Tevis receives I-CASH Hall of Fame award

Keven E. Arrowsmith
Iowa State University

Follow this and additional works at: http://lib.dr.iastate.edu/cropnews

Part of the Agricultural Science Commons, Agriculture Commons, and the Journalism Studies Commons

Recommended Citation

The Iowa State University Digital Repository provides access to Integrated Crop Management News for historical purposes only. Users are hereby notified that the content may be inaccurate, out of date, incomplete and/or may not meet the needs and requirements of the user. Users should make their own assessment of the information and whether it is suitable for their intended purpose. For current information on integrated crop management from Iowa State University Extension and Outreach, please visit https://crops.extension.iastate.edu/.
Tevis receives I-CASH Hall of Fame award

Abstract
Iowa's Center for Agricultural Safety and Health (I-CASH) has named Cheryl Tevis of Pilot Mound, Iowa, the 2007 recipient of its Agricultural Safety and Health Hall of Fame Award. A writer and editor with Successful Farming magazine since 1979, Tevis serves as senior farm issues editor for the magazine. Founded in 1902, Successful Farming is one of the most successful and recognizable publications in agriculture, reaching 1.2 million readers each month.

Disciplines
Agricultural Science | Agriculture | Journalism Studies

This article is available at Iowa State University Digital Repository: http://lib.dr.iastate.edu/cropnews/975 Cheryl Tevis received the I-CASH Hall of Fame award during the WOI Midday radio show at the Iowa State Fair in Des Moines. Shown with Tevis at the Iowa State University Extension booth is Iowa Secretary of Agriculture Bill Northey (center) and Midday host.

Tevis received the award during the WOI Midday radio show on Wednesday, August 15. Iowa Secretary of Agriculture Bill Northey made the award presentation at the Iowa State University Extension booth during the Iowa State Fair in Des Moines. Throughout her professional career, Tevis has worked to improve the public's knowledge of farm safety and health issues, especially those that affect rural children.
Nominations requested for I-CASH Hall of Fame Award
May 8, 2006
I-CASH Agricultural Youth Injury Prevention grant recipients for 2006
April 17, 2006

Tevis devotes considerable time to farm health and safety issues beyond her journalistic duties. She volunteers with her local 4-H club, and she serves on the Boone County Extension Council. Tevis also has served several terms on the board of directors and helped develop programming for Farm Safety 4 Just Kids, an Iowa-based organization that promotes farm safety awareness among children through educational resources and training programs to individuals and communities.

Tevis grew up on a 320-acre grain and livestock farm near Sioux City, Iowa. She received a bachelor's degree at Morningside College in Sioux City and a master's degree in journalism in 1975 at the University of Missouri.

Prior to joining Successful Farming, she was an associate editor for Farm Wife News at Reiman Publications in Milwaukee. Her husband, Stan Lingren, farms near Pilot Mound and the couple has two daughters.

I-CASH created the Hall of Fame Award in 2002 as a lifetime achievement award for individuals or organizations that have made significant and lasting contributions to agricultural safety and health in Iowa. Tevis joins Charlotte Halverson, rural health training coordinator at the National Educational Center for Agricultural Safety and Rural Health; L.W. (Pete) Knapp, University of Iowa professor emeritus; Marilyn Adams, founder and president of Farm Safety 4
Just Kids; Carolyn Sheridan, clinical director of AgriSafe Network, Inc.; and Charles Schwab and Janis Stone, Iowa State University professors.

Based in the University of Iowa College of Public Health, I-CASH is a joint venture of the University of Iowa, Iowa State University, the Iowa Department of Public Health, and the Iowa Department of Agriculture and Land Stewardship.

Keven E. Arrowsmith is managing editor of the ICM newsletter and extension communications specialist with responsibilities in pest management and the environment.

This article originally appeared on pages 263-264 of the IC-498(23) -- September 10, 2007 issue.

Updated 09/13/2007 - 2:13pm