10-22-2012

Iowa State Daily (Homecoming 10-22-2012)

Iowa State Daily

Follow this and additional works at: http://lib.dr.iastate.edu/iowastatedaily_2012-10

Part of the Higher Education Commons, and the Journalism Studies Commons

Recommended Citation

http://lib.dr.iastate.edu/iowastatedaily_2012-10/20

This Book is brought to you for free and open access by the Iowa State Daily, 2012 at Iowa State University Digital Repository. It has been accepted for inclusion in Iowa State Daily, October 2012 by an authorized administrator of Iowa State University Digital Repository. For more information, please contact digirep@iastate.edu.
CYTENNIAL
HOMECOMING

OCT 21-26
HOMECOMING
FOOD ON CAMPUS!

Monday
La Forna Chicken
Dundie
Egg and Salsa
Blue Bome Ice
Crown/Cone
College of Business and the College of Human Sciences

Tuesday
Nostalgia & Company
Bacon Burgers
and Cheese
Blackhawk
Rico-Kingham Towel
College of Liberal
Arts and Sciences

Wednesday
Knecht Farms
Green Goose
Cinnamon Rolls
French Toast and Syrup
College of Liberal
Arts and Sciences

Thursday
The Church of Pizza
Tan's
Snowboarding
Cold Stone Creamery
Ice Cream
Blue Moon
Monster Root Beer
College of Engineering

Friday
Texas-Mex-Illinois
Sandwich
Acacia Lodge's
Omelet
Sugar Cane
College of Agriculture and the Greene
and Carlson
Committee finalizes plans for upcoming celebration

By Ashley Hunt
Whosampledaily.com

Each year an esteemed Homecoming committee is selected. In this role the Iowa State University Homecoming co-chairmen organize events in order to celebrate ISU students and alumni, and the event that is a favorite for ISU students each year.

This year Alicia Snyder and Morgan Foldes have been selected as this year’s Homecoming co-chairwomen. This duo has been planning for nearly a year. After being named general co-chairwomen in November, the two began developing their goals for what they would like to see at Homecoming 2012.

Snyder and Foldes noted that members of the Homecoming Committee are excited for this year’s celebration. Committee and alumni are calling this year’s celebration the Cytennial Celebration.

As an important milestone in the history of ISU Homecomings, new events and changes can be expected this year.

In addition to this, the Friday night pep rally, which is usually on Central Campus, is set to be held at the ISU Alumni Center. “Our name's definitely out there this year,” Snyder said.

Homecoming was always so cool in high school, so I thought at this level, only better said Foldes, junior in interior design.

Both said it was also appealing to be able to get more “bang for their buck” at the event. “It seems their efforts have been successful. It seems the Iowa State Fair and introductory events held at Iowa State. ‘Our name’s definitely out there this year,” Snyder said.

Homecoming 2013 marks the 100 anniversary of ISU Homecomings. To celebrate, the committee and the alumni are calling this year’s celebration the Cytennial Celebration.

As an important milestone in the history of ISU Homecomings, new events and changes can be expected this year.

Snyder is most looking forward to working with the other committee members; the first meeting to begin the official planning was held for the 2012 committe. “We’ve been planning since,” Snyder said.

This year’s Homecoming Committee is made up of 26 members. Within the committee, the group is divided into several subcommittees, including student events, lawn displays, and the 2012 celebration.

Snyder and Foldes said they came into the position with several ideas of how they would like to see at Homecoming 2012.

“Mostly we just put our ideas in the committee, or at least they tend to turn them into their own.” This year Snyder and Foldes really wanted to improve their public relations skills. “Last year our PR didn’t reach the levels it should have, so we just really wanted to do that this year.”

It seems their efforts have been successful. The Homecoming Committee has been selling Homecoming buttons at several events including the Iowa State Fair and introductory events held at Iowa State. “Our name’s definitely out there this year,” Snyder said.

Homecoming 2013 marks the 100 anniversary of ISU Homecomings. To celebrate, the committee and the alumni are calling this year’s celebration the Cytennial Celebration.

As an important milestone in the history of ISU Homecomings, new events and changes can be expected this year.

“Homecoming was always so cool in high school, so I thought at this level, only better said Foldes, junior in interior design.

It seems their efforts have been successful. “Our name’s definitely out there this year,” Snyder said. Homecoming 2013 marks the 100 anniversary of ISU Homecomings. To celebrate, the committee and the alumni are calling this year’s celebration the Cytennial Celebration.

As an important milestone in the history of ISU Homecomings, new events and changes can be expected this year.

committees, so that they could twist and turn their ideas on to each subcommittee. The duo also recommends attending the Homecoming Committee in preparation for upcoming celebration.

When I first applied to be on the committee my freshman year, the idea of being able to plan such a huge event was appealing to me.” Snyder is most excited to work with the other committee members; the first meeting to begin the official planning was held for the 2012 committee. “We’ve been planning since,” Snyder said.

This year’s Homecoming Committee is made up of 26 members. Within the committee, the group is divided into several subcommittees, including student events, lawn displays, and the 2012 celebration.

Snyder and Foldes said they came into the position with several ideas of how they would like to see at Homecoming 2012.

“Mostly we just put our ideas in the committee, or at least they tend to turn them into their own.” This year Snyder and Foldes really wanted to improve their public relations skills. “Last year our PR didn’t reach the levels it should have, so we just really wanted to do that this year.”

It seems their efforts have been successful. The Homecoming Committee has been selling Homecoming buttons at several events including the Iowa State Fair and introductory events held at Iowa State. “Our name’s definitely out there this year,” Snyder said.

Homecoming 2013 marks the 100 anniversary of ISU Homecomings. To celebrate, the committee and the alumni are calling this year’s celebration the Cytennial Celebration.

As an important milestone in the history of ISU Homecomings, new events and changes can be expected this year.

committees, so that they could twist and turn their ideas on to each subcommittee. The duo also recommends attending the Homecoming Committee in preparation for upcoming celebration.

When I first applied to be on the committee my freshman year, the idea of being able to plan such a huge event was appealing to me.” Snyder is most excited to work with the other committee members; the first meeting to begin the official planning was held for the 2012 committee. “We’ve been planning since,” Snyder said.

This year’s Homecoming Committee is made up of 26 members. Within the committee, the group is divided into several subcommittees, including student events, lawn displays, and the 2012 celebration.

Snyder and Foldes said they came into the position with several ideas of how they would like to see at Homecoming 2012.

“Mostly we just put our ideas in the committee, or at least they tend to turn them into their own.” This year Snyder and Foldes really wanted to improve their public relations skills. “Last year our PR didn’t reach the levels it should have, so we just really wanted to do that this year.”

It seems their efforts have been successful. The Homecoming Committee has been selling Homecoming buttons at several events including the Iowa State Fair and introductory events held at Iowa State. “Our name’s definitely out there this year,” Snyder said.

Homecoming 2013 marks the 100 anniversary of ISU Homecomings. To celebrate, the committee and the alumni are calling this year’s celebration the Cytennial Celebration.

As an important milestone in the history of ISU Homecomings, new events and changes can be expected this year.

committees, so that they could twist and turn their ideas on to each subcommittee. The duo also recommends attending the Homecoming Committee in preparation for upcoming celebration.

When I first applied to be on the committee my freshman year, the idea of being able to plan such a huge event was appealing to me.” Snyder is most excited to work with the other committee members; the first meeting to begin the official planning was held for the 2012 committee. “We’ve been planning since,” Snyder said.

This year’s Homecoming Committee is made up of 26 members. Within the committee, the group is divided into several subcommittees, including student events, lawn displays, and the 2012 celebration.

Snyder and Foldes said they came into the position with several ideas of how they would like to see at Homecoming 2012.

“Mostly we just put our ideas in the committee, or at least they tend to turn them into their own.” This year Snyder and Foldes really wanted to improve their public relations skills. “Last year our PR didn’t reach the levels it should have, so we just really wanted to do that this year.”

It seems their efforts have been successful. The Homecoming Committee has been selling Homecoming buttons at several events including the Iowa State Fair and introductory events held at Iowa State. “Our name’s definitely out there this year,” Snyder said.

Homecoming 2013 marks the 100 anniversary of ISU Homecomings. To celebrate, the committee and the alumni are calling this year’s celebration the Cytennial Celebration.

As an important milestone in the history of ISU Homecomings, new events and changes can be expected this year.

committees, so that they could twist and turn their ideas on to each subcommittee. The duo also recommends attending the Homecoming Committee in preparation for upcoming celebration.

When I first applied to be on the committee my freshman year, the idea of being able to plan such a huge event was appealing to me.” Snyder is most excited to work with the other committee members; the first meeting to begin the official planning was held for the 2012 committee. “We’ve been planning since,” Snyder said.

This year’s Homecoming Committee is made up of 26 members. Within the committee, the group is divided into several subcommittees, including student events, lawn displays, and the 2012 celebration.

Snyder and Foldes said they came into the position with several ideas of how they would like to see at Homecoming 2012.

“Mostly we just put our ideas in the committee, or at least they tend to turn them into their own.” This year Snyder and Foldes really wanted to improve their public relations skills. “Last year our PR didn’t reach the levels it should have, so we just really wanted to do that this year.”

It seems their efforts have been successful. The Homecoming Committee has been selling Homecoming buttons at several events including the Iowa State Fair and introductory events held at Iowa State. “Our name’s definitely out there this year,” Snyder said.

Homecoming 2013 marks the 100 anniversary of ISU Homecomings. To celebrate, the committee and the alumni are calling this year’s celebration the Cytennial Celebration.

As an important milestone in the history of ISU Homecomings, new events and changes can be expected this year.
Students stand out within 2012 Homecoming Court

Monday, Oct. 22, 2012  |  Iowa State Daily  |

Liddy Hora of Fort Dodge, Iowa, will graduate with a business degree. Furleigh has developed a passion for Latin America volunteering and teaching English. He followed his passion for aeroplanes and defence the past two summers, interning at F16Dri International in the Boeing Company. He will graduate in May as a fourth-generation ISU alumna.

Alumni Leadership Council, Class Council for the Student Body, the Women’s Basketball Pep Band, and the Cyclone Alley Central Committee. He has traveled to India his last eight weeks and will be enjoying his adventure but looks forward to representing cardi-

Paul Benes, son of Anna and Igor Benes, is a sophomore in civil engineering and Spanish language and literature. Throughout his fall and spring semesters, he has volunteered as a mentor at the University’s Ambassador Program.

The student made it through his senior year with a perfect 4.0 GPA and is a member of the Cyclone Alley Central Committee. He is also the co-chair for 2013. In addition, he is a member of Student Alumni Association, Diversity and Inclusion, and a member of Greek Honor Society, Alpha Gamma Rho.

Other campus activities

Cardinal Key Honor Society.

Interfraternity Council, the executive board. He also currently serves as a member of the 10,000 Hours Show and the Cyclone Alley Central Committee. He has traveled to India and studied abroad in Golden Key Honor Society, Accounting, and Student Alumni Association.

Nathan Johnson, son of Mark and Carol Johnson of Des Moines, is also a member of the Student Alumni Association. Baker has served as a member of the University Honors Program, the Vice President of Ag Science and Development and as a Cyclone Life Advisor. He will be enjoying his adventure but looks forward to representing cardi-

Ben Zole, son of Ronald and Mary Beth Zole of Marshalltown, Iowa, is currently serving as the director of development for the ISU Foundation. He has a degree in animal science education and has traveled to India.

Seymour Baker, son of Steve and Carla Baker of Ames, is majoring in public relations with a minor in Spanish. Baker has served as the Winter Carnival director, and he serves on the executive board of Dance Marathon.

Amanpreet Kaur, is the assistant, vice president of Ag Student Council, is a senior majoring in market-

Sheila Johnson, sophomore in agricultural business, is a member of Ag Science and Development, serving as president of the Environmental Student Association in the Campus Store and a member of Student Alumni Association. She is a junior majoring in agricultural business.

Ben Zole, son of Ronald and Mary Beth Zole of Marshalltown, Iowa, is currently serving as the director of development for the ISU Foundation. He has a degree in animal science education and has traveled to India.

Seymour Baker, son of Steve and Carla Baker of Ames, is majoring in public relations with a minor in Spanish. Baker has served as the Winter Carnival director, and he serves on the executive board of Dance Marathon.

Amanpreet Kaur, is the assistant, vice president of Ag Student Council, is a senior majoring in market-

Sheila Johnson, sophomore in agricultural business, is a member of Ag Science and Development, serving as president of the Environmental Student Association in the Campus Store and a member of Student Alumni Association. She is a junior majoring in agricultural business.

Ben Zole, son of Ronald and Mary Beth Zole of Marshalltown, Iowa, is currently serving as the director of development for the ISU Foundation. He has a degree in animal science education and has traveled to India.

Seymour Baker, son of Steve and Carla Baker of Ames, is majoring in public relations with a minor in Spanish. Baker has served as the Winter Carnival director, and he serves on the executive board of Dance Marathon.

Amanpreet Kaur, is the assistant, vice president of Ag Student Council, is a senior majoring in market-

Sheila Johnson, sophomore in agricultural business, is a member of Ag Science and Development, serving as president of the Environmental Student Association in the Campus Store and a member of Student Alumni Association. She is a junior majoring in agricultural business.

Ben Zole, son of Ronald and Mary Beth Zole of Marshalltown, Iowa, is currently serving as the director of development for the ISU Foundation. He has a degree in animal science education and has traveled to India.

Seymour Baker, son of Steve and Carla Baker of Ames, is majoring in public relations with a minor in Spanish. Baker has served as the Winter Carnival director, and he serves on the executive board of Dance Marathon.

Amanpreet Kaur, is the assistant, vice president of Ag Student Council, is a senior majoring in market-

Sheila Johnson, sophomore in agricultural business, is a member of Ag Science and Development, serving as president of the Environmental Student Association in the Campus Store and a member of Student Alumni Association. She is a junior majoring in agricultural business.

Ben Zole, son of Ronald and Mary Beth Zole of Marshalltown, Iowa, is currently serving as the director of development for the ISU Foundation. He has a degree in animal science education and has traveled to India.

Seymour Baker, son of Steve and Carla Baker of Ames, is majoring in public relations with a minor in Spanish. Baker has served as the Winter Carnival director, and he serves on the executive board of Dance Marathon.

Amanpreet Kaur, is the assistant, vice president of Ag Student Council, is a senior majoring in market-

Sheila Johnson, sophomore in agricultural business, is a member of Ag Science and Development, serving as president of the Environmental Student Association in the Campus Store and a member of Student Alumni Association. She is a junior majoring in agricultural business.

Ben Zole, son of Ronald and Mary Beth Zole of Marshalltown, Iowa, is currently serving as the director of development for the ISU Foundation. He has a degree in animal science education and has traveled to India.

Seymour Baker, son of Steve and Carla Baker of Ames, is majoring in public relations with a minor in Spanish. Baker has served as the Winter Carnival director, and he serves on the executive board of Dance Marathon.

Amanpreet Kaur, is the assistant, vice president of Ag Student Council, is a senior majoring in market-

Sheila Johnson, sophomore in agricultural business, is a member of Ag Science and Development, serving as president of the Environmental Student Association in the Campus Store and a member of Student Alumni Association. She is a junior majoring in agricultural business.

Ben Zole, son of Ronald and Mary Beth Zole of Marshalltown, Iowa, is currently serving as the director of development for the ISU Foundation. He has a degree in animal science education and has traveled to India.

Seymour Baker, son of Steve and Carla Baker of Ames, is majoring in public relations with a minor in Spanish. Baker has served as the Winter Carnival director, and he serves on the executive board of Dance Marathon.

Amanpreet Kaur, is the assistant, vice president of Ag Student Council, is a senior majoring in market-

Sheila Johnson, sophomore in agricultural business, is a member of Ag Science and Development, serving as president of the Environmental Student Association in the Campus Store and a member of Student Alumni Association. She is a junior majoring in agricultural business.

Ben Zole, son of Ronald and Mary Beth Zole of Marshalltown, Iowa, is currently serving as the director of development for the ISU Foundation. He has a degree in animal science education and has traveled to India.

Seymour Baker, son of Steve and Carla Baker of Ames, is majoring in public relations with a minor in Spanish. Baker has served as the Winter Carnival director, and he serves on the executive board of Dance Marathon.

Amanpreet Kaur, is the assistant, vice president of Ag Student Council, is a senior majoring in market-

Sheila Johnson, sophomore in agricultural business, is a member of Ag Science and Development, serving as president of the Environmental Student Association in the Campus Store and a member of Student Alumni Association. She is a junior majoring in agricultural business.

Ben Zole, son of Ronald and Mary Beth Zole of Marshalltown, Iowa, is currently serving as the director of development for the ISU Foundation. He has a degree in animal science education and has traveled to India.

Seymour Baker, son of Steve and Carla Baker of Ames, is majoring in public relations with a minor in Spanish. Baker has served as the Winter Carnival director, and he serves on the executive board of Dance Marathon.

Amanpreet Kaur, is the assistant, vice president of Ag Student Council, is a senior majoring in market-

Sheila Johnson, sophomore in agricultural business, is a member of Ag Science and Development, serving as president of the Environmental Student Association in the Campus Store and a member of Student Alumni Association. She is a junior majoring in agricultural business.
“Smashing. The conversations I have with the bartenders of the pub are intelligent and their jokes are witty.” I fancy the Underground for their selection of more than 75 imported and craft beers. This establishment is unique because of the absence of the tellies. No distractions, just pure socialising. Truly Ames’ only and finest British pub. I cordially invite you to a pint, cheers.

Beth Wessel-Kroeschell

“I am fighting for affordable quality university education by adequately funding Iowa State University. I am fighting for your rights. Your right to vote. Your right to love the person you want. Your right to affordable reproductive health care. As your representative in the Iowa Legislature, I am committed to being a strong voice for you on these and other vital issues.”

Beth’s daughter Liza is a sophomore in college and Beth understands your concerns about the price of education and opportunities after college. Beth has a lifelong connection to Iowa State University. Her father retired from teaching in the Political Science Department in 1987, she has an MPA from Iowa State, and her husband Tom Kroeschell is the Media Relations Director for the ISU associate athletics director for communications. Beth Wessel-Kroeschell has been and will always be a strong advocate for ISU students, faculty and staff!

For more reasons to re-elect Beth Wessel-Kroeschell visit www.wesselkroeschell.com Join Beth on Facebook at www.facebook.com/beth.wesselkroeschell.com

Paid for by Citizens for Wessel-Kroeschell
Warm up after the game at your West Ames Hy-Vee! Starbucks is now open!

Progress Being Made at Your West Ames Hy-Vee

Warm up after the game at your West Ames Hy-Vee! Starbucks is now open!
Each year ISU students, faculty, alumni and people of the Ames community come together to commemorate one special week in Iowa State history: Homecoming. This year marks the Centennial Celebration, or as those clever Cyclones like to say, the Cytennial Celebration. In honor of the 100th Homecoming at Iowa State, it’s important to remember all of the traditions that surround the week that is usually based on the year’s Homecoming theme as well as longstanding Cyclone Spirit and enthusiasm being Iowa State.

Touramments

Touraments are also hosted throughout the Homecoming week. If you didn't sign up to be on a team, be sure you attend the tournament and enjoy your cheer on your friends, classmates and fellow Cyclones.

Butter Cy

Butter Cy is a favorite part of Homecoming. This year, students will be able to purchase the button for just $5. Then, present the button at the Kildee Hall butter sculpture of our favorite mascot, Iowa State's very own Cy. The sculpture will be created and sculpted by Sarah Prunt, the fiberglass button sculptor.

Pop Rally

Friday evening is the real fun begins. Friday has some of the favorite traditions and events of past Homecomings. This year’s Pop Rally will be headed to the Kildee Hall atrium anytime 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. to see a life-sized butter sculpture of our favorite mascot, Iowa State’s very own Cy. The butter Cy will be created and sculpted by Sarah Prunt, the fiberglass button sculptor.

Lawn Displays

Lawn displays will be on display for anyone to enjoy. Lawn displays are naturally based on the year’s Homecoming theme as well as longstanding Cyclone Spirit and enthusiasm being Iowa State.

Windows will be decorated by the ISU Alumni Center.

Homecoming Celebration

For the past 100 days the ISU Alumni Center has moved locations to the Iowa State College of Agriculture and Life Sciences 100th Homecoming, coming to celebrate Iowa State’s 100th Homecoming. In addition to this, to cater to hopefully extra alumni coming to celebrate this year’s Centennial Celebration, there is going to be a special Homecoming Facebook page. For the past 100 days the ISU Alumni Center has added new traditions to the list. More traditions can be found on the ISU Alumni Center Facebook page. This year, so many butter buttons have been sold there has even been a new tradition added to the list.

Happy 100th anniversary to our very own Iowa State Homecoming! This year marks Iowa State’s 100th Homecoming since its very first Homecoming celebration in 1912. To mark this special occasion, this year’s Homecoming has been dubbed the Cytennial Celebration. Most students know this year is the Cytennial Celebration.

What students may not know is the ISU Alumni Center and the ISU Alumni Association are working to make that the special celebration it should be.

We can expect to see the city of Ames and the ISU Alumni Center more involved in the festivities than ever before.

This year, directors of the Ames Main Street Council and the ISU Alumni Association worked to create a new culture of ISU and Ames involvement: Main Street. There have also been recent efforts to get Ames residents and students involved in the festivities than ever before. Even West Des Moines is getting involved.

In addition to the added involvement of Main Street and Ames residents, the ISU Alumni Center will be adding a new tradition to the list. "Windows will be decorated by the ISU Alumni Center," said Julie Larson. What students may not know is the ISU Alumni Center has even added new traditions to the list.

For more information, contact the ISU Alumni Center.

This year, so many butter buttons have been sold there has even been a new tradition added to the list.

For more information, contact the ISU Alumni Center.

"Windows will be decorated by the ISU Alumni Center," said Julie Larson.

What students may not know is the ISU Alumni Center and the ISU Alumni Association are working to make that the special celebration it should be.

We can expect to see the city of Ames and the ISU Alumni Center more involved in the festivities than ever before.

This year, directors of the Ames Main Street Council and the ISU Alumni Association worked to create a new culture of ISU and Ames involvement: Main Street. There have also been recent efforts to get Ames residents and students involved in the festivities than ever before. Even West Des Moines is getting involved.

In addition to the added involvement of Main Street and Ames residents, the ISU Alumni Center will be adding a new tradition to the list. "Windows will be decorated by the ISU Alumni Center," said Julie Larson.

What students may not know is the ISU Alumni Center has even added new traditions to the list.

For more information, contact the ISU Alumni Center.

"Windows will be decorated by the ISU Alumni Center," said Julie Larson.

What students may not know is the ISU Alumni Center and the ISU Alumni Association are working to make that the special celebration it should be.

We can expect to see the city of Ames and the ISU Alumni Center more involved in the festivities than ever before.

This year, directors of the Ames Main Street Council and the ISU Alumni Association worked to create a new culture of ISU and Ames involvement: Main Street. There have also been recent efforts to get Ames residents and students involved in the festivities than ever before. Even West Des Moines is getting involved.

In addition to the added involvement of Main Street and Ames residents, the ISU Alumni Center will be adding a new tradition to the list. "Windows will be decorated by the ISU Alumni Center," said Julie Larson.

What students may not know is the ISU Alumni Center and the ISU Alumni Association are working to make that the special celebration it should be.

We can expect to see the city of Ames and the ISU Alumni Center more involved in the festivities than ever before.

This year, directors of the Ames Main Street Council and the ISU Alumni Association worked to create a new culture of ISU and Ames involvement: Main Street. There have also been recent efforts to get Ames residents and students involved in the festivities than ever before. Even West Des Moines is getting involved.

In addition to the added involvement of Main Street and Ames residents, the ISU Alumni Center will be adding a new tradition to the list. "Windows will be decorated by the ISU Alumni Center," said Julie Larson.

What students may not know is the ISU Alumni Center and the ISU Alumni Association are working to make that the special celebration it should be.

We can expect to see the city of Ames and the ISU Alumni Center more involved in the festivities than ever before.

This year, directors of the Ames Main Street Council and the ISU Alumni Association worked to create a new culture of ISU and Ames involvement: Main Street. There have also been recent efforts to get Ames residents and students involved in the festivities than ever before. Even West Des Moines is getting involved.

In addition to the added involvement of Main Street and Ames residents, the ISU Alumni Center will be adding a new tradition to the list. "Windows will be decorated by the ISU Alumni Center," said Julie Larson.

What students may not know is the ISU Alumni Center and the ISU Alumni Association are working to make that the special celebration it should be.

We can expect to see the city of Ames and the ISU Alumni Center more involved in the festivities than ever before.

This year, directors of the Ames Main Street Council and the ISU Alumni Association worked to create a new culture of ISU and Ames involvement: Main Street. There have also been recent efforts to get Ames residents and students involved in the festivities than ever before. Even West Des Moines is getting involved.

In addition to the added involvement of Main Street and Ames residents, the ISU Alumni Center will be adding a new tradition to the list. "Windows will be decorated by the ISU Alumni Center," said Julie Larson.

What students may not know is the ISU Alumni Center and the ISU Alumni Association are working to make that the special celebration it should be.

We can expect to see the city of Ames and the ISU Alumni Center more involved in the festivities than ever before.

This year, directors of the Ames Main Street Council and the ISU Alumni Association worked to create a new culture of ISU and Ames involvement: Main Street. There have also been recent efforts to get Ames residents and students involved in the festivities than ever before. Even West Des Moines is getting involved.

In addition to the added involvement of Main Street and Ames residents, the ISU Alumni Center will be adding a new tradition to the list. "Windows will be decorated by the ISU Alumni Center," said Julie Larson.

What students may not know is the ISU Alumni Center and the ISU Alumni Association are working to make that the special celebration it should be.

We can expect to see the city of Ames and the ISU Alumni Center more involved in the festivities than ever before.

This year, directors of the Ames Main Street Council and the ISU Alumni Association worked to create a new culture of ISU and Ames involvement: Main Street. There have also been recent efforts to get Ames residents and students involved in the festivities than ever before. Even West Des Moines is getting involved.

In addition to the added involvement of Main Street and Ames residents, the ISU Alumni Center will be adding a new tradition to the list. "Windows will be decorated by the ISU Alumni Center," said Julie Larson.

What students may not know is the ISU Alumni Center and the ISU Alumni Association are working to make that the special celebration it should be.

We can expect to see the city of Ames and the ISU Alumni Center more involved in the festivities than ever before.

This year, directors of the Ames Main Street Council and the ISU Alumni Association worked to create a new culture of ISU and Ames involvement: Main Street. There have also been recent efforts to get Ames residents and students involved in the festivities than ever before. Even West Des Moines is getting involved.

In addition to the added involvement of Main Street and Ames residents, the ISU Alumni Center will be adding a new tradition to the list. "Windows will be decorated by the ISU Alumni Center," said Julie Larson.

What students may not know is the ISU Alumni Center and the ISU Alumni Association are working to make that the special celebration it should be.
ISU tournaments grow in popularity

Involvement leads to expansion of gold committee

By Kelsey Rositch

Tournaments are bigger than ever for this year’s Homecoming (Cyclone) celebration. “We have expanded them more than we have in the past,” said Joe Klaes, gold division tournaments chair of the homecoming central committee.

Participation for gold division tournaments has increased drastically this year.

Until this past tournament, there have been far fewer games, dodgeball and softball.

The Sports and Campus Sport of Spike Ball has also been added to this year’s Homecoming activities.

Expansion of Homecoming has brought out several teams this year, especially since the hundred year celebration.

Most events will have blizzards or extra services.

Some of the activities will be on site Saturday during the Big Game.

The huge white mp3 player that Larson said “is rare”.

Larson said the Homecoming is especially exciting because as many as 300 events have taken part in the festivities this year.

There are those who wish to enjoy a meal, cider and can eat pancakes. For just $3 you can get all-you-can-eat pancakes.

The tournaments committee wants to get out ahead and create similar events to have a good time.

As Larson said, it really is amazing that “something as string as Homecoming has continued for 100 years.”

Every student and community member should enjoy as much as Homecoming puts forth during Homecoming Week.

But let’s not forget to look back and remember how we got here.

Students who are not participants in this year’s tournament are encouraged to watch their greek pairings or participate.

The 100th Homecoming Central Homecoming will be free for people wearing their official Iowa State Cyclone merchandise.

As Larson said, it really is amazing that “something as string as Homecoming has continued for 100 years.”

Every student and community member should enjoy as much as Homecoming puts forth during Homecoming Week.

But let’s not forget to look back and remember how we got here.

Students who are not participants in this year’s tournament are encouraged to watch their greek pairings or participate.

The 100th Homecoming Central Homecoming will be free for people wearing their official Iowa State Cyclone merchandise.

As Larson said, it really is amazing that “something as string as Homecoming has continued for 100 years.”

Every student and community member should enjoy as much as Homecoming puts forth during Homecoming Week.

But let’s not forget to look back and remember how we got here.

Students who are not participants in this year’s tournament are encouraged to watch their greek pairings or participate.

The 100th Homecoming Central Homecoming will be free for people wearing their official Iowa State Cyclone merchandise.

As Larson said, it really is amazing that “something as string as Homecoming has continued for 100 years.”

Every student and community member should enjoy as much as Homecoming puts forth during Homecoming Week.

But let’s not forget to look back and remember how we got here.
Smart Reasons to Enroll at DMACC’s Ames Hunziker Center

1. DMACC’s Hunziker Center is adding more Liberal Arts and Science classes to help you graduate sooner—with less student debt.

2. Caring faculty and small classes.

3. Free tutoring if you need extra help.

4. No fees to apply, register or graduate. Free parking too!

5. Expanded book rental program saves you money.

6. DMACC credits transfer seamlessly.

7. Lowest-cost tuition of any College or University in Central Iowa.

More class offerings at the DMACC Boone Campus
www.dmacc.edu/boone

DMACC Hunziker Center
1420 South Bell Ave.
Hwy. 30 & I-35, Ames
515-663-6700

Check us out on dmacc.edu/ames