Students are once again dusting off their brains and firing up their brains for the new school year.

For some students, it has been 113 days since encountering ESL classrooms, professors or tests and homenwork.

While some managed to contin-ting courses either at the university or online, others took time off for the summer.

Andrew McCrea, senior in journalism and mass communication, said he philosophy on the quantity of knowledge retained during the summer somewhat resides with professors.

“If they’re teaching you connect-ly, you should be interested in what you’re learning that you’ll want to practice it over the summer,” McCrea said.

From a educating perspective,
Bob Corey, lecturer in English, said he sees a certain trait in students more through their years at the university.

“How much of a sense of mature-you tell,” Corey said.

“I feel that in some cases where the equipment is not available for you to practice your skills, like a chemistry lab, you can’t really use the equipment to test your skills during summer vacation.’’

Corey said there’s a less likelihood of knowledge drop-off once students are older, because classes and overall education become more important to them.

As students dive in to their first weeks of classes, Corey said he is foreseeing a very busy year for students to bridge the post-summer knowledge gap.

Alcohol Edu educates students on risk

Health Center addresses issues of risky drinking among new students

Brenda Hendricks, director of the Health Center, helped create and start Alcohol Edu at Iowa State. “The goals of a program like this are really broad,” Hendricks said, who explained that there are many factors involved in judging the progress of the program.

Hendricks, who has worked in college health for 16 years, said the one reason behind the start of the program was “to help address complex, high risk issues.”

One goal is that the program encourages students to report incidents and that they feel “empowered and willing to call for help,” Hendricks said. Student leaders on campus have been provided with a password to the online program as well so they can be aware and up-to-date in order to help other students with these topics.

Denlinger said any student or faculty member can call the Health Center at any time to go through the materials until after they arrive at Iowa State.

Alcohol Edu addresses the issues involved with high-risk drinking, which is defined as five or more drinks in a sitting, once or more in the past two weeks.

Frequent high risk is drinking five or more drinks in a sitting three or more times in two weeks.

Denlinger explained that about 30 percent of students at Iowa State are shown to engage in high risk drinking with these topics.

Nineteen percent of students at Iowa State were shown to engage in high risk drinking.

Denlinger said any student or faculty member can call the Health Center at any time to go through the materials until after they arrive at Iowa State.

Service to one’s country is a great thing. It signifies that one is willing to go to fight for something, and to take risks for the sake of the people you love. This is a noble ideal, but one that can be misunderstood in its execution. There are many ways to serve one’s country, and this includes devoting one’s time and resources to causes that are important to one’s community. In this article, I will discuss the importance of giving back to one’s community and the benefits of doing so.

In the United States, one of the primary ways to give back to one’s community is through volunteering. Volunteering can take many forms, from working at a local non-profit organization to participating in community service projects. Volunteering can also be a way to develop new skills and gain valuable experience that can be used in other areas of life. By volunteering, one can make a positive impact on one’s community and feel good about doing so.

Another way to give back to one’s community is through donating money or time to a charitable organization. Donating money can be a way to support a cause that is important to one’s values, and it can also be a way to help those who are less fortunate. By donating time, one can make a direct impact on the lives of others, and this can be a very rewarding experience. By giving back to one’s community, one can make a difference in the lives of others and feel good about doing so.

In conclusion, giving back to one’s community is a great thing. It signifies that one is willing to go to fight for something, and to take risks for the sake of the people you love. By giving back to one’s community, one can make a positive impact on one’s community and feel good about doing so.

Makeup works as superfluous tool for feminine identity

By Claire Yetley
@iowastatedaily.com

As far back in history as ancient Egypt, men and women wore a substance similar to eyeliner called kohl to highlight the eyes, a practice that continues to this day. Makeup has never been more popular, with more and more people praise the power of makeup to do any amount of beauty lifting they want it to do.

But people still work out at gym nonetheless. A bird is blown off at a face-dodging battle, soldiers sell as well what they can to attain normality. Women still wear black and masses even though today people recognize it as makeup instead of a war tool.

We're in our culture so obsessed with appearance and more specifically, why women don't look in makeup day after day? There's the common argument that it’s enjoyable to put on makeup. This makeup is an opportunity to express one's self and be creative. The face is a person's canvas, so why not make up somebody’s personality in some ways?

But all big the argument to whom are they being expressive? Psychologist Lauren Haid said: "Whether we choose to acknowledge it or not, the desire for validation is one of the strongest motivating forces known to man."

Whether women say they wear makeup for themselves or to look beautiful, the ultimate reason is because humans seek approval, and makeup validates women’s nature of the media causes people in their social circle to look just like that. The advertising industry, filling every media and screen with actresses on the screen and wish to look just like that. The television moves the media inside the home, making it accessible every day. The advertising industry becomes, filling every green mediahome, making it accessible everyperson who's job it is to speak positively about the general culture since ancient Egyptian times it is now accepted in most places around the world. The drive for validation and acceptance only grows with each generation of women. Makeup, so essential to women and men more and more of a tool with which women shape themselves to a cultural "ideal."
Senior players serve up advice for underclassmen

By Maddy Arnold

Senior Kristin Hahn and Tihani Matlock have taken on a new role this summer for their final year at Iowa State.

The Iowa State women’s soccer team is made up of 10 underclassmen and only four upperclassmen this season. As the only two seniors on the team, Hahn and Matlock have become mentors in the younger players this year.

“Towards the beginning, you’re all along for the ride and your head is in spinning,” said coach Craig Hendershot. “It’s good for the senior class to see the younger class being a little bit more relaxed, to be caring about your teammates and thinking about them more. I think that’s something we’ve been asking more and more of Hahn and Matlock.

An even filled summer schedule for the ISU men's golf team has bridged the gap between the spring and fall seasons. From the opening of a new practice facility to the individual achievement of several Cyclone golfers, much has been accomplished to prepare for this team's first meet at the Goatep Entrance on Sept. 15 for the Border Interstate Meet. The year and the new facility is just incred- ible," said coach Andy Tack in regard to the new Cyclone Golf Practice Center. The Cyclone Golf Practice Center, which opened this summer, has been an asset to players as they prepare for their upcoming season. "You can practice just about any type of shot you could want from the driving range, putting, and chip and pitch green," Tack said. "It's great, you almost never waste practice time."

Aside from the new facility in Ames, the teams' program has also gained in visibility, with two of the three freshmen hailing from overseas. Ruben Sondjaja, of Australia, and Nick Voke, of New Zealand, join Jack Carter, of Columbus, Ohio, on this year's freshman class. The redshirt senior Tuftee to play Saturday against Northern Iowa. Tuftee to play Saturday would hopefully be in his why the change was made. "It was the best decision for the team and for Charlie, he's been a player," Foster said. "It was a decision that we made with the best interest of the team in mind, and after the game it was a mutual decision."

"That's all the deciding really well so far, they've been excited to be here," Tack said. "Nick and Ruben, even though they're freshmen, have a lot of interna- tionals impression of his own, placing third in the European Tour's Omega Dubai Desert Classic. Fernandez competed in the European Amateur tournament in July and placed third in a field of many of the world's top amateurs.

The next week, Fernandez traveled back stateside to compete in the United States Amateur, where he would miss the cut to advance to the final match-play rounds. "It was a lot of travel, a lot of back and forth on the golf course," Tack said. "Several other players competed in tournaments nationwide throughout the summer to keep their games sharp, many of which resulted in top-10 finishes. "I love the fact that the guys are out there playing and competing," Tack said. "I want them to come into the fall season and just have it be a continuation of the summer and just keep on going."
Ames plays diverse music scene

To some, Ames is a small town, but that small town has a large music scene that can make any newcomer to this town feel right at home. Some new students believe that Ames is the only town of its size where music can be heard, but with research one can find that there are concerts almost every weekend for no one to miss.

 Lois Logsdon, Minimum Ames Records owner and new manager of local bar and venue, Dog Top Flyover, says he had that many life-changing experiences with Minimum Ames while running the music scene through Eric "H.D. Harmsen. "It definitely changed my life," Logsdon says. "When I went to Iowa State, I wasn't prepared for what my job was going to be. I'm putting on shows, getting to meet musicians and being in bands. Now I have a job in the music industry in town and am professionally employed so it came full circle for me."

Logsdon is also a co-founder of the annual Minimum Ames Music Festival, which this year will bring in bands such as The Strumbellas, the Maines Poppets and Muder By Death. In addition to the larger acts, many local bands will be returning to perform in Ames, such as Terra Pigeon Dance Revol, Munfred's and H13 Thereby.

“Ames is a really important part of Ames,” Logsdon says. "It's a really close-knit community, it's a community where people know each other. We love music and music is a really important part of our town."

Logsdon believes that most students don’t go to shows that’s all it was." Logsdon says. "In addition to the larger acts, many local bands such as the Zombies, the Meat Puppets and Murder By Death. In going to shows, knowing musicians and meeting some would be the best experience you could have for your college and maintain cybersecurity.

Safetyst through Cybersecurity

Weisskopf says that even though the campus network is secure it should be connected to a safe harome. "It's only up to the user whether or not they don't do this on the part of the network. They can't be protected. "According to Weisskopf, your personal network can be protected by using the best network that you can have together to send information, is the most common method of computing or the best method of using the network at all. "It's the best of the outside twenty eight," he says. "With the network, you can be someone that is not connected to a network, you can have a lot of people that aren't going to be able to be a part of the community, be a part of something that is large or have a lot of people that aren't going to be able to be a part of the community, be a part of something that is large or have a lot of people that aren't going to be able to be a part of the community, be a part of something that is large or have a lot of people that aren't going to be able to be a part of the community, be a part of something that is large or have a lot of people that aren't going to be able to be a part of the community, be a part of something that is large or have a lot of people that aren't going to be able to be a part of the community, be a part of something that is large or have a lot of people that aren't going to be able to be a part of the community, be a part of something that is large or have a lot of people that aren't going to be able to be a part of the community, be a part of something that is large or have a lot of people that aren't going to be able to be a part of the community, be a part of something that is large or have a lot of people that aren't going to be able to be a part of the community, be a part of something that is large or have a lot of people that aren't going to be able to be a part of the community, be a part of something that is large or have a lot of people that aren't going to be able to be a part of the community, be a part of something that is large or have a lot of people that aren't going to be able to be a part of the community, be a part of something that is large or have a lot of people that aren't going to be able to be a part of the community, be a part of something that is large or have a lot of people that aren't going to be able to be a part of the community, be a part of something that is large or have a lot of people that aren't going to be able to be a part of the community, be a part of something that is large or have a lot of people that aren't going to be able to be a part of the community, be a part of something that is large or have a lot of people that aren't going to be able to be a part of the community, be a part of something that is large or have a lot of people that aren't going to be able to be a part of the community, be a part of something that is large or have a lot of people that aren't going to be able to be a part of the community, be a part of something that is large or have a lot of people that aren't going to be able to be a part of the community, be a part of something that is large or have a lot of people that aren't going to be able to be a part of the community, be a part of something that is large or have a lot of people that aren't going to be able to be a part of the community, be a part of something that is large or have a lot of people that aren't going to be able to be a part of the community, be a part of something that is large or have a lot of people that aren't going to be able to be a part of the community, be a part of something that is large or have a lot of people that aren't going to be able to be a part of the community, be a part of something that is large or have a lot of people that aren't going to be able to be a part of the community, be a part of something that is large or have a lot of people that aren't going to be able to be a part of the community, be a part of something that is large or have a lot of people that aren't going to be able to be a part of the community, be a part of something that is large or have a lot of people that aren't going to be able to be a part of the community, be a part of something that is large or have a lot of people that aren't going to be able to be a part of the community, be a part of something that is large or have a lot of people that aren't going to be able to be a part of the community, be a part of something that is large or have a lot of people that aren't going to be able to be a part of the community, be a part of something that is large or have a lot of people that aren't going to be able to be a part of the community, be a part of something that is large or have a lot of people that aren't going to be able to be a part of the community, be a part of something that is large or have a lot of people that aren't going to be able to be a part of the community, be a part of something that is large or have a lot of people that aren't going to be able to be a part of the community, be a part of something that is large or have a lot of people that aren't going to be able to be a part of the community, be a part of something that is large or have a lot of people that aren't going to be able to be a part of the community, be a part of something that is large or have a lot of people that aren't going to be able to be a part of the community, be a pa...
