Hansen center offers cattle auctions. It is capable of much more than that. The Hansen facility has the option to put a plastic flooring over the dirt floor to create a space usable for banquets and events.

The Hansen facility office is said to be “very ashamed” after admitting to falsifying AIDS vaccine research and would resign from his position.

In May 2013, construction began on the Hansen facility. But soon after the groundbreaking ceremony of Agriculture and Life Sciences, the project cost more than $7 million.

In October 2012, Sealant Systems presented to our collaborators and others, “It kind of looked like Cy was endorsing our cause, and then that’s where it kind of all started,” said Paul Gerlich, President of NORML ISU.

If you are interested in obtaining a copy of the book, please visit the book's official website or contact the publisher directly. The Hansen facility's sustainability mission and its capacity for hosting events make it a valuable addition to the Iowa State campus.

CarShare program adds new car, has benefits for students

By Michelle Goodman | mgoody@mediakids.com

Enterprise Rent-A-Car’s CarShare provides ISU students many benefits and has been updated this academic year.

CarShare is a program that allows students at Iowa State the opportunity to rent a car for a variety of reasons. It gives another mode of transportation and has proven to be a cost-effective way to travel around campus.

“I think about all the money it takes to get a car and making sure it stays running even through the rough winter months, it’s a no-brainer,” Watson said. “We maintain the maintenance on the cars. We wash them and change the oil.”

When a student becomes a member of CarShare, they are given an electronic key in the mail. The key allows access to the vehicle and unlocks the car during the time reserved. Once the student is in the car, there is a gas card available to use.

Each rental period incudes 200 miles. If a driv-ner goes over that mileage, it costs an extra 20 cents per mile.

The cars include two Ford Fox bodies and a Chrysler.

“They look at the percent-age of time that the vecicle can be available for usages and the time it is reerved,” said Merry Rankin, director of sustainability.

A student must complete a rental agreement, have a valid driver’s license and be 18 years old in order to rent. International drivers licenses are accepted as well; providing a means of proof security against liability.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture’s National Integrated Water Quality Program (INWQP) is the main focus of analysis by research scientists. "The research drive here is to create a center of excellence," said Cruse, professor of agronomy and one of the leaders of the new project. Said. “The areas of study are very important because it is the information the researchers find is taught to farmers and the local community through outreach." Cruse, said. "It is a sister program of agri- cultural education and research." The program uses water shed data to help with water conservation, and is the principal investigator for the project. Puscas is working in a model that will be beneficial for high school teachers to bring back to their classrooms to register research. The farmers and researchers who are involved with the project will have different areas of focus. A few graduate students are working on the project to help with the research as well. "All of the samples and treatments, along with the results found, are explained in detail in the article," said Cruse. "This is an opportunity for researchers to discuss their work with the world." The article was published in the December issue of the journal. The research team will continue to study the effects of different treatments on the water shed. The researchers will be able to use the center for many upcom- ing projects. "They are involved with the program."

The program budget is $1.5 million, which will be used to improve research and education. The researchers are looking forward to using the center for many upcoming projects. In legislation almost everyone agrees that raising the minimum wage has been passed or feel away the opportunity for debate on hot issues. The overuse of executive orders is occurring more and more frequently. There is no actual portion of the Constitution that raises the use of executive orders, which are used by the president to implement federal policy, as part of the legislative branch, and with the president, in order to avoid Congress, and with the president, in order to avoid Congress, and with the president, in order to avoid Congress, and with the president, in order to avoid Congress.

ISU to face-off against K-State

Women work to solve offensive struggles by Saturday's game

By Madely Arnold

Last night at Weber after his most recent loss, Iowa women's basketball coach Bill Freiheit noted that his team was not hitting free throws early in the game.

"Just 8-for-14 from the free throw line in the first half," Freiheit said. "Some of it is the pressure of playing against Kansas State, some of it is the fact that we've been playing some good teams and we don't shoot free throws very well.
