A New Season Brings Grads New Jobs

Faithe Danielson
Iowa State College

Follow this and additional works at: http://lib.dr.iastate.edu/homemaker
Part of the Home Economics Commons

Recommended Citation
Available at: http://lib.dr.iastate.edu/homemaker/vol17/iss1/8

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by the Student Publications at Iowa State University Digital Repository. It has been accepted for inclusion in The Iowa Homemaker by an authorized editor of Iowa State University Digital Repository. For more information, please contact digirep@iastate.edu.
Brings Grads New Jobs

by Faithe Danielson

As we swing into spring with the mild April showers and the lovely flowers, how can we help but think of the new quarter also? Just as we are starting into a new position so there are numerous of our graduates that are filling new positions.

Chicago seems to be the center of interest for the greater majority of the positions filled recently. Beth Bailey

Evelyn Armour, Ex. '36, is supervisor of the Men’s Grill in Carson Pirie and Scott, Chicago. Prior to going with Swift's she was with the Southern Rice Industry at New Orleans, La. Mrs. McLean has secured Lydia Cooley, '30, to assist her with her work at Swift's. Miss Cooley has been with the Calumet Baking Powder Company since graduation.

Mildred Boxwell, '27, has accepted a position in the Educational Department of Sears, Roebuck, and Company, Chicago.

Emma Francesia, '32, who has been with the Southern Rice Industry for the past year is back in Chicago now as Director of the Home Economics Department of the Piccadilly Tea Room.

Helen Holloway Johnson, '27, who has been in charge of the “Tasting-test Kitchen,” Meredith Publishing Company, Des Moines, is working with Electrolux in Chicago.

Arlen White, '36, is employed at Carson Pirie and Scott Wholesale Company in Chicago. Marion King, '36, just began work with Marshall Field's, Chicago.

Evelyn Armour, Ex. '36, is supervisor of the Men’s Grill in Carson Pirie and Scott, Chicago. Margaret McDonough, '32, is editor of “Little Trif” for the Chicago Tribune.

Maxine Neville, '34, was married August 16, 1936, to Joe H. Newton. They are making their home in Chicago.

Pauline Gordon, M. S. ’28, extension home management and house furnishings specialist in North Carolina, has been doing some interesting work with rural electrification schools in farm communities. She has been giving instruction about proper wiring, insulation, outlets, plugs, fuses, proper lighting and the use of equipment and standards. Electrified houses on wheels were used as examples of desirable home and farm equipment.

Gertrude E. Schmidt, '33, has been appointed to fill the dietetic vacancy at Mt. Pleasant State Hospital, Mt. Pleasant, Iowa, left vacant by Evelyn Hollen, '34, who is now home demonstration agent at Mt. Pleasant.

Ella McMasters, '32, is teaching and managing the cafeteria in the high school at Mankato, Minn. Glee Jane Willoughby, M. S. '33, is teaching in the Lincoln high school, Kansas City, Mo.

Mrs. Ethel Irene Mitchell, M. S. '32, has been assigned to take charge of weaving and other craft work in W. P. A. District No. 4, with headquarters at present in Champaign, Ill. Helen Ann Thomas, '30, who has been in extension work in Pennsylvania recently left to do the same work in Oregon.

Esther Cruikshank, '36, was married March 3, 1937, to K. McNeill Woods. They will live in Los Angeles, Calif. Katherine Stewart, '30, was married in December, and is still living in Pennsylvania. She was in extension previous to her marriage. Dorothy B. Smith, '32, married Franz B. Drinker last May, and is living in Portland, Ore.

Miss Julia Bourne, '30, has accepted the position of Home Economics Editor of American Home. She will have charge of testing all recipes published in the magazine as well as testing new food products, utensils and household equipment before presenting them to American Home readers.

Miss Bourne has previously been associated with the Country Home magazine as Assistant Women's Editor, Successful Farming as editor of the Junior Department, Institute of American Meat Packers as representative for the Chicago World's Fair Meat Exhibit, and Swift and Company experimental kitchen. At one time she attended the University of Rome. In college Miss Bourne was active in 4-H work. One year she represented Iowa at the 4-H Youth Conference in Springfield, Mass.

Pleasure With Practice

by Florence Rannells

Supervised teaching is not dreaded by home economics education majors as it formerly was. Under the plan inaugurated this year, Miss Beatrice Olson, Iowa State College, faculty supervisor at Story City, and the supervised teachers there, live in the community under conditions which approach as nearly as possible the situation in which a teacher finds herself when she begins her real work. This plan has aroused additional interest in teaching.

The student teachers have an opportunity to meet the people of the community through social contacts. They are often invited to Danish and Norwegian dinners where they are served food typical of the native country of the host.

Under the progressive system of teaching used at Story City a variety of projects which are adapted to the abilities and needs of the pupils are carried out in one class. It is not unusual to have sewing, block printing, metal work, and cooking in progress at the same time.

Story City residents show much interest in this experiment and cooperate readily with the school in making the program a success.

Ah Spring!
The streets are drenched in gooey slush. It’s watery and gray like Russian mush. Just one misstep and you’ll go kerplush Head over heels into cold, dirty slush!

The cords screams when a car goes by Driving lickety split through a big mud pile

For, like grapefruit, the goo flies high 'N' fore you know it—here's mud in your eye!

—G. Ronny Rønnigen.

Twinkles

When God put the sun to bed He pulled a blue coverlet over its head. Then across the sky He pulled a worn black curtain.

But He forgot to turn out His light. I saw it twinkling through the holes 'til very late last night.

—Ronny Rønnigen.