"The Daily Show" cast members, J.R. Havlan, left, Al Madrigal, and John Hodgman will be at Stephens Auditorium on Friday to give their satiric take on this year's election season.

"This is the perfect end to this year's campaign season," said Pat Miller, program manager of "The Daily Show Indecision Tour 2012." "It's a perfect storm for the new format of the ISU Foundation," he added. "We're looking for something that is very unique, and, obviously, that is fundraising background. Neuhaus has that."
his education at the Loras College Foundation.

Neuhaus continued. “I was elated that the foundation recognized phantom [Neuhaus’s] many years of administrative and project experience at the Loras Center in northern Arizona.”

Neuhaus is a respected figure in the field of ethics and communication. He is known for his work in media, communication, and public relations.

Neuhaus’s work in the field of ethics has been widely recognized, and he is considered one of the leading figures in the field. His work has been influential in shaping the way that media and communication are perceived and understood.

Jingle Jog

The ISU Jingle Jog is an event that started in 2008 and is now a popular annual tradition. The event takes place on the last Friday of November and attracts hundreds of participants, running from the Memorial Union to the ISU Union. The festival features a costume contest, live music, and festive activities, with proceeds going to charity. Participants enjoy holiday-themed decorations and fun festive events, making it a beloved community event.

Student organizations

The Freshmen Council is a student organization at Iowa State University responsible for planning and organizing events and activities for incoming freshmen. The council, led by the council president, works to create a welcoming and engaging environment for new students, ensuring they have a positive start to their college experience.

Marijuana law reform group under heat

A group on campus has formed to address the issue of marijuana laws and to promote their legalization. The group is called the National Organization for the Reform of Marijuana Laws (NORML) and is working on legislation related to marijuana policies. They have engaged in discussions with campus officials and have advocated for changes in campus policies regarding marijuana.

The ISU Daily has been covering the story, highlighting the concerns of students and the efforts of the NORML group to bring attention to the issue of marijuana legalization. The group’s activities and events are likely to continue, as they aim to make progress in advocating for legal changes on campus and beyond.

Jingle Jog 2012

The ISU Jingle Jog is an annual event held on the last Friday of November in Iowa City. This year's Jingle Jog took place on November 30, 2012. The event attracted a large number of participants, with around 700 runners participating. The route of the jog started at the Memorial Union and ended at the ISU Union. It included festive decorations and a costume contest, making it a popular holiday tradition.

The Jingle Jog is organized by the Freshmen Council and has become a beloved event on campus. It is a fun and engaging way for students to participate in a holiday activity while also supporting a good cause.

Jingle Jog Details

- Date: November 30, 2012
- Location: Memoral Union to the ISU Union
- Time: 4:00 p.m.
- Activities: Costume contest, live music, festive decorations

The Jingle Jog is an excellent example of how campus organizations use events and activities to engage students and promote a positive campus culture. It also serves as an opportunity for fundraiser for various causes, as the proceeds from the event go to support charitable organizations.

Additional activities during Jingle Jog

- Comedy Competition
- Gift Card Giveaway
- Fundraiser with a 10% discount for the week
- Silent Disco
- Live Music
- Food and Drink

These activities were part of the broader celebration of the Jingle Jog event, providing a diverse range of experiences for attendees. The event successfully brought the community together, fostering a sense of camaraderie and fun during the holiday season.
Black Friday should be moved to the Wednesday before Thanksgiving. Everyone will be able to enjoy all that traditional Christmas food, like potatoes with melted marshmallows. At 4 a.m. at a certain store. Of all Thanksgivings to come because everyone can see the insanity. We're technically a union, not a confederacy. We're a big push for this in the United States right now. It means farmers and learn about their lifestyles. There was any Constitutional provision to that effect. If our nation went as far as to amend the Constitution to give the president the power to declare war, it would be an abrogation of the rights of individuals. So far, Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, Missouri, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee and Texas have given the green light. More are nearing a decision. It is difficult to say whether there is a way to avoid the problem of a vote of approval. Unlike Justice Stephen G. Breyer and Justice Antonin Scalia even wrote, “If the amendment is not ratified by the legislatures of the states as required by the Constitution, a popular vote of approval is not necessary.”

Consider your food's origins

Dankbar's experience after traveling to Honduras for a cultural immersion trip opened her eyes to understanding the implications behind the food we eat and the distance that separates us from the places where our food comes from. It is not obvious that with the advent of globalization and the ease of international travel, we have become more conscious of the origins of our food. But after this trip to Honduras, Dankbar's awareness of the complexities involved in the production of food has grown. She now strives to be more conscious of the food she eats and the place of origin. Dankbar's experience has made her more motivated to make conscious food choices. She has learned about why it is necessary to understand the origins of our food, and she is committed to being more conscious of the food she puts in her body. She has come to see the complexity of our food origins and the implications of our food choices. Dankbar's experience has opened her eyes to the importance of understanding the implications behind the food we eat.
Wrestling

Oklahoma State's Cael Sanderson has been one of the dominant wrestlers in college wrestling for the past several years. He has helped lead Oklahoma State to multiple NCAA championships and has won numerous individual titles. Sanderson's performance often sets the tone for the rest of the Oklahoma State wrestling team, which has consistently been one of the top teams in the nation. Sanderson's success has been due in part to his exceptional technique and ability to control his opponents from the start of a match. Sanderson's success has inspired other wrestlers to work hard and improve their skills. Overall, Oklahoma State's wrestling team has excelled under the leadership of coach John Smith, who has been able to create a culture of excellence and hard work within the program.

ISU hopes to use momentum this weekend

By Clint Calhoun

It has been almost two months since they've done so, but the Cyclones are finally heading into a weekend with the momentum from a sweep the previous weekend. The No. 13 ISU hockey team takes on the No. 16 Central Oklahoma Bronchos this weekend at 7:30 p.m. Friday and 8 p.m. Saturday. The Cyclones have been doing just that, defeated the Mountaineers in Ames Saturday night after sweep -ing West Virginia in Ames the previous weekend. The No. 13 ISU/IU hockey teams (13-0-1) host No. 16 Central Oklahoma this Friday and Saturday night after sweep-ing West Virginia in Ames the previous weekend. The Cyclones defined the Mountaineers in Mountaineers Friday night 7-2 and won a close one 3-1 on Saturday. Central Oklahoma (22-0- 0) is going into the weekend with the momentum from a sweep last weekend as well. Last weekend, the Bronchos beat No. 17 Alabama by a score of 3-1 in both games of the weekend. The Bronchos also beat Lindenwood 3-1 in both games of the weekend.
