Iowa State Daily (September 15, 2015)

Iowa State Daily

Follow this and additional works at: http://lib.dr.iastate.edu/iowastatedaily_2015-09

Recommended Citation
http://lib.dr.iastate.edu/iowastatedaily_2015-09/4

This Book is brought to you for free and open access by the Iowa State Daily, 2015 at Iowa State University Digital Repository. It has been accepted for inclusion in Iowa State Daily, September 2015 by an authorized administrator of Iowa State University Digital Repository. For more information, please contact digirep@iastate.edu.
President Barack Obama and Education Secretary Arne Duncan met in Des Moines at North High School on Monday to ask questions about education access and affordability.

The stop is part of President Obama's continuous efforts to make college more affordable.

The Obama administration has doubled investments in scholarships and made student loans affordable by cutting interest rates. Students are now also able to electronically receive tax information filed for an earlier year.

"All these steps ... should help hundreds of thousands more students pay for college," Obama said.

The change aims to allow students for applying for federal aid without having to wait until next year.

"It's the president's hope that students have their aid quickly, so it will allow students and families to better calculate the true cost of college," Obama said.

"No young person should be left out of college," Obama said.

The College Scorecard website is also part of the initiative.

\[36,001 \text{ students creates new burdens for campus}\]

By Mitch Anderson
@iowastatedaily.com

Record enrollment means a record amount of strain not only on human resources, but also on Iowa State's facilities.

The 36,001 students on campus this fall is more than Iowa State has even seen at the beginning of a semester. It's the seventh straight year of record-breaking enrollment, and the ninth straight year the university has seen an increase from the previous year.

With our dramatic increase in the number of students on campus, students and faculty are seeing changes in a number of ways. Challenges include facility maintenance, classroom availability and scheduling.

"The growth in enrollment has certainly been a challenge," said Alvin Baumgarn, director of quantitative and qualitative planning. "The university has had to make it easier for students to get the resources they need, including the student center, but we've also seen an increase in the number of students on campus.

We're doing our best to accommodate the students, but we're not seeing any issues at this point. We're doing our best to accommodate the students, but we're not seeing any issues at this point. We're doing our best to accommodate the students, but we're not seeing any issues at this point. We're doing our best to accommodate the students, but we're not seeing any issues at this point.

"I think that our colleges should be focusing on affordability and serving students," Obama said.

In addition to his administration, many groups are involved in the aims to make college more affordable.

Obama said.

"The college is doing a great job of providing a quality education," Obama said.

"I think that our colleges should be focusing on affordability and serving students," Obama said.

"I think that our colleges should be focusing on affordability and serving students," Obama said.

The 36,001 students creates new burdens for campus.
POLICE BLOTTER

Sept. 10

An individual reported the theft of three vacuums at Alumni Center (reported at 9:49 a.m.).

An individual reported the theft of a wallet from a vehicle (reported at 11:01 a.m.).

An officer investigated a property damage collision at South 14th Street and Christian Drive (reported at 4:23 p.m.).

An individual reported a credit card related fraud at Armovery (reported at 4:05 p.m.).

An officer initiated a drug related investigation at Armovery (reported at 4:15 p.m.).

An officer investigated a property damage collision at 21st Street and Des Moines Street (reported at 5:49 p.m.).

An individual reported the theft of an item from a vehicle (reported at 6:20 p.m.).

Lindsey Graham answers questions about agricultural issues at the 2015 Ag Summit in Des Moines on March 7. Graham is scheduled to visit Ames this weekend.

Weather provided by ISU Meteorology Club.

IOWA’S LARGEST SHOW & CRAFTS
Callahan Promotions, Inc., 563-652-4529
205 Clark Ave
- 300 Exhibitors
- 300 Extremities
- FREE PARKING
- Walk-in care or call
- (10 & under free)
- After seven straight years of record enrollment, Iowa State has reached a milestone. After seven straight years of record enrollment, Iowa State has reached a milestone.

Faculty Senate to meet Tuesday

The Iowa State Senate will have a meeting from 3:30 to 5 p.m. in the Great Hall of the Memorial union. Jim Kunertbach, interim vice president of information technology, will make a presentation to the university. (The Senate will also vote on a campus change.

Enrollment records breakout

After seven straight years of record enrollment, Iowa State has reached a record enrollment of 29,820 students.

- Undergraduate enrollment: 20,863 students.
- Graduate enrollment: 5,059 students.
- International student enrollment: 4,481.

The Cy-Hawk game is set to go in the state.

Below is a list of details for Graham’s wrap-in Ames:

- Who: South Carolina Sen. Lindsey Graham
- What: Republican presidential candidate
- Where: Meet and greet community members from 2 p.m. to 3 p.m. at Checkers
- When: 7 p.m. Saturday Where: Upper Main Courtyard
- Graham has recently visited Iowa for the Ag Summit in March and Iowa Fans’ Road and Run event in Ames.

Lindsey Graham to visit Ames this weekend

Lindsey Graham answers questions about agricultural issues at the 2015 Ag Summit in Des Moines on March 7. Graham is scheduled to visit Ames this weekend.

Town Hall scheduled to visit Ames this weekend

Iowa State Daily: 792.0 x 1620.0

An individual reported the theft of a projector at Wallace-Huston Hall (reported at 11:40 a.m.).

A theft of items from a room at Friley Hall was reported at 2:18 a.m.

An individual reported being assaulted at Friley Hall (reported at 5:34 p.m.).

Lincoln Way (reported at 1:38 p.m.).

An individual reported the theft of a package at 119 Stanley (reported at 12:26 p.m.).

Weather provided by ISU Meteorology Club.

Men’s golf at Gopher Cup

Check our website for scores and details of a golf team at the Gopher Invitational.

Cy-Hawk Crime by the Numbers

The Cy-Hawk game is set to go in the state.
The Thelom Student Health Center was used to help a "protesting lack of skill and effective leadership" in a review by KCON's student newspaper. The center helps students deal with quality care and collaborate with other health and wellness units.

By Audra Kincart

Kristof then asked, How can this be happening?

Kristof and WuDunn recently co-wrote "Half the Sky: Turning Oppression into Opportunity for Women." The film is about women and girls who live in the developing world. Kristof and WuDunn have spent years working in other countries to try making it clear about how in-...
Obama in the initiative including The Community Foundation of Student Financial Aid Administrators (NASFAA), Scholarship America, The National College Access Network and the College Application Campaign. This is an effort to move a call to campus to simplify many aspects of FASA application. Simplification could include eliminating questions regarding income investments, net worth.

unmixed income and exclu- sions from income that are not reported to the IRS. “It’s got to set the parsnip support,” Obama said. The simplifying of the application would elimi- nate 35 questions in total. “It takes to fill out the ap- plication,” Obama was asked which professor is most candid is the best on this subject he said. Obama said that the people who come here il- legally should have to pay and take necessary steps to become right with the law.

“A legitimate debate could have about an immi- gration system that is fair, that is orderly and that is consistent with the values we don’t understand the respect of new immigrants to the United States.

“They are Na- tional, you American, your fam- ily came from another cul- tur,” Obama said.

A book reveals brilliant insight. A startling revelation be worked out. It’s getting easier.

May be understood. A startling revelation

Devin

A startling revelation

be worked out. It’s getting easier.

May be understood. A startling revelation

be worked out. It’s getting easier.

May be understood. A startling revelation

be worked out. It’s getting easier.

May be understood. A startling revelation

be worked out. It’s getting easier.

May be understood. A startling revelation

be worked out. It’s getting easier.

May be understood.
When a life ends too soon be - cause of an unjust act of violence, there is no compensation for the suffering of family and friends that results. But there should be the opportunity to claim the - cial loss of that loved one in a wrongful death suit. Wrongful death suits are filed when a life has been lost because of an unjust act of violence.

In the case of Freddie Gray, his fam- ily was already awarded a 6.4 million settlement from the city of Baltimore. Gray died April 19, 2015 after he incurred a severe spinal injury while he was in police custody.

There has been an outcry by some that the settlement number was ‘‘off the scene for being high. What if the person to person and it depends on the circumstances surrounding the death. The general ‘‘just ices’’ amount that the family of Freddie Gray has paid $13.4 million from 2011 to 2014 on wrongful death suits. During a three-year time period, Baltimore has paid less to several families that are paying to the Gray fam - ily, which is set to receive $6.4 million. ‘‘This case causes concern. The ‘‘value of a life’’ but ‘‘how you go as, governing body, can we place a value on a mil - lion, and several people were worth less com - pared to $1 million. ‘‘We can’t know if this is one case that one issued received media attention, while several others were unheard.

The public may never know why the Gray settlement was reached because it was not the result of a court. In exact calculations of the award may not be available. ‘‘This is presumptuous that Gray died received on a national level created a bias within the city. This settlement earmarked the amount of money paid in settlement during a three-year time span. Baltimore has under two des - gree of Gray’s death and it is believed that the judgment was influenced because of the media attention. If judgments are supposed to be based on the deceased per-poor death pain and suffering, the medical costs that the deceased victim incurred as a result of the injury prior to death — funeral and burial costs, loss of the deceased person’s income, loss of any inheritance as a result of the death, value of a life, and loss of consortium — I do not see how one person’s value is $6.4 million and those three cases of settlements that do not equal that close to amount. The media played into this judg - ment, and weasus created with this case. ‘‘If no limits and no secure laws to do and they become victims of law, it becomes a different act of injustice. We can know the background of this case that was filed and those lives were never published. ‘‘These families were put under pressure to pay on the prior scale.

But there is a solution to this inau - ger.

There has to be concrete laws for those types of cases. What can be claimed and what can be awarded has to be con - trolled and adapted by every state.

I agree to not only meet the expectations of the deceased would have seen and also to adjust to culture in the surroundings within our student population. ISU has put members at risk.

Every level begins to end the day we become silent about things that matters. Several ISU community members, peo - ple participating in the sit-in and others started harasser protesters. ‘‘Racist can’t take to the students, making ridiculous about the students in the build - ing and local and uneducated opinions. ‘‘This raci - st comment on our campus that is seriously an issue. It’s not so obvious to students. Students are mixed in our melting pot of a campus. This shows the need for someone to aid di - vision and the same goes for international and domestic students. And the same goes for international and domestic students.

We, as students, have a respon - sibility to hold the selected candidate accountable for the goals they have set out for us. Online feedback may be used if first name and last name are entered. The draft is not for public consumption. It may be removed from the central religious body or its publication. We reserve the right to edit or reject any account. It may be removed from the central religious body or its publication. We reserve the right to edit or reject any account. It may be removed from the central religious body or its publication. We reserve the right to edit or reject any account.
By Ryan Lewis

Vondrak works from walk-on to full ride

Vondrak has been having the type of season that few big-time athletes could even dream up. "It feels good knowing that this whole year, I feel like I've earned my position on the court," she said. "I've been playing a lot, and it's been a good year for me." Vondrak's season-high against the Russians has been the best part of her performance so far this year. The Cyclones aren't a doubles team, but it will be a tough hill to climb. "We want to make sure we're setting you up, anyone can see that," Vondrak said. "We have a lot of play- ers who are excited to be on the court, and we're trying to make a difference here."
Fashion Week trends on a budget

By Anna Chandler
@iowastatedaily.com

Cowboy-like festival wear is not only appropri- ate at set venues and times, but is becoming ever present in daily life today. New York Fashion Week is upon us and that means the upcoming season’s clothes will be on display each September and February. Tights have been present the past couple seasons, but Spring 2015 turns the notch up a few more levels and is here to stay.

In the past, fashion trends that will not go out of style is a better idea than buying a trendy piece that may only be around for a season or two. In regards to beauty trends, NYFW has been in- troduced showcasing bold lips, long lashes, and voluminous hair. Aesthetics have been paired with simplified make-up ex- ercises that are approved for usage. Other simple garments, like T-shirts, may be covered entirely by duct tape. Other, more reasonably-priced fashion retailers will be quick to follow. Retailers like Forever 21, H&M, Zara, TopShop and Urban Outfitters have begun designing look alike products. Retailers specifically does not compare to the best quality found in fashion shows, but these brands are great resources for students on a budget who like to shop. Shopping at the sale tab- ets that are offered above can be a statement in any outfit. It is not a shock that the styles are incredibly high in the United States. Environmentally conscious programs are abundant in the United States, which is why we can continue to buy back the United States can be difficult; but also exciting.

Shoes are fabulous in Europe. Europeans live in shoes — in sandals, boots, and any other kind! It can be difficult to find shoes in the Midwest. Fashion changing and can be hard to keep up with. It is a must, as they are ever-changing. It can be found in the Midwest. Fashion trends and fads will always be around for a season or two, and students of any major can join. The University Book Store provides compli- mentary duct tape and shoes. Rushing to get anything with duct tape will be necessary. Additionally, shoe designers are always following trends. Participants must follow. While the garments are on display, the participants will be made entirely of duct tape. Fabricators and closures can be added for extra support. Velvet and velvet-like pieces are not allowed for participants. The pieces that are approved for the 10 winners of the gar- ments, like “T-shirts,” may be used to help construct the garment, but they must be covered entirely by duct tape before submission. The garments are judged on creativity, use of duct tape and originality. Best idea will be given to the first, second, and third place winners. People’s choice is also awarded. The duct tape fash - ion show is about fun and showcasing student talent,” DeLashmutt said. “The first year we had the show we only had two winners. This year students had creativity. It’s also fun to see students show off the duct tape number that the show is held in.

Participants are welcome in teams of one or two, and students of any major can join. The University Book Store has provided complimentary duct tape and shoes. After receiving duct tape from the University Book Store, students have been able to create their own designs, but DSU has not had a duct tape show in the past have a week to complete the duct tape before submitting. Once they’re submitted, little alterations can be made before the day of the fash - ion show.

Importing new styles

By James Verhelst
@iowastatedaily.com

It is not a shock that the styles are incredibly high in the United States. Environmentally conscious programs are abundant in the United States, which is why we can continue to buy back the United States can be difficult; but also exciting.

Shoes are fabulous in Europe. Europeans live in shoes — in sandals, boots, and any other kind! It can be difficult to find shoes in the Midwest. Fashion changing and can be hard to keep up with. It is a must, as they are ever-changing. It can be found in the Midwest. Fashion trends and fads will always be around for a season or two, and students of any major can join. The University Book Store provides complimentary duct tape and shoes. Rushing to get anything with duct tape will be necessary. Additionally, shoe designers are always following trends. Participants must follow.

While the garments are on display, the participants will be made entirely of duct tape. Fabricators and closures can be added for extra support. Velvet and velvet-like pieces are not allowed for participants. The pieces that are approved for the 10 winners of the garments, like “T-shirts,” may be used to help construct the garment, but they must be covered entirely by duct tape before submission. The garments are judged on creativity, use of duct tape and originality. Best idea will be given to the first, second, and third place winners. People’s choice is also awarded. The duct tape fashion show is about fun and showcasing student talent,” DeLashmutt said. “The first year we had the show we only had two winners. This year students had creativity. It’s also fun to see students show off the duct tape number that the show is held in.

Participants are welcome in teams of one or two, and students of any major can join. The University Book Store has provided complimentary duct tape and shoes. After receiving duct tape from the University Book Store, students have been able to create their own designs, but DSU has not had a duct tape show in the past have a week to complete the duct tape before submitting. Once they’re submitted, little alterations can be made before the day of the fashion show.

Although the show has been a part of this semester, DeLashmutt hopes to try again in the spring. A date has not been scheduled.

Duct tape fashions no longer showcased on the runway

By Emilia D’Amico
@iowastatedaily.com

The fifth annual Duct Tape Fashion Show that was scheduled to showcase participants each September and February has been cancelled because of financial issues. Coordinator Amy DeLashmutt said, “The first year we had the show we only had two winners. This year students had creativity. It’s also fun to see students show off the duct tape number that the show is held in.

Participants are welcome in teams of one or two, and students of any major can join. The University Book Store has provided complimentary duct tape and shoes. After receiving duct tape from the University Book Store, students have been able to create their own designs, but DSU has not had a duct tape show in the past have a week to complete the duct tape before submitting. Once they’re submitted, little alterations can be made before the day of the fashion show.

Although the show has been a part of this semester, DeLashmutt hopes to try again in the spring. A date has not been scheduled.

Brick-red bold lip, paired them with less ex- pensive pieces like blazers and simple dresses. New York Fashion Week trends on a budget runways. Aesthetics have been paired with simplified make-up exercises that are approved for usage. Other simple garments, like T-shirts, may be covered entirely by duct tape. Other, more reasonably-priced fashion retailers will be quick to follow. Retailers like Forever 21, H&M, Zara, TopShop and Urban Outfitters have begun designing look alike products. Retailers specifically does not compare to the best quality found in fashion shows, but these brands are great resources for students on a budget who like to shop. Shopping at the sale tab- ets that are offered above can be a statement in any outfit. It is not a shock that the styles are incredibly high in the United States. Environmentally conscious programs are abundant in the United States, which is why we can continue to buy back the United States can be difficult; but also exciting.

Shoes are fabulous in Europe. Europeans live in shoes — in sandals, boots, and any other kind! It can be difficult to find shoes in the Midwest. Fashion changing and can be hard to keep up with. It is a must, as they are ever-changing. It can be found in the Midwest. Fashion trends and fads will always be around for a season or two, and students of any major can join. The University Book Store provides complimentary duct tape and shoes. After receiving duct tape from the University Book Store, students have been able to create their own designs, but DSU has not had a duct tape show in the past have a week to complete the duct tape before submitting. Once they’re submitted, little alterations can be made before the day of the fashion show.

Although the show has been a part of this semester, DeLashmutt hopes to try again in the spring. A date has not been scheduled.
The Lipper Award is given to the group with the lowest average decile ranking of three years’ Consistent Return for eligible funds over the three-year period ended 11/30/12, 11/30/13, and 11/30/14 respectively. TIAA-CREF was ranked among 36 fund companies in 2012 and 48 companies’ 2013 and 2014 risk-adjusted performance. Past performance does not guarantee future results. For current performance and rankings, please visit the Research and Performance section on tiaa-cref.org.

The Lipper Awards are based on a review of 36 companies’ 2012 and 48 companies’ 2013 and 2014 risk-adjusted performance.