THE season is at hand when one, whether an individual or a corporation, starts the annual perusal to determine if accomplishments have been made, losses occurred, or just time passed.

We are happy and proud to state that 1939 has been our most satisfactory year, both as to volume of business and results in the field, which go hand in hand.

For this we thank the GRADUATE VETERINARIANS, as they are our only clientele. We appreciate this confidence and at this time want to announce the construction of new buildings and installation of new equipment which will triple our possible output, thus better to serve those who grant us that pleasure.

Horse Breeder

Of the varied experiences that the members of the senior class had during the past summer, one of the most interesting was that of Orin Emerson of Eagle Grove, Iowa. He and his father raise purebred Percheron horses and show at the various fairs. This summer the most important show he attended was the International Percheron show held in conjunction with the Minnesota State Fair at St. Paul. Mr. Emerson took eight head of horses to this show and competed against 250 Percherons shown by breeders from New York to Nebraska. With these eight head of horses he won one first, two seconds, three thirds, four fourths, and seven others below fourth for a total of seventeen ribbons.

One of the significant things about these winners was that they were sired by the same stallion. Fitting of these horses begins in early spring and is intensified about the first of July.

Mr. Emerson also gave a talk before the breeders on the subject, “The Proper Head, Neck, and Slope of Shoulders of the Percheron Horse.” This group of breeders is attempting to stabilize the type of the Percheron horse so that there will be standardized judging throughout the country.

One of the amusing events of the show was the 300 yard race between ten stallions weighing at least 2,000 pounds each. These horses were ridden by their grooms on the track in front of the grandstand. According to Mr. Emerson, no track records were broken.
