This Is Classy Because I Say So

Meg Johnson

Iowa State University, megj@iastate.edu

Follow this and additional works at: http://lib.dr.iastate.edu/engl_pubs

Part of the Poetry Commons

The complete bibliographic information for this item can be found at http://lib.dr.iastate.edu/engl_pubs/39. For information on how to cite this item, please visit http://lib.dr.iastate.edu/howtocite.html.

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by the English at Iowa State University Digital Repository. It has been accepted for inclusion in English Publications by an authorized administrator of Iowa State University Digital Repository. For more information, please contact digirep@iastate.edu.
This Is Classy Because I Say So

Abstract
I am staying at a house with a screened-in back porch. [...]

Disciplines
Poetry

Comments
This poem was published in Bear Review 2 (2015): 10. Posted with permission.
Meg Johnson

This Is Classy Because I Say So

I am staying at a house with a screened-in back porch. It is not my house. I do not have a house. Let’s all take a moment to reflect on me being a single, childless, houseless grownup. I know you want to.

(Pause.)

I ask if I can put an air mattress on the porch, make it a sleeping porch. This will not solve my problems, but will make my self-pity feel more romantic. I’m going for vintage sadness.

(Time for questions.)