Snow Mother

Marylou Eggema*

*Iowa State University

Copyright ©1980 by the authors. Sketch is produced by The Berkeley Electronic Press (bepress). http://lib.dr.iastate.edu/sketch
SNOW MOTHER

by

Marylou Eggena

English Graduate Student

She was already the mother of snowflakes in the 5th grade, performing in a play for a junior high assembly, to show the beauty and usefulness of snow.

By the beginning of her senior year, she was wearing a diamond ring. And her goal for the future was to be the model farm wife.

"You will help the world become more beautiful," wrote one of her teachers in her Graduation Memories Book.

"Remember your motto, success and achievement first," wrote another.

By her 23rd birthday, she was the mother of three girls—or was it of three little snowflakes to show the world her beauty and usefulness?