II. ANNOUNCEMENTS

FOURTH INTERNATIONAL SYMPOSIUM ON NITROGEN FIXATION

The fourth symposium in this series will be held in Canberra, Australia, December 1-5, 1980. All aspects of nitrogen fixation, both chemical and biological, will be considered in a series of interdisciplinary discussions. In addition, there will be extensive poster displays and round-table workshops. There currently is widespread interest in the genetics of the legume-Rhizobium symbiosis, and it is expected that both the host and the bacterial side will receive consideration. For those with ambitions to visit Australia (and remember, December is our summer), now is the time. Further details from:
