Crop Minute for Week Beginning May 17

Integrated Crop Management News

Follow this and additional works at: http://lib.dr.iastate.edu/cropnews

Part of the Agricultural Science Commons, Agriculture Commons, and the Agronomy and Crop Sciences Commons

Recommended Citation
http://lib.dr.iastate.edu/cropnews/442

The Iowa State University Digital Repository provides access to Integrated Crop Management News for historical purposes only. Users are hereby notified that the content may be inaccurate, out of date, incomplete and/or may not meet the needs and requirements of the user. Users should make their own assessment of the information and whether it is suitable for their intended purpose. For current information on integrated crop management from Iowa State University Extension and Outreach, please visit https://crops.extension.iastate.edu/.
Crop Minute for Week Beginning May 17

Abstract
Roger Elmore, ISU Extension corn agronomist, reports most corn is recovering well from frost a week ago and the concern this week turns to southeast Iowa and fields with standing water. Once the water has gone down, he encourages producers to assess stands and take stand counts; he tells what to look for when making decisions about replanting.

Disciplines
Agricultural Science | Agriculture | Agronomy and Crop Sciences

This article is available at Iowa State University Digital Repository: http://lib.dr.iastate.edu/cropnews/442
Crop Minute for Week Beginning May 17

Roger Elmore, ISU Extension corn agronomist, reports most corn is recovering well from frost a week ago and the concern this week turns to southeast Iowa and fields with standing water. Once the water has gone down, he encourages producers to assess stands and take stand counts; he tells what to look for when making decisions about replanting.

Listen to an mp3 file of the May 17 Crop Minute.