The Government of the Student Body presiden tial candidate will gather together to give their final speeches before elec tion day. The 2014 GSB presi dential debate will be at 6 p.m. tonight in the Can dinal Room of the Memorial Union.

Spencer Hughes, GSB president, said the debate is the last major opportunity for students to learn about both presiden tial candidates before voting. Hughes said Thursday’s debate is the only presidential debate for the 2014 campaign. The debate is an opportunity for them to express their own vision for Iowa State and ques tions for the other candidates in their opposing views,” Hughes said.

The moderator of the debate will be😔, a member of the election com mission. The debate will be focused on the topics of education, finan cial aid, student life, and international student services. Hughes said that the debate will help students learn about the candidates and their platforms in a more in-depth manner.

“The debate is an opportunity for students to express their own vision for Iowa State and questions for the other candidates in their opposing views,” Hughes said.

“The debate will be focused on the topics of education, finan cial aid, student life, and international student services. Hughes said that the debate will help students learn about the candidates and their platforms in a more in-depth manner.”

The debate will be focused on the topics of education, finan cial aid, student life, and international student services. Hughes said that the debate will help students learn about the candidates and their platforms in a more in-depth manner.

The debate will be focused on the topics of education, finan cial aid, student life, and international student services. Hughes said that the debate will help students learn about the candidates and their platforms in a more in-depth manner.

The debate will be focused on the topics of education, finan cial aid, student life, and international student services. Hughes said that the debate will help students learn about the candidates and their platforms in a more in-depth manner.
Calendar

By Lena Trace

_The dietetics program at Iowa State is becoming more competitive by changing its curriculum and guidelines._

---

The Global Pandemic of Physical Inactivity:

_A Urgency for Public Health_

Thursday

_Cyclone Cinema: 12 Years a Slave_

Where:

_Harold Bill Kohl III has been named the Pease Family Scholar-in-Residence and Scholarship, and Committee on Lectures (funded by GSB)._ The Pease Family Scholar and Chairperson for the nutrition and dietetics program at Iowa State that has been gaining interest.

---

Friday

Weather

_Sunny and cool. Chance of light snows.

Saturday, March 1st:

_Barry D. Germain, instructor for the dietetics program at Iowa State because it’s basically a student-run restaurant on campus._

---

Monday

Weather

_Sunny and cold. Chance of light snows.

Wednesday

What:

_The Iowa State Theatre presents: 12 Years a Slave_ Cyclone Cinema: Thursday

Where:

_101 Carter Hall_
IU Regents to fund research tunnel

IU President Michael McRobbie said Thursday that the university’s Board of Regents will allocate up to $2 million to refurbish the university’s wind tunnel, which he said is “the branch of the future.”

“With the challenges we face today, it’s pretty clear to me that the wind tunnel is an area of cutting-edge research that’s relevant to coming decades,” McRobbie said.

The wind tunnel, located in the Department of Aerospace, Mechanical and Bioengineering, is one of a kind on private campuses, McRobbie said.

“Any wind tunnel on a university campus today is going to give you a competitive advantage,” he said.

“Every cutting-edge company in the world has a wind tunnel,” McRobbie said.

McRobbie said the tunnel allows the university to “not only keep up, but to be out in front of other competitors.”

IU’s wind tunnel opened in 1992 with a $3 million donation from the Goodrich Corporation. It was the first tunnel of its kind in the nation.

The tunnel, which McRobbie said is a “tremendous asset for the university,” allows researchers and students to study how the wind interacts with objects.

“With the tunnel, you can simulate the physical world in a digital world,” McRobbie said.

IU’s wind tunnel has been used to study a variety of topics, including icing phenomena and aerodynamics.

The university is planning to refurbish the tunnel to improve its capabilities and to ensure it remains competitive with other wind tunnels.

IU students and researchers have used the tunnel to study everything from the effects of wind on rural houses to the aerodynamics of wind turbines.

“With the university’s leadership in these cutting-edge research areas, we can attract top students and faculty, which is good for our students and good for our university,” McRobbie said.

McRobbie said the university is committed to continuing the research at the tunnel and hopes to have it ready for use by the fall of 2023.
Iowa State University was put in a difficult position when the Freedom From Religion Foundation, a group that promotes the separation of church and state, complained about the practice of placing Bibles in hotel rooms owned by the university. The University of Wisconsin soon removed the Bibles from the publicly accessible Browsing Library. Why is it correct decision?

The university chose to react in another manner. instead of removing Bibles from the rooms, they would have the ability to have a Bible in their room. The toilets would be moved to the room to make it more convenient for the guests. instead of removing the Bibles from the rooms, they would have the ability to have a Bible in their room. The toilets would be moved to the room to make it more convenient for the guests.

A similar situation, also involving the Public Library System of Western Wisconsin, occurred at the University of Wisconsin when a guest checked into a room that included a Bible. The guest proceeded to file a complaint with the Freedom from Religion Foundation, saying that it was not about there problems in a less personal setting because they will not feel as upset on one side of the issue or the other. Social media sites like Facebook and Twitter are used as outlets to reach others. People should not have to worry about keeping up appearances online.

The internet should not just be an outlet, but also a place where people have the ability to have a Bible in their room. The toilets would be moved to the room to make it more convenient for the guests. instead of removing the Bibles from the rooms, they would have the ability to have a Bible in their room. The toilets would be moved to the room to make it more convenient for the guests.
Prepare for Sunday’s event with these favorites

By ISD Staff

Need a deep sleep before the Academy Awards this Sunday? 247 writers Jarrett Quick, Nick Hudson and Jordan Main, along with 247 assistant editor Matt Zewert and Editor-in-Chief Kayleyn McCollough share their predictions before the ceremony.

Best Picture: "Her"

Quick: "12 Years a Slave" 2012’s Oscar Best War drama in recent memory and every one of its performances tops our pick. "12 Years a Slave" will be the one.

Zewert: "12 Years a Slave" Trust me, after having seen all nine of these movies, there is not one more deserving for this film doesn’t walk away with the ultimate prize.

Hudson: "12 Years a Slave" The biggest performance of the year and a insane amount of work has been put into this film so it will take home his Osca.

Main: "12 Years a Slave" The film took top honors at both the Golden Globes and the British Academy Film Awards, and I think the momentum will carry over to the Oscars.

Kastalyn McCollough: "12 Years a Slave" There’s more than a few movies in contention for this category, but 12 Years a Slave’’s show some oscar-worthy, which will give them the win in the often-politically-motivated Academy Award category.

Best Actor: Matthew McConaughey, “Dallas Buyers Club”

Quick: Matthew McConaughey’s performance against his traditional type in "Dallas Buyers Club" was almost unrecognizable, and his way hedges well for Academy Awards.

Hudson: Christoph Waltz, "12 Years a Slave" In this year, how could I not pick my hero? He knocked it out of the park and has been nominated as Best in the Desert era. "12 Years a Slave"

Main: Leonardo DiCaprio, “The Wolf of Wall Street” Although he hasn’t seen his performance in "The Wolf of Wall Street," he is long overdue to finally own an Oscar.

Zewert: Matthew McConaughey, "Dallas Buyers Club"

"Dallas Buyers Club" I was a fan of McConaughey back when he was in "To Live or Die in L.A." 10 Days. He’s come a long way, and he deserves this. It’s un举行的 performance, so it’s a easy to do a Best Director win.

Best Actress: Sandra Bullock, "Gravity"

Quick: "Gravity" Mayor? It may be heavy, but Bullock’s driving performance held the audience spellbound. She’s come a long way since "Speed," and "Gravity" is breathtaking.

Hudson: Cate Blanchett, "Blue Jasmine" I have heard of a few changes behind-the-scenes, but there’s no doubt Cate Blanchett should be preparing for her acceptance speach now.

Main: Cate Blanchett, "Blue Jasmine" She’s coming off a win last year from "Lee Daniels’ The Butler" and should take home this one.

Zewert: Cate Blanchett, "Blue Jasmine" "Blue Jasmine" might not be at the front of every movie goer minds this awards season, but there is no doubt Cate Blanchett should be preparing for her acceptance speach now.

Best Director: Quick: Steve McQueen, "12 Years a Slave" 2012’s a Slave’’s story and struggles point out the way to a Best Director win.

Hudson: Steven Spielberg, "Lincoln" Though he is slowly losing steam, I have no doubt "Lincoln" will take home the Best Director prize.

Main: Steve McQueen, "12 Years a Slave" McQueen is doing it again with "12 Years a Slave" and should take home the Best Director prize.

Zewert: Matthew McConaughey, "Dallas Buyers Club"

McConaughey’s performance in "Dallas Buyers Club" was almost unrecognizable, and his way hedges well for Academy Awards.

Best Supporting Actor: "American Hustle"

Quick: "American Hustle" Even against McConaughey’s performance in "Dallas Buyers Club," "American Hustle" is a strong contender.

Hudson: Barkhad Abdi, "Captain Phillips" Abdi’s performance in "Captain Phillips" is astounding. He’s also won the categor...

Main: Barkhad Abdi, "Captain Phillips" He’ll win with his excellent performance, and a Best Supporting Actor win.

Zewert: Barkhad Abdi, "Captain Phillips" I think it’s safe to see that the story re... he pleaded with the official only a technical foul in the first half. Played defense. Three weeks ago. This time the sided 25-point loss last time. Finishes the Cyclones have been putting one piece together, more than pieces come together, said ISU assistant coach Glenn Smith. "We must each other.
That resulted in keeping the game tied for the second spot in the Big 12 and getting overtime on its worst loss of the season.
When someone embarrasses you away from your true self, you have to take that, said Tamba. "I just felt like we did a good job of getting them back.
"I'm excited to show how far we have come as a team from last season's Big 12, said Brown. "It showed me that I can go and run my race.
Iowa State Daily
---

Men's track and field to use prior momentum in Big 12 competition
By Kyle Koshak

Track and field can sometimes be a sport based all on momentum. Momentum in when the running, jumping, and throwing are successful.
The athletes also use momentum to carry over through practice and/or from meet to meet and out. Now, the Iowa State men's track and field team saw that momentum carried over from practice for the Big 12 Indoor Championships this weekend.
"Momentum is the Big 12's and improving, and working towards the Big 12 Indoor Championships, said Morris. "They forced us to produce, and Niang countered on the endique.
Hit a 3-pointer from the corner above his head as he retreated down court. Niang finished with 24 points, including free runner Ejim picked up technical fouls.
Iowa State Daily
---

Cyclones defeat No. 15 Cowgirls in Stillwater
By Dylan Montz

For the first time since Jan. 25, the Iowa State women's basketball team faced a road contest and a close game away from Hilton Coliseum, winning by 17-30 points. The win avenges a 69-62 loss by the Cyclones against the Cowgirls in Stillwater, Okla. on Saturday.
Iowa State Daily
---

Women's track and field to host championship, favorite prepare
By Chris Wofford

The indoor track and field season is coming to a close, but not before a few championships will be hosted. Athletes from the Big 12 will have an opportunity to do that this weekend at the Big 12 Indoor Track and Field Championship.
In addition to potentially winning Big 12 titles, ISU athletes will have to qualify for the NCAA Indoor Championships, which will be held the weekend.
The Big 12 women's track and field has a chance at a third title in a row this weekend, and the added bonus for the mile was being hosted at ISU.
Ejiro Okoro currently seems the third fastest time nationally in her main event, the 400-meter hurdles. Okoro comes in as the favorite in the event and will be gunning for her first Big 12 Championship. It's a really good field, but we're going to step up and run our event, said Moritz. "She has a lot of poise in the race, said Brown. "She has a lot of poise in the race, said Brown.
Iowa State Daily
---

Cyclones defeat No. 15 Cowgirls in Stillwater
By Dylan Montz

For the first time since Jan. 25, the Iowa State women's basketball team faced a road contest and a close game away from Hilton Coliseum, winning by 17-30 points. The win avenges a 69-62 loss by the Cyclones against the Cowgirls in Stillwater, Okla. on Saturday.
Iowa State Daily
---

Ejim misses minutes, Iowa State 'gets revenge' against West Virginia
By Dylan Montz

After going down 2-0 recently, Johnson caused a frenzy for the Cyclones giving Iowa State a 3-2 lead on the evening. Possession, Chris折磨er noticed a 3 of 3 free throw open up a 2-1 lead. Oklahoma State was able to tie and keep the game alive.
"Iowa State will be hosting the eight conference meet on Nov. 15, 2013 in Ames. The ISU women's cross-country team will try to make a trip to the NCAA Cross-Country Championships.
Iowa State Daily
---

"I'm excited to show how far we have come as a team from last season's Big 12, said Brown. "It showed me that I can go and run my race.
Iowa State Daily
---

Ejim makes 4-of-5 from the floor in final minutes to help Cyclones win.
Iowa State Daily
---

 Cyclones defeat No. 15 Cowgirls in Stillwater
By Dylan Montz

For the first time since Jan. 25, the Iowa State women's basketball team faced a road contest and a close game away from Hilton Coliseum, winning by 17-30 points. The win avenges a 69-62 loss by the Cyclones against the Cowgirls in Stillwater, Okla. on Saturday.
Iowa State Daily
---

Ejim makes 4-of-5 from the floor in final minutes to help Cyclones win.
Iowa State Daily
---

"I'm excited to show how far we have come as a team from last season's Big 12, said Brown. "It showed me that I can go and run my race.
Wrestlers seek fresh start to take Big 12 title in postseason

By Ryan Young | sports@iowastatedaily.com | 515.294.2003

With the regular season over, the 260 wrestlers have a new number: a fresh start.

“I think a lot of people, they’re just excited to start the postseason,” said 151-pounder Jordan Moreno. “You get to start over. It’s the postseason now. You really feel like the postseason is there and you’re out the window. Just giving you a Big 12 title, you don’t need a good record in the regular season to be successful. You have struggled to find consistent success in the regular season, however, some seem to be sensing that changing at least on some level.

Moreno is embracing the “fresh start” that March bring, doesn’t have much to shed from the regular season. The senior is looking to the season with a record of 25-3 and the first marks on the team.

But to the redshirt junior, his record is nothing more than a number. “I couldn’t tell you my record, right now, honestly,” Moreno said. “It’s not important to me. Every time I step on the mat, I try to maintain a 3-0 mark. I just want to go out there and just get the win.”

Moreno also heads into the postseason having won six-straight matches, and he recorded his 600th career win last weekend against Minnesota. The senior junior even led the team in takedowns this season with 30.

“The whole team’s really looking to the postseason, honestly. Moreno might not pay attention to the statistics himself, others are starting to take notice.”

“I think it’s a great opportunity to be a Big 12 Champion,” said Jordan. “It’s going to be through, that only match, and if you’re not careful, once you get past him, you probably get a gold medal.” Moreno looks forward to that.

“It’s not just Moreno starting to peak at the right time. Jackson sees throughout his team that they’re ready to step up to the challenge.

“It’s an exciting part of the season,” Jackson said. “I think we have some guys who are ready for this. This is the real season. The guys are ready for it, and we have some guys who are really eager for the Big 12 Championship to begin.

“It’s an exciting time.”

Jackson heads into the Big 12 Championships coming off of a second place finish last year. The Cyclones are Oklahoma and Oklahoma State, which could mean an interesting storyline the rest of the Cyclones.

Both the Sooners and the Cowboys defeated Iowa State in the regular season, and have been ranked consistently in the top 10 all season. However, both inherited some tough teams in action since already, but both teams may have a bit of an advantage.

“All teams are very, very strong,” Jackson said. “Oklahoma and Oklahoma State have had great real seasons. There will be some great matches for us. The best thing about it is that we’ve seen some teams that never would have been supposed to, that they would have a good idea.

“We have to go out and win the close match,” Moreno said. “We need to go out there and steal away some of these matches that we didn’t win last time. Also, we’re going to have some spots of pressure in the matches, we have to go out there and beat a lot of weights, but guys are hungry for a title. If we take care of business, then we’ll be all right.”
Horoscope by Linda Black

Cancer (June 21-July 22)

With disciplined focus, your present endeavors will have a percentage of the year. Creativity and a sense of humor, especially on August, when career takes off. Stay optimistic, take on a new project these horizons. (You can keep your batteries charged indefinitely.)

To get the advantage, think outside the box every day. The most challenging.

Aries (March 21-April 19)

Today is 6 — Surround yourself with friends. Ask them what they know about their lives, and what constitute the bricks to make it to the top. Working is the key to minimize your stress and to achieve your goals. A new surprise.

Taurus (April 20-May 20)

Today is 7 — Attend partners. Be the talking text. Advance your career with your head held high. Take note of your hard work. This gives you a little more. Let others know what you understand them. Sign to the dotted line.

Gemini (May 21-June 20)

Today is 8 — Get on the right track now. The number 1006 and friends connected. Study the key to minimize your stress and to achieve your goals. New surprises.

Cancer (June 21-July 22)

Today is 7 — Get on the right track now. The number 1006 and friends connected. Study the key to minimize your stress and to achieve your goals. New surprises.

Sagittarius (Dec. 21-Jan. 19)

Today is 8 — Use and tested techniques applied to your brilliant ideas. Control with the family. Your commitment is bigger than whatever your considerations cause. Be your idol to look for the perspective from your family.

Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)

Today is 8 — Go to move forward with intention. You are fascinated by the power of ritualistic thinking. Especially financial. Some of your nuances can be seen. Listen carefully. Be a leader. Write down your personal insights.

Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 18)

Today is 8 — Put your feelings into the world. This is your personal moment. Be more. The book is being offered to you at no cost because it’s the right move.

Pisces (Feb. 19-Mar. 20)

Today is 8 — Get back to work smarter. Negotiate for a profit. Ideas. Listen carefully for advantage implications from current events, and get the word out. Listen carefully for advantage implications from current events, and get the word out.