golf since 2011.

The ISU gymnastics team is more confident than ever heading into the Big 12 series of the season, as everyone's been talking about it.

The move sends Rutter back to his alma mater, Northern Iowa with seven seasons from Stillwater, Okla., the school record for lowest average round, making him one of the best golfers in the school's history.

The award is the first for ISU woman's golf since 2011.

The ISU gymnastics team is more confident than ever heading into the Big 12 series of the season, as everyone's been talking about it.

The move sends Rutter back to his alma mater, Northern Iowa with seven seasons from Stillwater, Okla., the school record for lowest average round, making him one of the best golfers in the school's history.

The award is the first for ISU woman's golf since 2011.

The ISU gymnastics team is more confident than ever heading into the Big 12 series of the season, as everyone's been talking about it.
JACKSON CLEANING SERVICE

Therapeutic Massage

Therapist: Mary Dengler, RMT

New clients always welcome.

• Deep Cleaning
• Windows
• Electric, Air & Heat

Massages: Full body or specific area
• Deep tissue
• Swedish massage
• Chronic problems
• Energy work
• Full body or specific area

Point. Click. Buy. Sell.

For more information, call 208 5th Street

By Appt Only
IA Lic # 00477

296-2906

www.iowastatedaily.com
Fun Facts

During the 2002 Iraqi election, Saddam Hussein’s campaign song was Whitney Houston’s “I Will Always Love You.”

The 20th century award for Best Center of Gravity definitely belongs to Hollywood stuntman Alvin Kelly. In 1924, Kelly sat atop a flagpole for 51 minutes and 23 seconds.

Rice-a-Roni (“The San Francisco Treat”) was based on an Armenian brand name Body On Tap.

A shampoo containing real beer was marketed in the 1970s under the brand name Body On Tap.

In-between, we’ve got your nuptial needs covered. From rehearsals to receptions, and everything in-between, we’ve got your nuptial needs covered.

Fun Facts

ARE YOU READY FOR VEISHEA?

Pick up our special VEISHEA Edition and get in the know! The VEISHEA Edition is your guide to what’s happening. It hits the stands on Monday, April 15th!

ARE YOU READY FOR VEISHEA?

Fun & Games

Unplug, decompress and relax ...

Fun Facts

During the 2002 Iraqi election, Saddam Hussein’s campaign song was Whitney Houston’s “I Will Always Love You.”

The 20th century award for Best Center of Gravity definitely belongs to Hollywood stuntman Alvin Kelly. In 1924, Kelly sat atop a flagpole for 51 minutes and 23 seconds.

Rice-a-Roni (“The San Francisco Treat”) was based on an Armenian brand name Body On Tap.

A shampoo containing real beer was marketed in the 1970s under the brand name Body On Tap.

In-between, we’ve got your nuptial needs covered. From rehearsals to receptions, and everything in-between, we’ve got your nuptial needs covered.

Fun Facts

During the 2002 Iraqi election, Saddam Hussein’s campaign song was Whitney Houston’s “I Will Always Love You.”

The 20th century award for Best Center of Gravity definitely belongs to Hollywood stuntman Alvin Kelly. In 1924, Kelly sat atop a flagpole for 51 minutes and 23 seconds.

Rice-a-Roni (“The San Francisco Treat”) was based on an Armenian brand name Body On Tap.

A shampoo containing real beer was marketed in the 1970s under the brand name Body On Tap.

In-between, we’ve got your nuptial needs covered. From rehearsals to receptions, and everything in-between, we’ve got your nuptial needs covered.
Cyclones not anticipating anything new this weekend

By Becca Perkins
beccap@iowastatedaily.com

The Cyclones don’t expect to see anything new against Drake this weekend.

The Iowa State tennis team (10-5, 0-4 Big 12) will take on both No. 34 Oklahoma (20-2, 3-0) and No. 31 Oklahoma State (20-3, 2-3) this weekend.

“We’re in a tough situation because we play such a tough schedule. So, it’s hard for the kids to see what they are doing right when they aren’t getting the results,” said ISU tennis head coach Aaronson Espinosa. “If you start questioning what you’re doing, you’re going to do something wrong.

The Cyclones have gone up against five ranked opponents so far this season. They have opposed against top 50 ranked opponents, they have yet to register a team victory.

“We just need to believe,” Cassens said. “I think with higher-ranked teams, we kind of go away from what makes us a good team and give the other person earn the point, not just give it away. We’re not hurting ourselves. We have to make attitude in his players.

Constantly being the underdogs has made Espinosa instill a stronger mentality and attitude in his players.

“We’re trying to play smarter and make sure we’re not hurting ourselves. We have to make sure we do our job,” Espinosa said. “They already know that they are higher-ranked and having a better record, but we can’t just give them the victory. You just have to keep working and play your best.

Both matches will be played in the Pollac Tennis Center this weekend.

The match against Oklahoma begins at 3 p.m. Friday, and the match against Oklahoma State will start at 11 a.m. Saturday.

Tennis opponents become the norm for ISU

Last year, sophomore Meghan Ceresa was the only current ISU player to register a victory against an Oklahoma State player as we routed a 5-0 against the Cowboys.

“We have been playing well and figuring out our weaknesses,” Ceresa said. “We had close matches with them last year, but this year, we’re not giving up the same skill this year. So, I think we have a real shot.

Of the five times the Cyclones have faced ranked opponents, they have yet to capture a team victory.

“We just need to believe,” Cassens said. “We have higher-ranked teams, we know the girls can do it, and we don’t have the ability to do as well as we actually can.”

Currently ranked in the top 50, the Cyclones have an opportunity to move up against teams currently ranked in the top 50.

“We’re in a tough situation because we play such a tough schedule. So, it’s hard for the kids to see what they are doing right when they aren’t getting the results,” said ISU tennis head coach Aaronson Espinosa. “If you start questioning what you’re doing, you’re going to do something wrong.

The team has taken on Kent State in its regional yet this season, senior Michelle Shealy.

To prepare his team for the crowds and the pressure that come with the NCAA Championship, which will probably be the second-biggest sporting event in Iowa State history, Espinosa instilled a stronger mentality and attitude in his players.

“Being in a regional, we don’t have any history, so this is an opportunity for us to see what we can do,” Espinosa said. “This is going to be great for our preparation for the major tournaments we will be facing.

But California and St. Louis aren’t the only teams that represent a challenge to Iowa State in the hot desert of Arizona.

Nine of the 17 opposing teams rank higher than No. 4 California in Golfweek’s team rankings.

Of those teams, four rank in the top 50: No. 1 California, No. 3 New Mexico, No. 23 UNLV and No. 44 Arizona State.

With good teams come good play, and that will be the case for Iowa State.

The Cyclones have an opportunity to move up and then go to another event and really look forward to this opportunity. It’s just another thing to see if we can or can’t do it. We have to focus on some close calls we saw in the regionals.

Matching up against some of the biggest collegiate tennis players isn’t the norm for Espinosa.

“I like my game right now,” Espinosa said. “I’ve been working on the right things and I’m confident. We’re taking the good things and we’re really looking forward to this opportunity. It’s just another thing to see if we can or can’t do it. We have to focus on some close calls we saw in the regionals. I would say we’ve made progress.”

The Thunderbird Invitational will start Friday, followed by the second and third rounds to be played on Friday and Saturday.

The first round of the ASU Thunderbird Invitational will start Friday, followed by the second and third rounds to be played on Friday and Saturday.

Tennis opponents become the norm for ISU

Last year, sophomore Meghan Ceresa was the only current ISU player to register a victory against an Oklahoma State player as we routed a 5-0 against the Cowboys.

“We have been playing well and figuring out our weaknesses,” Ceresa said. “We had close matches with them last year, but this year, we’re not giving up the same skill this year. So, I think we have a real shot.

Of the five times the Cyclones have faced ranked opponents, they have yet to capture a team victory.

“We just need to believe,” Cassens said. “We have higher-ranked teams, we know the girls can do it, and we don’t have the ability to do as well as we actually can.”

Currently ranked in the top 50, the Cyclones have an opportunity to move up against teams currently ranked in the top 50.

“We’re in a tough situation because we play such a tough schedule. So, it’s hard for the kids to see what they are doing right when they aren’t getting the results,” said ISU tennis head coach Aaronson Espinosa. “If you start questioning what you’re doing, you’re going to do something wrong.

The team has taken on Kent State in its regional yet this season, senior Michelle Shealy.

To prepare his team for the crowds and the pressure that come with the NCAA Championship, which will probably be the second-biggest sporting event in Iowa State history, Espinosa instilled a stronger mentality and attitude in his players.

“Being in a regional, we don’t have any history, so this is an opportunity for us to see what we can do,” Espinosa said. “This is going to be great for our preparation for the major tournaments we will be facing.

But California and St. Louis aren’t the only teams that represent a challenge to Iowa State in the hot desert of Arizona.

Nine of the 17 opposing teams rank higher than No. 4 California in Golfweek’s team rankings.

Of those teams, four rank in the top 50: No. 1 California, No. 3 New Mexico, No. 23 UNLV and No. 44 Arizona State.

With good teams come good play, and that will be the case for Iowa State.

The Cyclones have an opportunity to move up and then go to another event and really look forward to this opportunity. It’s just another thing to see if we can or can’t do it. We have to focus on some close calls we saw in the regionals.

Matching up against some of the biggest collegiate tennis players isn’t the norm for Espinosa.

“I like my game right now,” Espinosa said. “I’ve been working on the right things and I’m confident. We’re taking the good things and we’re really looking forward to this opportunity. It’s just another thing to see if we can or can’t do it. We have to focus on some close calls we saw in the regionals. I would say we’ve made progress.”

The Thunderbird Invitational will start Friday, followed by the second and third rounds to be played on Friday and Saturday.

The first round of the ASU Thunderbird Invitational will start Friday, followed by the second and third rounds to be played on Friday and Saturday.

Tennis opponents become the norm for ISU

Last year, sophomore Meghan Ceresa was the only current ISU player to register a victory against an Oklahoma State player as we routed a 5-0 against the Cowboys.

“We have been playing well and figuring out our weaknesses,” Ceresa said. “We had close matches with them last year, but this year, we’re not giving up the same skill this year. So, I think we have a real shot.

Of the five times the Cyclones have faced ranked opponents, they have yet to capture a team victory.

“We just need to believe,” Cassens said. “We have higher-ranked teams, we know the girls can do it, and we don’t have the ability to do as well as we actually can.”

Currently ranked in the top 50, the Cyclones have an opportunity to move up against teams currently ranked in the top 50.

“We’re in a tough situation because we play such a tough schedule. So, it’s hard for the kids to see what they are doing right when they aren’t getting the results,” said ISU tennis head coach Aaronson Espinosa. “If you start questioning what you’re doing, you’re going to do something wrong.

The team has taken on Kent State in its regional yet this season, senior Michelle Shealy.

To prepare his team for the crowds and the pressure that come with the NCAA Championship, which will probably be the second-biggest sporting event in Iowa State history, Espinosa instilled a stronger mentality and attitude in his players.

“Being in a regional, we don’t have any history, so this is an opportunity for us to see what we can do,” Espinosa said. “This is going to be great for our preparation for the major tournaments we will be facing.

But California and St. Louis aren’t the only teams that represent a challenge to Iowa State in the hot desert of Arizona.

Nine of the 17 opposing teams rank higher than No. 4 California in Golfweek’s team rankings.

Of those teams, four rank in the top 50: No. 1 California, No. 3 New Mexico, No. 23 UNLV and No. 44 Arizona State.

With good teams come good play, and that will be the case for Iowa State.

The Cyclones have an opportunity to move up and then go to another event and really look forward to this opportunity. It’s just another thing to see if we can or can’t do it. We have to focus on some close calls we saw in the regionals.

Matching up against some of the biggest collegiate tennis players isn’t the norm for Espinosa.

“I like my game right now,” Espinosa said. “I’ve been working on the right things and I’m confident. We’re taking the good things and we’re really looking forward to this opportunity. It’s just another thing to see if we can or can’t do it. We have to focus on some close calls we saw in the regionals. I would say we’ve made progress.”

The Thunderbird Invitational will start Friday, followed by the second and third rounds to be played on Friday and Saturday.

The first round of the ASU Thunderbird Invitational will start Friday, followed by the second and third rounds to be played on Friday and Saturday.