Iowa State Daily, February 25, 2014

Iowa State Daily (February 25, 2014)

Follow this and additional works at: http://lib.dr.iastate.edu/iowastatedaily_2014-02

Part of the Higher Education Commons, and the Journalism Studies Commons

Recommended Citation

http://lib.dr.iastate.edu/iowastatedaily_2014-02/14

This Book is brought to you for free and open access by the Iowa State Daily, 2014 at Iowa State University Digital Repository. It has been accepted for inclusion in Iowa State Daily, February 2014 by an authorized administrator of Iowa State University Digital Repository. For more information, please contact digirep@iastate.edu.
The Government of Student Body will be sending a survey via email to students today to assess the level of problem areas that student tenants face.

“The survey is meant to collect data to allow us to then develop an action plan,” said Spencer Hughes, GSB president.

An objective in this goal is to work with Iowa State University, the Ames State Rental, and the Ames State Rental Board to allow students to adapt and succeed. The survey measures the different aspects of the quality of landlord services.

By Stephen Snyder
@isuwednesdaydaily

Complaining about a landlord is one of the most difficult aspects of the resolution process. The government sent a complaint from its hotel rooms to the Memorial Union’s Browsing Library. The government complained to the Freedom From Religion Foundation.

The Bibles will be moved starting March 1.

In a press release issued by the foundation, director for the office of university relations, Tim Reynolds, director for the office of university relations, said, “It is a fundamental principle of Establishment Clause jurisprudence that a government entity cannot in any way proselytize, advocate or otherwise endorse religious beliefs.”

The Memorial Union acknowledged the foundation’s concerns and Reynold’s appeal to the removal of the Bibles is the government’s new position.

“The concern raised about the availability of Bibles in the Memorial Union has been taken under advisement and effective March 1, 2014, the Bibles will be moved from the Browsing Library,” Reynolds said.

However, John McCarroll, executive director for the university relations office, said, “It is clear that accommodation will be made for those who would like a Bible or any number of other publications in the rooms.”

“The Bibles will be moved to the Browsing Library, which is located downstairs in the same building. When a guest inquires about the Bibles, we will explain why the Bible is not available in that room. This will help us develop an action plan for the future.”

MEMORIAL UNION TO REMOVE BIBLES FROM HOTEL ROOMS MARCH 1
By Stephen Snyder
@isuwednesdaydaily

Starting March 1, Bibles will be removed from hotel rooms in the Memorial Union. The removal stems from a complaint by a guest to the Freedom From Religion Foundation.

By Makayla Tendall
@isuwednesdaydaily

International students from Ukraine gathered outside of Parks Library Monday afternoon to spread awareness about the current situation in their home country.

Shalika Khindurangala, whose parents are alumni in the Ukrainian protests against their president, said she waited for months for the situation in her home country to be solved. “The situation is very dangerous,” Khindurangala said.

Khindurangala and Nataliia Sukhinina, president of the Russian-Speaking Students Association and Ukrainian students standing outside of Parks Library handing out ribbons bringing awareness to the current situation in Ukraine.

Protests began in November 2013, when Ukrainian citizens expressed their dissatisfaction with their president, said she waited for months for the situation in her home country to be solved. “The situation in Ukraine has been very dangerous,” Khindurangala said.

Khindurangala and Nataliia Sukhinina, president of the Russian-Speaking Students Association and Ukrainian students standing outside of Parks Library handing out ribbons bringing awareness to the current situation in Ukraine.

Protests began in November 2013, when Ukrainian citizens expressed their dissatisfaction with their president, said she waited for months for the situation in her home country to be solved. “The situation is very dangerous,” Khindurangala said.

Khindurangala and Nataliia Sukhinina, president of the Russian-Speaking Students Association and Ukrainian students standing outside of Parks Library handing out ribbons bringing awareness to the current situation in Ukraine.

Protests began in November 2013, when Ukrainian citizens expressed their dissatisfaction with their president, said she waited for months for the situation in her home country to be solved. “The situation is very dangerous,” Khindurangala said.

Khindurangala and Nataliia Sukhinina, president of the Russian-Speaking Students Association and Ukrainian students standing outside of Parks Library handing out ribbons bringing awareness to the current situation in Ukraine.

Protests began in November 2013, when Ukrainian citizens expressed their dissatisfaction with their president, said she waited for months for the situation in her home country to be solved. “The situation is very dangerous,” Khindurangala said.

Khindurangala and Nataliia Sukhinina, president of the Russian-Speaking Students Association and Ukrainian students standing outside of Parks Library handing out ribbons bringing awareness to the current situation in Ukraine.

Protests began in November 2013, when Ukrainian citizens expressed their dissatisfaction with their president, said she waited for months for the situation in her home country to be solved. “The situation is very dangerous,” Khindurangala said.

Khindurangala and Nataliia Sukhinina, president of the Russian-Speaking Students Association and Ukrainian students standing outside of Parks Library handing out ribbons bringing awareness to the current situation in Ukraine.

Protests began in November 2013, when Ukrainian citizens expressed their dissatisfaction with their president, said she waited for months for the situation in her home country to be solved. “The situation is very dangerous,” Khindurangala said.

Khindurangala and Nataliia Sukhinina, president of the Russian-Speaking Students Association and Ukrainian students standing outside of Parks Library handing out ribbons bringing awareness to the current situation in Ukraine.

Protests began in November 2013, when Ukrainian citizens expressed their dissatisfaction with their president, said she waited for months for the situation in her home country to be solved. “The situation is very dangerous,” Khindurangala said.

Khindurangala and Nataliia Sukhinina, president of the Russian-Speaking Students Association and Ukrainian students standing outside of Parks Library handing out ribbons bringing awareness to the current situation in Ukraine.

Protests began in November 2013, when Ukrainian citizens expressed their dissatisfaction with their president, said she waited for months for the situation in her home country to be solved. “The situation is very dangerous,” Khindurangala said.

Khindurangala and Nataliia Sukhinina, president of the Russian-Speaking Students Association and Ukrainian students standing outside of Parks Library handing out ribbons bringing awareness to the current situation in Ukraine.

Protests began in November 2013, when Ukrainian citizens expressed their dissatisfaction with their president, said she waited for months for the situation in her home country to be solved. “The situation is very dangerous,” Khindurangala said.

Khindurangala and Nataliia Sukhinina, president of the Russian-Speaking Students Association and Ukrainian students standing outside of Parks Library handing out ribbons bringing awareness to the current situation in Ukraine.

Protests began in November 2013, when Ukrainian citizens expressed their dissatisfaction with their president, said she waited for months for the situation in her home country to be solved. “The situation is very dangerous,” Khindurangala said.

Khindurangala and Nataliia Sukhinina, president of the Russian-Speaking Students Association and Ukrainian students standing outside of Parks Library handing out ribbons bringing awareness to the current situation in Ukraine.

Protests began in November 2013, when Ukrainian citizens expressed their dissatisfaction with their president, said she waited for months for the situation in her home country to be solved. “The situation is very dangerous,” Khindurangala said.
Professors discuss minimum wage

By Colby Siebersma

The minimum wage law is a hotly discussed issue that affects a wide range of working people. In fact, with the Obama administration proposed minimum wage change, the conversation is only gaining heavier.

President Obama already issued an executive order increasing the minimum wage across federal contractors. Now they must pay their employees $10.10. Prior to this, professors of economics, believes there were more effective ways to help the average economy.

“If you actually wanted to help the economy something like look at the earned income tax credit where it is very effective at stimulating the working poor,” Quirmbach said.

Quirmbach said because there is no more focus on minimum wage than the earned income tax credit is due to Congress’ reluctance to allocate the necessary money, which changing the earned income tax credit would require.

“If you look at the earned income tax credit it is a better way to focus because it has no adverse effect on employment, whereas increasing the minimum wage...”

“What we have found is that, on average, for every 10 percent increase in the minimum wage, there is about a one percent cut in employment, sometimes higher,” Quirmbach said. “An increase from $7.25 to $10.10 is a 39 percent increase...”

“Sir, perform Quimbach, as the president of economic studies, said that minimum wage is not the only factor affecting our economy growth.

“We have seen how we have done in the state legislature in the last year or so to invest significantly in the Iowa workforce training, Quimbach said.”

Quimbach said this investment is necessary in order to provide job training 45 years where there are skill shortage problems. He said raising the minimum wage is helpful to people at the bottom of the wage scale, but training people to keep the proper training may be more helpful for the economy.

Although there may be other solutions to help the economy aside from increasing the minimum wage, Quimbach said an increase in the minimum wage will affect working ISU students.

Quirmbach said an increase in the minimum wage law would affect ISU students disproportionately, but may not have much of a negative effect on Ames as a whole.

“If one town does in it’s minimum wage and surrounding states did not, Quirmbach said, we would have less of a downside in Ames simply because we don’t have the same level of competition around us.”

By Emelie Knobloch

City Council talks greek housing

The third phase of the adoption of the ordinance concerning greek housing originated from the rental license program in the agenda for tonight’s City Council meeting. The greek fraternity, located at 2203 Ash Avenue, has applied for a demolition permit. The greek fraternity, located at 2203 Ash Avenue, has applied for a demolition permit.

“Policies and permits can kill any plans” for the cy statue project, was seen at the movie tonight. "The Cy statues are a project from the leadership Ames class that is being brought to the city, Gwiasda, public relations officer of the class, said. "These statues will work both the city and the City Council app" the contract, to place temporary life-size “Cy” statues around the community.

“The Chamber of Commerce’s leadership class plans on creating a “Cy” statue only as a fund raiser.” Harvey said. "The statues will be auctioned off and the money will go to charity." This is a great way to raise money and interest in greek housing in the community.

Also under permits, permits and coordination is the motion for retaining Kansas City Systems to place a radon mitigation system near the house. "We are trying to get somebody new in the community tonight. Harvey said.

The closure of parking spaces on Chambers Street between Welch Avenue and 14th Street has number two in the concern agenda.

From April 11-13 for law enforcement vehicles and other related sections of the Municipal Code of the Rental Housing is also on the agenda.

The third passage and adjournment of the agenda and other eliminating sections of the Municipal Code of the Rental Housing Code are on the city alarm system notifying.

The scheduling is drop until 10 p.m. with a conference board meeting in City Council Chambers at City Hall.
University museum showcase campus artwork

Kleberich began her platform by talking about her campaign goal to increase the amount of public art on campus. She said she saw an opportunity to present the public art on campus and that the museum would be a way to present the public art on campus.

"The idea is that the leaders of the museum should be the people that the public should trust and support," Sukhinin said. He said the museum would be a way to present the public art on campus and that the museum would be a way to present the public art on campus.

"The idea is that the leaders of the museum should be the people that the public should trust and support," Sukhinin said. He said the museum would be a way to present the public art on campus and that the museum would be a way to present the public art on campus.

"The idea is that the leaders of the museum should be the people that the public should trust and support," Sukhinin said. He said the museum would be a way to present the public art on campus and that the museum would be a way to present the public art on campus.

"The idea is that the leaders of the museum should be the people that the public should trust and support," Sukhinin said. He said the museum would be a way to present the public art on campus and that the museum would be a way to present the public art on campus.

"The idea is that the leaders of the museum should be the people that the public should trust and support," Sukhinin said. He said the museum would be a way to present the public art on campus and that the museum would be a way to present the public art on campus.

"The idea is that the leaders of the museum should be the people that the public should trust and support," Sukhinin said. He said the museum would be a way to present the public art on campus and that the museum would be a way to present the public art on campus.

"The idea is that the leaders of the museum should be the people that the public should trust and support," Sukhinin said. He said the museum would be a way to present the public art on campus and that the museum would be a way to present the public art on campus.

"The idea is that the leaders of the museum should be the people that the public should trust and support," Sukhinin said. He said the museum would be a way to present the public art on campus and that the museum would be a way to present the public art on campus.

"The idea is that the leaders of the museum should be the people that the public should trust and support," Sukhinin said. He said the museum would be a way to present the public art on campus and that the museum would be a way to present the public art on campus.

"The idea is that the leaders of the museum should be the people that the public should trust and support," Sukhinin said. He said the museum would be a way to present the public art on campus and that the museum would be a way to present the public art on campus.

"The idea is that the leaders of the museum should be the people that the public should trust and support," Sukhinin said. He said the museum would be a way to present the public art on campus and that the museum would be a way to present the public art on campus.

"The idea is that the leaders of the museum should be the people that the public should trust and support," Sukhinin said. He said the museum would be a way to present the public art on campus and that the museum would be a way to present the public art on campus.
by James Wandschneider

They are small, furry, yellow and black insects that make honey and are not so easy to make angry. We know these little creatures as bees. It is easy to think of them as having a minor, insignificant role in the grand circle of life. In reality, a bee's job is much more valuable than what one might think. The life of the bee circles around one simple task, pollinating plants. By flying from plant to plant to gather nectar for their hive, the bee picks up some pollen along the way. That pollen is a key component of the hatching pink pollen Fifty of a new life. Therefore, the reproduction agent of a new life, so the flower allows the plant to produce either a dower or a male or whichever one has the best chance, in effect, to bring in new blood to the hive. It is brought through to our attention that the bee population is declining, which is mostly due to what is called the hatching pink pollen Fifty of a new life. Therefore, the reproduction agent of a new life, so the flower allows the plant to produce either a dower or a male or whichever one has the best chance, in effect, to bring in new blood to the hive.

The less number of bees that are in existence, the less plants that get pollinated. If a bee does not get pollinated, the plant will not have any means of reproduction. Therefore, the fruit bearing part of the plant does not have a way to distribute its genes to other plants. This is one of the main reasons why the bee is so important. The less number of bees that are in existence, the less plants that get pollinated. If a bee does not get pollinated, the plant will not have any means of reproduction. Therefore, the fruit bearing part of the plant does not have a way to distribute its genes to other plants. This is one of the main reasons why the bee is so important. The less number of bees that are in existence, the less plants that get pollinated. If a bee does not get pollinated, the plant will not have any means of reproduction. Therefore, the fruit bearing part of the plant does not have a way to distribute its genes to other plants. This is one of the main reasons why the bee is so important. The less number of bees that are in existence, the less plants that get pollinated. If a bee does not get pollinated, the plant will not have any means of reproduction. Therefore, the fruit bearing part of the plant does not have a way to distribute its genes to other plants. This is one of the main reasons why the bee is so important. The less number of bees that are in existence, the less plants that get pollinated. If a bee does not get pollinated, the plant will not have any means of reproduction. Therefore, the fruit bearing part of the plant does not have a way to distribute its genes to other plants. This is one of the main reasons why the bee is so important.

Perhaps there is a cultural difference between China and the U.S. that explains why our behaviors have no major problems since the culture of the two nations is so different. In the U.S., the culture is more individualistic and the country's laws are more flexible, whereas in China, the culture is more collective and the country's laws are more rigid. The reason why this is so is that businesses prefer to do things in the U.S. because it is easier to get things done. In China, the culture is more collective and the country's laws are more rigid. The reason why this is so is that businesses prefer to do things in the U.S. because it is easier to get things done. In China, the culture is more collective and the country's laws are more rigid. The reason why this is so is that businesses prefer to do things in the U.S. because it is easier to get things done.
Nate Loenser was born with a partial left arm and attended Iowa State University.

Early in his life, Nate learned the value of perseverance and determination.

At a young age, he began learning how to tie his shoes and more importantly, how to adjust the laces to accommodate his prosthetic arm.

As he grew older, Nate became interested in sports and found ways to participate, despite his disability.

His goal was to use his arm for as many things as possible and make the most of his abilities.

Nate's parents, Genie and Larry Loenser, supported him every step of the way.

Larry once said, "You get out of life what you put into it. You have to work for things, and that's never been a problem for Nate.

"Nate understands that other people would say that he's a one-armed athlete. But he kept striving to improve and never gave up.

"The key for Nate all along was to play to his strengths and rely on the natural talent he had.

"I understood that other people would say that I'm a one-armed athlete," Nate said. "I never wanted to play like that. I wanted to play like a football player.

One day, as he prepared for a summer league game, Nate was asked how he handles the ball. His response? "I'm only a one-armed athlete.

"You can't outgrow your shoes, you get big and you have to get new shoes," Nate said.

"I don't think I have to make any adjustments," Nate said. "I can still run, I can still jump, I can still do all the things that I did before.

"I never had it any other way," Nate said.

"That's how Nate wanted it to be."
Women gear up for last regular season games

By Dylan Munsie @iowastatedaily.com

By Ryan Young

ISU prepares for conference tournament.

Regular season ends with loss, No. 1 Gadson finds spotlight

Hoiberg warns against athletes' use of social media

Iowa State focuses on finishing as final games approach

Tiffany Herring/Iowa State Daily

Iowa State focuses on finishing as final games approach

Twitter rant creates tension, doubt among players

Dean Berhow-Goll @iowastatedaily.com

By Dean Berhow-Goll

If Fred Hoiberg had social media, he'd probably be more in season. The Iowa State coach knows that sooner, rather than later, he'll have to take his game public — via Twitter, Facebook or something similar. But he's not sure how.

"I really do. I think it's a joke that social media is going to be the end of us," Hoiberg said. "It's unfortunate, but it's part of the world we live in now. It's just an example of what can go wrong."

"It's something you've got to be aware of and you've got to try to know that you don't stop your day, that level because ultimately the only person it's going to hurt is you yourself," Edin said."

"It's tough because when you're on social media, you're just talking to say stuff on social media to people who you know are already fanatically trying to be disrespectful and it's hard to have your tongue."

"I know firsthand how it is when people get on you and you feel like you have to retaliate," Niang said. "I know firsthand how it is when people get on you and you feel like you have to retaliate."

"I think our team is unselfish. They'd like when the ball's coming to them, not to get it in their face, so I think they can handle it."

By Dylan Montz @iowastatedaily.com

When Fennelly looked to his bench when he started replacing his starters in the closing seconds of Iowa State's 86-70 loss to Oklahoma State on Feb. 22, where senior Zach McCabe, he noticed something.

"I think he's one of the most responsible, high-IQ kids that's out there doing the best he can," Fennelly said. "I haven't done that with McCabe, he just went out there and handled the team — he told his players to "shut down" the bench when he started replacing his starters in the closing seconds of Iowa State's 86-70 loss to Oklahoma State on Feb. 22. McCabe had been at his best this season when he battled his personal issues, but this time Gadson came up with a big win.

"I think our team is unselfish. They'd like when the ball's coming to them, not to get it in their face, so I think they can handle it."

Ronny Turiaf, said. "I think on senior night he was more responsible, and that's why he's out there.

"It's Showtime. He lives for the fever fans out there. I love Cyclones, so I think everything's working in his favor."

"It's tough because when you're on social media, you're just talking to say stuff on social media to people who you know are already fanatically trying to be disrespectful and it's hard to have your tongue."

"I know firsthand how it is when people get on you and you feel like you have to retaliate," Niang said. "I know firsthand how it is when people get on you and you feel like you have to retaliate.

"I think our team is unselfish. They'd like when the ball's coming to them, not to get it in their face, so I think they can handle it."

By Dylan Montz @iowastatedaily.com

Bill Fennelly has preached the importance of the "next 40 minutes." His team — which boasts three regular season games left, the ISU women's basketball coach knows that sooner, rather than later, he'll have to take his game public — via Twitter, Facebook or something similar. But he's not sure how.

"You just have to let things be. You just have to relax and play your game as well and as hard as you can," Fennelly said. "It's Showtime. He lives for the fever fans out there. I love Cyclones, so I think everything's working in his favor.

"It's tough because when you're on social media, you're just talking to say stuff on social media to people who you know are already fanatically trying to be disrespectful and it's hard to have your tongue."

"I know firsthand how it is when people get on you and you feel like you have to retaliate," Niang said. "I know firsthand how it is when people get on you and you feel like you have to retaliate.

"I think our team is unselfish. They'd like when the ball's coming to them, not to get it in their face, so I think they can handle it."

Ronny Turiaf, said. "I think on senior night he was more responsible, and that's why he's out there.
Skin Care and Your Zodiac

By Marykyn Knudel
@iowastatedaily.com

Tuesdays, June 17 to July 2

Have you found yourself reaching for the same colors in your wardrobe no matter the season? If you have, it’s possible your zodiac sign is influencing your style.

“Colors have actual physiological effects on people,” said West.

Cancer, June 22 to July 22

“Cancer is a water sign that is imaginative and compassionate,” West said. “They are emotional and are attracted to soft, pastel colors. In order to keep the mood light, choose soft purples, light greens, and pastel pinks.”

Scorpio, Oct. 23 to Nov. 21

“Scorpios are determined and passionate,” West said. “They are attracted to bold, vibrant colors like red and orange. To keep their fiery spirit alive, choose reds, oranges, and fiery pinks.”

Pisces, Feb. 19 to March 20

“A Sagittarius is known for their sense of adventure and optimism,” West said. “They are drawn to bright, cheerful colors like yellow and orange. To keep their adventurous spirit alive, choose sunny yellows and warm oranges.”

Aries, March 21 to April 19

“Aries are known for their fearlessness and assertiveness,” West said. “They are drawn to bold, powerful colors like red and orange. To keep their bold spirit alive, choose bright reds, oranges, and fiery pinks.”

Taurus, April 20 to May 20

“Taurus is a earth sign that is practical and grounded,” West said. “They are drawn to earthy, natural colors like brown and green. To keep their grounded spirit alive, choose earthy browns and greens.”

Gemini, May 21 to June 21

“Gemini is a air sign that is curious and adaptable,” West said. “They are drawn to bright, vibrant colors like yellow and green. To keep their curious spirit alive, choose bright yellows and fresh greens.”

Cancer, June 22 to July 22

“Cancer is a water sign that is imaginative and compassionate,” West said. “They are emotional and are drawn to soft, pastel colors. In order to keep the mood light, choose soft purples, light greens, and pastel pinks.”

Scorpio, Oct. 23 to Nov. 21

“Scorpios are determined and passionate,” West said. “They are attracted to bold, vibrant colors like red and orange. To keep their fiery spirit alive, choose reds, oranges, and fiery pinks.”

Pisces, Feb. 19 to March 20

“A Sagittarius is known for their sense of adventure and optimism,” West said. “They are drawn to bright, cheerful colors like yellow and orange. To keep their adventurous spirit alive, choose sunny yellows and warm oranges.”

Aries, March 21 to April 19

“Aries are known for their fearlessness and assertiveness,” West said. “They are drawn to bold, powerful colors like red and orange. To keep their bold spirit alive, choose bright reds, oranges, and fiery pinks.”

Taurus, April 20 to May 20

“Taurus is a earth sign that is practical and grounded,” West said. “They are drawn to earthy, natural colors like brown and green. To keep their grounded spirit alive, choose earthy browns and greens.”

Gemini, May 21 to June 21

“Gemini is a air sign that is curious and adaptable,” West said. “They are drawn to bright, vibrant colors like yellow and green. To keep their curious spirit alive, choose bright yellows and fresh greens.”

Cancer, June 22 to July 22

“Cancer is a water sign that is imaginative and compassionate,” West said. “They are emotional and are drawn to soft, pastel colors. In order to keep the mood light, choose soft purples, light greens, and pastel pinks.”

Scorpio, Oct. 23 to Nov. 21

“Scorpios are determined and passionate,” West said. “They are attracted to bold, vibrant colors like red and orange. To keep their fiery spirit alive, choose reds, oranges, and fiery pinks.”

Pisces, Feb. 19 to March 20

“A Sagittarius is known for their sense of adventure and optimism,” West said. “They are drawn to bright, cheerful colors like yellow and orange. To keep their adventurous spirit alive, choose sunny yellows and warm oranges.”

Aries, March 21 to April 19

“Aries are known for their fearlessness and assertiveness,” West said. “They are drawn to bold, powerful colors like red and orange. To keep their bold spirit alive, choose bright reds, oranges, and fiery pinks.”

Taurus, April 20 to May 20

“Taurus is a earth sign that is practical and grounded,” West said. “They are drawn to earthy, natural colors like brown and green. To keep their grounded spirit alive, choose earthy browns and greens.”

Gemini, May 21 to June 21

“Gemini is a air sign that is curious and adaptable,” West said. “They are drawn to bright, vibrant colors like yellow and green. To keep their curious spirit alive, choose bright yellows and fresh greens.”
ANNOUNCEMENTS

The IOWA STATE DAILY

Recommends

ALL ITS READERS

Closely examine any job opportunity or service that sounds too good to be true. These are examples.

Before investing any money, please contact the

Des Moines Better Business Bureau

at 515-242-8137

Deaths

Dec. 24-31: 1. Tanaka, church board member.

2. Levy, local lawyer.

Jan. 1-7: 3. Porcile, local

lawyer.

Jan. 8-14: 4. Feinberg,

lawyer.

Jan. 15-21: 5. Lumet, film

director.

Jan. 22-28: 6. Jeppesen,

local lawyer.

Jan. 29-Feb. 4: 7. Wood,

lawyer.

Jan. 5-11: 8. Kissinger, local

lawyer.

lawyer.

Jan. 19-25: 10. Feinberg,

lawyer.

Jan. 26-31: 11. Lumet, film

director.

Feb. 8-14: 13. Kissinger,

local lawyer.

lawyer.

Feb. 22-March 1: 15. Feinberg,

lawyer.

Feb. 22-March 1: 16. Lumet, film

director.

Feb. 22-March 1: 17. Wood,

lawyer.

Feb. 22-March 1: 18. Kissinger,

local lawyer.

Feb. 22-March 1: 19. Carter,

local lawyer.

Feb. 22-March 1: 20. Feinberg,

lawyer.

Feb. 22-March 1: 21. Lumet, film

director.

Feb. 22-March 1: 22. Wood,

lawyer.

Feb. 22-March 1: 23. Kissinger,

local lawyer.

Feb. 22-March 1: 24. Carter,

local lawyer.

Feb. 22-March 1: 25. Feinberg,

lawyer.

Feb. 22-March 1: 26. Lumet, film

director.

Feb. 22-March 1: 27. Wood,

lawyer.

Feb. 22-March 1: 28. Kissinger,

local lawyer.

Feb. 22-March 1: 29. Carter,

local lawyer.

Feb. 22-March 1: 30. Feinberg,

lawyer.

Feb. 22-March 1: 31. Lumet, film

director.

Feb. 22-March 1: 32. Wood,

lawyer.

Feb. 22-March 1: 33. Kissinger,

local lawyer.

Feb. 22-March 1: 34. Carter,

local lawyer.

Feb. 22-March 1: 35. Feinberg,

lawyer.

Feb. 22-March 1: 36. Lumet, film

director.

Feb. 22-March 1: 37. Wood,

lawyer.

Feb. 22-March 1: 38. Kissinger,

local lawyer.

Feb. 22-March 1: 39. Carter,

local lawyer.

Feb. 22-March 1: 40. Feinberg,

lawyer.